American Lit Remixed Melissa J. Strong, 2021-04-30 American Lit Remixed identifies a new sound in literature emerging after the digital revolution. It reads works by Jennifer Egan, Sherman Alexie, and others through the lenses of remix theory. The term Eduardo Navas coined to describe the remix as a form of artistic and cultural discourse and the music industry's preoccupations with nostalgia and authenticity, arguing that digital age fiction, poetry, and drama remix the music and technology of the past to offer new modes of connecting to self, others, and place. Musical features such as references to popular songs, structural similarities to music recordings, and thematic treatment of the riffing and borrowing endemic within popular music lend a retro sound, feel, and structure to contemporary American texts, even when they refer to life in the digital era. Through engaging with the musical past, literature resists nostalgia and remixes the twenty-first century's dystopian, disconnected ethos to find possibility and hope for the future. Critics often focus on technology's negative impact on the music industry, but American Lit Remixed emphasizes music as a source of creative potential in twenty-first century literature, including new ways of storytelling and relating.

Differentiating Instruction With Menus for the Inclusive Classroom Laurie E. Westphal, 2021-09-03 Differentiating Instruction With Menus for the Inclusive Classroom: Language Arts for grades 6-8 offers teachers who have multiple ability levels in one classroom everything they need to create a student-centered learning environment based on choice. For each topic covered, there are two menus that look similar but contain differentiated content: one menu for students working on grade level and the other for students working below grade level. Using the creative, challenging choices found in Tic Tac Toe menus, List menus, 2-5-8 menus, and Game Show menus, students will demonstrate their knowledge with unique, exciting products. Also included are specific guidelines for products, assessment rubrics, and teacher introduction pages for each menu. These menus can also be used in conjunction with the Differentiating Instruction With Menus series for students working above grade level for three tiers of complementary menus.

Can We Skip Lunch and Keep Writing? Julie D. Ramsay, 2023-10-10 Publishing podcasts, writing digital stories, choosing your own adventure endings, and collaborating with students around the country through wikis, Skype, and VoiceThread. Julie D. Ramsay never imagined that she and her fifth-grade students would be forging a new frontier using technology to support writing lessons. In a school district with minimal resources and a prescriptive curriculum that makes originality a constant challenge, Julie could have continued teaching grammar and writing skills in isolation. But when she realized how hungry her students were for real writing activities that enabled them to share and learn from their peers, in other states she overcame every obstacle that threatened to stunt their creativity and limit their opportunities to communicate in a digital world. Can We Skip Lunch and Keep Writing shows teachers how to weave technology throughout the curriculum and get students so fired up about writing.

that they don't want to stop when the class period ends Readers will learn how to select appropriate digital tools guide and involve students in the learning process and differentiate instruction to meet individual needs Through Julie's inspiring stories and lessons teachers in the intermediate and middle grades will discover how technology assisted writing can foster innovation global communication and creative problem solving developing responsible productive digital citizens whose inherent love of learning will travel with them throughout their lifetimes      Evaluating the School Library Nancy Everhart Ph.D.,2020-10-14 This guide for the evaluation of school libraries both in practice and in research covers analysis techniques and research practices for conducting evaluations of curriculum collections facilities and library personnel performance This new edition of an important tool for school librarians and administrators describes how and why to conduct evaluations of school libraries and explains the evaluation of curriculum collections facilities student programs and services and library personnel The results can be used for strategic planning curriculum development and conducting action research New topics to this edition include explorations of community faculty students and school library research discussing how to bring all stakeholders to the table when evaluating the school library program personnel and services and the collection and facilities Other new topics include information on high stakes testing multiculturalism special needs students advocacy school librarians self evaluation dispositions for learning and evidence based practice This title will be of value to new school librarians in assessing how their program compares to others as well as to school library professors who will find this book useful in management and administration courses      Activities for a Differentiated Classroom Level 6 Wendy Conklin,2011-02-01 Easily implement grade appropriate lessons suitable for Grade 6 classrooms Based on current research these easy to use lessons are based on a variety of strategies to differentiate your instruction Activities are included to allow access to all learners Includes interactive whiteboard compatible Resource CD with sample projects templates and assessment rubrics 160pp plus Teacher Resource CD      Writing Behind Every Door Heather Wolpert-Gawron,2014-04-24 For students to become college ready writers they must be exposed to writing throughout the school day not just in English class This practical book shows teachers in all subject areas how to meet the Common Core State Standards and make writing come alive in the classroom Award winning educator Heather Wolpert-Gawron provides effective and exciting ideas for teaching argument writing informational writing project based writing and writing with technology Each chapter is filled with strategies prompts and rubrics you can use immediately Special Features A variety of writing strategies that work in any subject area Tips for developing meaningful prompts Diagrams and templates that you can use with your students Rubrics for assessing writing as well as ideas for having students create their own rubrics Samples of student work in different formats Ideas for teaching students to break the Google homepage habit and conduct effective research Cross curricular writing assignments for science history ELA electives and PE Suggestions for teaching summary writing an essential academic skill Ideas for staff professional development on Common Core writing      Discovering Differentiation Kathy Cromwell

Loertscher, 2002 The Lance studies and other research in this presentation booklet show that as a whole library media specialists and the programs they create do make a difference Symbolism 15 Rüdiger Ahrens, Klaus Stierstorfer, 2015-10-16 While paratexts among them headnotes footnotes or endnotes have never been absent from American literature the last two decades have seen an explosion of the phenomenon including mock scholarly footnotes to an extent that they seem to take over the text itself In this Special Focus we shall attempt to find the reasons for this astonishing development In our first diachronic section we shall explore such texts as might have fostered the present boom from fictions by Edgar Allan Poe to Vladimir Nabokov to Mark Z Danielewski The second synchronic section will concentrate on paratexts by David Foster Wallace perhaps the father of the post postmodern footnote as well as those to be found in novels by Bennett Sims Jennifer Egan and Junot Diaz among others It appears that while paratexts definitely point to a high degree of self reflexivity in the author they equally draw attention to the textual and authorial functions of the works in which they exist They can thus cause a reflection on the boundaries between genres like fiction faction and autobiography as well as serving to highlight a host of pedagogical and social concerns that exist in the interstices between fiction and reality
