Educating Tomorrow's Engineers Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee,2013-02-08 In the UK we teach young people to become computer users and consumers rather than programmers and software engineers This is creating a chronic skills gap in ICT We need around 82 000 engineers and technicians just to deal with retirements up to 2016 and 830 000 SET professionals by 2020 On the plus side the Government s proposal to include computer science as a fourth science option to count towards the EBac is welcomed The Committee also welcomes the EBac s focus on attainment of mathematics and science GCSEs but is concerned that subjects such as Design and Technology D T might be marginalised A Technical Baccalaureate TechBac is being designed but if it is to be a success schools should be incentivised to focus on the TechBac by making it equivalent to the EBac Reforms to vocational education following the Wolf Review meant that Level 2 of the Engineering Diploma a qualification highly regarded would count as equivalent to one GCSE despite requiring curriculum time and effort equivalent to several GCSEs The Engineering Diploma however is currently being redesigned as four separate qualifications The Committee also expressed concerns over the Department for Education s DfE lack of clarity on its research budget and use of evidence in decision making The DfE needs to place greater focus on gathering evidence before changes to qualifications are made and must leave sufficient time for evidence to be gathered on the effectiveness of policies before introducing further change The possibility of gathering evidence from randomised controlled trials RCTs should be seriously considered Institutional Roots of India's Security Policy Milan Vaishnav, 2024-02-27 In recent years India has asserted its desire not simply to be a balancing power but to become a leading power on the world stage As India's economic development has steadily progressed so too have its foreign policy and security ambitions However India's ability to sustain high rates of economic growth at home and project power overseas rests on unsteady state capacities Despite widespread concerns over the severe institutional constraints that India faces there is a lack of scholarly research on the administrative and organizational effectiveness of India's security institutions Myriad inadequacies related to both procedure and personnel continue to hamper the Indian state's ability to perform one of its most essential functions protecting Indians from security threats at home and abroad Institutional Roots of India's Security Policy aims to deconstruct and interrogate disparities in India's security institutions through high quality analytic examinations of more than a dozen foreign policy and national security institutions spread across four domains the armed services intelligence border and internal security and police and investigative agencies A one stop resource on India's security institutions this volume demystifies secretive institutions that have long eluded careful scrutiny including India's paramilitary forces the Intelligence Bureau IB the Research and Analysis Wing RAW and the Central Bureau of Investigation CBI
