Mark Explanatory Notes Commentary:

Explanatory notes and comments on the New Testament Edward Ash, 1849 The Function of Narrative Comments in the Gospel of John David A. Lamb, 2024-12-15 Scholars have long noted that comments by the author or editor often referred to as narrative asides or parentheses are frequent in the Fourth Gospel The Function of Narrative Comments in the Gospel of John A Literary and Linguistic Analysis is a comprehensive guide to this significant feature In the vein of Gilbert Van Belle s Les Parenthèses dans L'Évangile de Jean 1985 Lamb provides a detailed analysis of the terminology definition and categorization of these comments and interacts extensively with existing scholarship He looks at the role of the comments in the Gospel s composition assesses their function using insights from literary theory dramatic theory and sociolinguistics and makes comparisons with OT historical writings the Synoptic Gospels and the works of Herodotus and Thucydides He concludes that the narrative comments are an integral part of the text which reflect the authority of the author and that they have significant implications for our exegesis of the Gospel The American Catalogue ,1881 The American Catalogue ,1881 American national trade bibliography First-Century Gospel Storytellers and Audiences Thomas E. Boomershine, 2022-07-29 These essays explore the reconception of the Gospels as first century compositions of sound performed for audiences by storytellers rather than the anachronistic picture of a series of texts read by individual readers The new paradigm implicit in these initial experiments is based on the recent realization that the majority of persons 85 to 95 percent were illiterate and experienced the Jesus stories as members of audiences Either from memory or from memorized manuscripts the evangelists performed the Gospels as an evening s entertainment of two to four hours The audiences were predominantly addressed as Hellenistic Judeans who lived in the aftermath of the Roman Jewish war When heard whole the Gospels were vivid experiences of the central character of Jesus These studies of audience address and the interactions between first century storytellers and audiences reveal a dynamic performance literature that functioned as scripts for an ever expanding network of storytelling proclamations whose envisioned horizon was the whole world When the Gospels were told at one time from beginning to end they invited the listeners to move from being peripherally interested or initially opposed to Jesus to identifying themselves as disciples of Jesus and believers in him as the Messiah The End of Mark's Story Danove, 2022-07-04 This volume generates a narrative grammar which unites linguistic structuralistic rhetorical and reader response methods and then uses it to investigate the textual indicators for interpreting the ending of the Gospel of Mark The first part of this book generates the narrative grammar in response to significant contemporary writings on methods of narrative analysis The second part provides a detailed analysis of the Gospel s larger narrative units The analysis isolates narrative units according to a consistent set of criteria grounds the interpretation on a limited number of qualifications of the implied reader indicates the centrality of the literary and rhetorical traditions of the Hebrew Bible for interpretation clarifies the model of irony used in the narrative and accounts for the negative presentation of the disciples on narrative grounds A Thematic Access-Oriented Bibliography of Jesus's Resurrection Michael J. Alter, 2019-12-31 The keystone of Christianity is Jesus's physical bodily resurrection Present day scholars can be significantly challenged as they forage through voluminous documents on the resurrection of Jesus The literature measures well over seven thousand sources in English language books alone This makes finding specific sources that are most relevant for specific scholarly purposes an arduous task Even when a specific book is relevant finding the parts of the book that are most relevant to the resurrection rather than other topics often requires additional effort A Thematic Access Oriented Bibliography of Jesus's Resurrection addresses these challenges in several ways First the bibliography organizes more than seven thousand English sources into twelve main categories and then thirty four subcategories which are designed to help you find the most relevant literature quickly and efficiently Embedded are pro and con arguments which support efficient access through brief annotations and then annotate the diversity and complexity of the field of religion by including sources that represent a diverse range of views theistic e g Christian Jewish Muslim etc agnostic and nontheistic The objective of this bibliography is to provide convenient access to relevant sources from a variety of perspectives allowing you to browse or find the one source accurately and with ease A Classified Catalogue of Theological and Religious Books, Comprising a Large Collection of Standard Works, American and Foreign Smith, English & Co, 1871 On the Writing of New Testament Commentaries Stanley E. Porter, Eckhard J. Schnabel, 2012-09-28 The essays in On the Writing of New Testament Commentaries survey relevant questions related to the writing of commentaries on the books of the New Testament Marking Essays Roy Johnson, 1993 This text offers advice guidance notes and support materials for tutors marking and grading essays The notes cover all the common issues on which students need guidance including argument construction clear writing and the conventions of quotation and presentation They also deal with the problems of grading making comments and offering guidance to tutors as they mark essay scripts Two sample marked essays are included in the book providing assistance for tutors illustrating the examples discussed in the notes This book is suitable for use at GCSE A Level in sixth form colleges and in further and higher education The Routledge Companion to John Wesley Clive Murray Norris, Joseph W.
