Joudrey, Arlene G. Taylor, 2017-11-27 This fourth edition provides an updated look at information organization featuring coverage of the Semantic Web linked data and EAC CPF new metadata models such as IFLA LRM and RiC and new perspectives on RDA and its implementation This latest edition of The Organization of Information is a key resource for anyone in the beginning stages of their LIS career as well as longstanding professionals and paraprofessionals seeking accurate clear and up to date guidance on information organization activities across the discipline The book begins with a historical look at information organization methods covering libraries archives museums and online settings It then addresses the types of retrieval tools used throughout the discipline catalogs finding aids indexes bibliographies and search engines before describing the functionality of systems explaining the basic principles of system design and defining how they affect information organization The principles and functionality of metadata is next with coverage of the types functions tools and models particularly FRBR IFLA LRM RDF and how encoding works for use and sharing for example MARC XML schemas and linked data approaches The latter portion of the resource describes specific activities related to the creation of metadata for resources These chapters offer an overview of the major issues challenges and standards used in the information professions addressing topics such as resource description including standards found in RDA DACS and CCO access points authority control subject analysis controlled vocabularies notably LCSH MeSH Sears and AAT and categorization systems such as DDC and LCC Labor Relations Reference Manual, 2000 Vols 9 17 include decisions of the War Labor Board Slope Stability Reference Guide for National Forests in the United States, 1994 The Vatican and Catholic Activism in Mexico and Chile Stephen J. C. Andes, 2014-02-20 As in Europe secular nation building in Latin America challenged the traditional authority of the Roman Catholic Church in the early twentieth century In response Catholic social and political movements sought to contest state led secularisation and provide an answer to the social question the complex set of problems associated with urbanisation industrialisation and poverty As Catholics mobilised against the secular threat they also struggled with each other to define the proper role of the Church in the public sphere This study utilizes recently opened files at the Vatican pertaining to Mexico s post revolutionary Church state conflict known as the Cristero Rebellion 1926 1929 However looking beyond Mexico s exceptional case the work employs a transnational framework enabling a better understanding of the supranational relationship between Latin American Catholic activists and the Vatican To capture this world historical context Andes compares Mexico to Chile s own experience of religious conflict Unlike past scholarship which has focused almost exclusively on local conditions Andes seeks to answer how diverse national visions of Catholicism responded to papal attempts to centralize its authority and universalize Church practices worldwide The Politics of Transnational Catholicism applies research on the interwar papacy which is almost exclusively European in outlook to a Latin American context The national cases presented illuminate how Catholicism shaped public life in Latin America as the Vatican sought to define Catholic participation in Mexican and Chilean national politics It reveals that Catholic activism directly influenced the development of new political movements such as Christian Democracy which remained central to political life in the region for the remainder of the twentieth century
