and become well endowed in ICT in order to compete in today's era of advanced technology and contribute effectively to the development of the nation the Government of Ghana in 2007 introduced ICT as a major subject of study at Basic Education Level. In spite of the crucial role ICT plays pupils especially those at the foundational level lack the basic skills and knowledge in ICT and this manifests in their performance in ICT at the BECE. A careful study of the examiner's report for BECE clearly shows that pupils who wrote the BECE lack understanding of the basic ICT concepts and the questions they asked. This book has been done to make it easier for the teachers and the pupils to keep up with the content of the syllabus. The questions are simple and could be answered by all Junior High School students and useful to Senior High Schools as well as colleague ICT teachers in the basic schools. It can be said confidently and without any dispute that students who use this booklet assiduously would see a great improvement in the way they answer ICT questions at the BECE.

It is the togetherness of a great practical experience, educational and teaching skills, technical know how and continuous customer value added service and research that has always been the source of creation of this book and three other computer science books. The feedbacks so far received from few professors in information technology in Dallas Texas area strongly suggests the use of these books as a great fundamental and companion material for computer science students. In Ghana the Education Service and Curriculum Research and Development Department (CRDD) has approved the Concise ICT Fundamentals textbook as the recommended supplementary material for the teaching and learning of ICT in senior high schools, technical schools and colleges of education and for general usage. The organization of the core material in this book both provides support training unconditionally to everyone who wants to be computer literate and also extends its learning curve to high quality ICT systems engineering to individuals or companies already operational in the high tech industry.
