Rice Plus Susan H. Lee, 2006-02-14 This book explores the economic coping practices of rural widows in the aftermath of the Cambodian civil war War produces a preponderance of widows often young widows with small children in their care Rural widows must feed their families and educate their children despite rural poverty and the lack of opportunities for women The economics of widowhood is therefore a significant social problem in less developed countries The widows predominant economic plan was to combine rice cultivation with an assortment of microenterprises a rice plus strategy Many widows were unable to grow enough rice on their land to feed their families They filled the hunger gap by raising cash through microenterprises to purchase additional rice Gender work roles were both permeable and persistent allowing a flexible sexual division of labor in the short run but maintaining traditional roles in the long run Most widows called on relatives or exchanged transplanting labor for male plowing services although a few women took up the plow themselves The study also explores widows access to key economic resources such as land credit and education War decimated widows family support networks including the loss of children their social security The study concludes that Cambodia's gender arrangement offered many economic options to widows but also devalued their labor in a cultural structure of inequality

Gender poverty and war interacted to reduce widows financial resources accounting for their economic vulnerability

Angeles Union Station Marlyn Musicant,2014-05-02 Union Station today is a celebrated architectural icon and vibrant centerpiece of Los Angeles s regional transportation network Designed by John and Donald B Parkinson its mission revival architecture speaks to a mythic vision of Spanish heritage but with streamline moderne and art deco details At first glance this masterpiece conceived as a magnificent gateway to the growing metropolis offers no hint of the civic financial and legal battles surrounding its development siting style and construction battles that were waged across decades in the early twentieth century and that went as high as the U S Supreme Court Los Angeles Union Station explores this compelling example of how transit and corporations disrupted regional balances of power and political economies Aided by new research and beautiful drawings from the Getty Research Institute s archive the authors demonstrate how contentious politics informed architectural design and the many ways in which Union Station was at the heart of the rise of Los Angeles The book accompanies the exhibition No Further West on view at the Los Angeles Public Library from May 2 through August 10 2014

International Bibliography of Sociology Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science, 2002-12
IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge on the social sciences Collecting for the Curriculum Amy J. Catalano, 2015-09-28 If you are a librarian charged with collecting curriculum materials and children's literature to support the Common Core State Standards then this book the only one that offers explicit advice on collection development in curriculum collections is for you While there are many publications on the Common Core for school librarians and K 12 educators no such literature exists for curriculum librarians at the post secondary level This book fills that gap standing alone as a guide to collection development for curriculum librarians independent of the Common Core State Standards CCSS The book provides instruction and guidance to curriculum librarians who acquire and manage collections so you can develop a collection based on best practices The book begins with a primer on the CCSS and how curriculum librarians can support them Discussion of the Standards is then woven through chapters arranged by content area that share research based practices in curriculum development and instruction to guide you in curriculum selection Material types covered include games textbooks children's literature primary sources counseling and nonfiction Additional chapters cover the management of curriculum collections testing collections and instruction and reference as well as how to support and collect for special needs learners Current practices in collection development for curriculum materials librarians are also reviewed The book closes with a discussion of the future of curriculum materials Sustainable and Resilient Global Practices Torben Juul Andersen, 2024-07-19 The chapters presented here by global scholars fill the void in current knowledge of how to generate effective strategic adaptation in times of abrupt environmental changes generating important leads for forthcoming scholarship efforts for the benefit of business and society Making Sense of Mass Education Gordon Tait, 2015-10-09 This second edition of Making Sense of Mass Education has been comprehensively updated and expands on the previous edition's structure of derailing traditional myths about education as a point of discussion It also features two new chapters on Big Data and Globalisation and what they mean for the Australian classroom Current Index to Journals in Education, 2000-10 Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1980-04 Systems Science: Theory, Analysis, Modeling, and Design George E. Mobus, 2022-03-09 This book describes a comprehensive approach to applying systems science formally to the deep analysis of a wide variety of complex systems Detailed how to examples of the three phases analysis modeling design of systems science are applied to systems of various types machines organic e.g. ecosystem and supra organic e.g. business organizations and government The complexity of the global system has reached proportions that seriously challenge our abilities to understand the consequences of our use of technology modification of natural ecosystems or even how to govern ourselves For this reason complex mathematics is eschewed when simpler structures will suffice allowing the widest possible audience to apply and benefit from the available tools and concepts of systems science in their own work The book shows in detail how to functionally and structurally deconstruct complex systems using a fundamental language of systems It shows how to capture the discovered details in a structured knowledge base from which abstract models can be derived for simulation The knowledge base is also shown to be a basis for generating system design specifications for human built artifacts or policy recommendations policy mechanisms for socio economic ecological systems management The book builds on principles and methods found in the authors textbook Principles of Systems Science co authored with Michael Kalton but without prerequisites It will appeal to a broad audience that deals with complex systems every day from design engineers to economic and ecological systems managers and policymakers Journal of the Farmer's Club Farmers' Club (London, England),1928 Unlocking Close Reading Linda Feaman,2014-06-17 Unlock complex informational text through close reading Use this book as a guide to teach close reading in a way that delves deeply into the text and aligns with the Common Core State Standards Each standards based lesson includes Complex informational text that is grade level appropriate Text dependent questions designed to facilitate discussion and provide differentiation for all students Thought capturers to help students organize their thoughts into writing Constructed response prompts exemplars and rubrics Social Construction of International Politics Ted Hopf,2002 In this deeply researched book Ted Hopf challenges contemporary theorizing about international relations He advances what he believes is a commonsensical notion a state s domestic identity has an enormous effect on its international policies Hopf argues that foreign policy elites are inextricably bound to their own societies in order to understand other states they must first understand themselves To comprehend Russian and Soviet foreign policy it is just as important to read what is being consumed on the Moscow subway as it is to conduct research in the Foreign Ministry archives the author says Hopf recreates the major currents in Russian Soviet identity reconstructing the identity topographies of two profoundly important years 1955 and 1999 To provide insights about how Russians made sense of themselves in the post Stalinist and late Yeltsin periods he not only uses daily newspapers and official discourse but also delves into works intended for mass consumption popular novels film reviews ethnographic journals high school textbooks and memoirs He explains how the different identities expressed in these varied materials shaped the worldviews of Soviet and Russian decisionmakers Hopf finds that continuous renegotiations and clashes among competing domestic visions of national identity had a profound effect on Soviet and Russian foreign policy Broadly speaking Hopf shows that all international politics begins at home
