Introducing Human Geographies is the leading guide to human geography for undergraduate students explaining new thinking on essential topics and discussing exciting developments in the field. This new edition has been thoroughly revised and updated and coverage is extended with new sections devoted to biogeographies, cartographies, mobilities, non-representational geographies, population geographies, public geographies and securities. Presented in three parts with 60 contributions written by expert international researchers, this text addresses the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject. Part I Foundations engages students with key ideas that define human geography's subject matter and approaches through critical analyses of dualisms such as local/global, society/space and human/nonhuman. Part II Themes explores human geography's main sub-disciplines with sections devoted to biogeographies, cartographies, cultural geographies, development geographies, economic geographies, environmental geographies, historical geographies, political geographies, population geographies, social geographies, urban and rural geographies. Finally, Part III Horizons assesses the latest research in innovative areas from mobilities and securities to non-representational geographies. This comprehensive, stimulating and cutting-edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full-colour figures, maps and photos. These are available to download on the companion website located at www.routledge.com/9781444135350.

Powered by Faith Tapiwa Praise Mapuranga, 2018-11-30. This book investigates the impact of Pentecostalism on the participation of women in business in Harare, Zimbabwe. Chapters in this volume trace the history of women's participation in business and highlight how Pentecostalism serves as a major motivating factor. The central argument is that there is a way in which selected women's businesses are powered by the Spirit. Contributors to the volume utilize case studies of selected Pentecostal churches and ministries to highlight how the religious ideologies of these churches galvanize them to engage in business. They also draw patterns of similarity and difference across the different Pentecostal churches. The volume demonstrates how Pentecostalism both facilitates and militates against women's participation in business concerning a specific setting in Zimbabwe.

Handbook of Computational Social Science for Policy Eleonora Bertoni, Matteo Fontana, Lorenzo Gabrielli, Serena Signorelli, Michele Vespe, 2023-01-23. This open access handbook describes foundational issues, methodological approaches and examples on how to analyse and model data using Computational Social Science (CSS) for policy support. Up to now, CSS studies have mostly developed on a small proof-of-concept scale that prevented from unleashing its potential to provide systematic impact to the policy cycle as well as from improving the understanding of societal problems to the definition, assessment, evaluation and monitoring of policies. The aim of this handbook is to fill this gap by exploring ways to analyse and model data for policy support and to advocate the adoption of CSS solutions for policy by raising awareness of existing implementations of CSS in policy-relevant fields. To this end, the book explores applications of computational methods and approaches like big data, machine learning, statistical learning sentiment analysis text mining systems modelling and network analysis to different problems in the social sciences The book is structured into three Parts the first chapters on foundational issues open with an exposition and description of key policymaking areas where CSS can provide insights and information In detail the chapters cover public policy governance data justice and other ethical issues Part two consists of chapters on methodological aspects dealing with issues such as the modelling of complexity natural language processing validity and lack of data and innovation in official statistics Finally Part three describes the application of computational methods challenges and opportunities in various social science areas including economics sociology demography migration climate change epidemiology geography and disaster management The target audience of the book spans from the scientific community engaged in CSS research to policymakers interested in evidence informed policy interventions but also includes private companies holding data that can be used to study social sciences and are interested in achieving a policy impact
