Kljajic M.Sci., George J. Kljajic MD M. Sci., 2011-10 Emotional Well-Being in Educational Policy and Practice Kathryn Ecclestone, 2017-07-05 Schools in numerous countries around the world have become key sites for interventions designed to enhance the emotional well being of children and young people offering new forms of pedagogy and curriculum knowledge informed in ad hoc and eclectic ways by various strands of psychology counselling and therapy Responding to C Wright Mills famous injunction for a sociological imagination this unique inter disciplinary collection of papers explores ideologies and imperatives that frame contemporary education policy and practice around emotional well being ideas and assumptions about the state of childhood today and the changing nature of the curriculum subject and associated forms of knowledge In bringing together British and American advocates of behavioural interventions in social and emotional learning alongside critics who draw on historical philosophical and sociological perspectives it highlights new and important debates for policy makers the designers implementers and evaluators of interventions and those who participate in them This book was originally published as a special issue of Research Papers in Education The Idea of a Christian College Todd C. Ream, Perry L. Glanzer, 2013-10-28 In 1975 Arthur F Holmes published The Idea of a Christian College At the time he could not have imagined his book would gather such a large following This work's thoughtful yet accessible style made it a long standing choice for reading lists on Christian college and university campuses across the country and around the world Countless numbers of first year students have read and discussed his book as part of their introduction to the Christian college experience However enough has changed since 1975 in both the Church and Academy to now merit a full scale reexamination In this book Todd C Ream and Perry L Glanzer account for changes in how people view the Church and themselves as human agents and propose a vision for the Christian college in light of the fact that so many Christian colleges now look and act more like research universities Including topics such as the co curricular common worship and diversity Ream and Glanzer craft a vision that strives to see into the future by drawing on the riches of the past First year students as well as new faculty members and administrators will benefit from the insights in this book in ways previous generations benefitted from Arthur Holmes's efforts

The Loss of Happiness in Market Democracies Robert Edwards Lane, 2000-01-01 Despite the fact that citizens of advanced market democracies are satisfied with their material progress many are haunted by a spirit of unhappiness There is evidence of a rising tide of clinical depression in most advanced societies and in the United States studies have documented a decline in the number of people who regard themselves as happy Although our political and economic systems are based on the utilitarian philosophy of happiness the greatest good for the greatest number they seem to have contributed to our dissatisfaction with life This book investigates why this is so Drawing on extensive research in such fields as quality of life economics politics sociology psychology and biology Robert E Lane presents a challenging thesis He shows that the main sources of well being in advanced economies are friendships and a good family life and that once one is beyond the poverty level a larger income contributes almost nothing to happiness In fact as prosperity increases there is a tragic erosion of family solidarity and community integration and individuals become more and more distrustful of each other and their political institutions Lane urges that we alter our priorities so that we increase our levels of companionship even at the risk of reducing our income
