Handbook of Sustainability Science in the Future Walter Leal Filho, Anabela Marisa Azul, Federica Doni, Amanda Lange Salvia, 2023-08-14 Humanity will have to cope with many problems in the coming decades for instance the world population is likely grow to 8.8 billion people by 2035 Also changing climate conditions are negatively affecting the livelihoods of millions of people In particular environmental disasters are causing substantial damages to properties From a social perspective the inequalities between rich and poor nations are becoming even deeper and in many countries conflicts between national and international interest groups are intensifying The above state of affairs suggest that a broader understanding of the trends which may lead to a more sustainable world is needed especially those which may pave the way for future developments In other words we need to pave the way for sustainable futures Consistent with this reality the proposed Encyclopedia of Sustainability Futures aims to identify document and disseminate ideas experiences and visions from scientists member of nongovernmental organisations decision makers industry representatives and citizens on themes and issues which will be important in pursuing sustainable future scenarios In particular the publication will focus on scientific aspects as well as on social and economic ones also considering matters related to financing and infra structures which are important in pursuing a sustainable future The Encyclopedia of Sustainability Futures will involve the contributing authors in line with the principle of co generation from across a wide range of disciplines e.g. education and social sciences natural sciences engineering the arts languages etc with papers adopting a long term sustainability perspective with a time horizon until 2050 The focus will be on themes which are felt as important in the future and the chapters are expected to interest and motivate a world audience This book is part of the 100 papers to accelerate the implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals initiative

The Instability of Truth Rebecca Lemov, 2025-03-25 An acclaimed historian of science uncovers the hidden history of brainwashing and its troubling implications for today Because brainwashing affects both the world and our observation of the world we often don't recognize it while it's happening unless we know where to look As Rebecca Lemov writes in The Instability of Truth Brainwashing erases itself What we call brainwashing is more common than we think it is not so much what happens to other people as what can happen to anyone The Instability of Truth exposes the myriad ways our minds can be controlled against our will from the brainwashing techniques used against American POWs in North Korea to the soft brainwashing of social media doomscrolling and behavior shaping In our increasingly data driven world anyone can fall victim to mind control Lemov identifies invasive forms of emotional engineering that exploit trauma and addiction to coerce and persuade in everyday life Tracing the word brainwashing from deep in the files of an operative of the U S Office of Strategic Services in the 1950s to the pioneering research of Robert Jay Lifton to the public trials of cult leaders and the case of Patty Hearst Lemov also studies how the idea of mind control has spread across the globe and penetrated courtrooms secret labs military schools and today's digital sites The Instability of Truth offers lessons from mind control episodes past and present Truth is always subject to question in more mundane walks of life than most people believe and Lemov equips us for the increasing challenges we face from social media AI and an unprecedented global form of surveillance capitalism The Instability of Truth develops a rigorous new understanding of both brainwashing's paradoxes and its emotional roots by giving voice to brainwashers the brainwashed and third party observers alike

No Path Home Elizabeth Cullen Dunn, 2018-01-15 For more than 60 million displaced people around the world humanitarian aid has become a chronic condition No Path Home describes its symptoms in detail Elizabeth Cullen Dunn shows how war creates a deeply damaged world in which the structures that allow people to occupy social roles constitute economic value preserve bodily integrity and engage in meaningful daily practice have been blown apart After the Georgian war with Russia in 2008 Dunn spent sixteen months immersed in the everyday lives of the 28 000 people placed in thirty six resettlement camps by official and nongovernmental organizations acting in concert with the Georgian government She reached the conclusion that the humanitarian condition poses a survival problem that is not only biological but also existential In No Path Home she paints a moving picture of the ways in which humanitarianism leaves displaced people in limbo neither in a state of emergency nor able to act as normal citizens in the country where they reside

The behavior and sensory biology of elasmobranch fishes: an anthology in memory of Donald Richard Nelson Timothy C. Tricas, Samuel H. Gruber, 2013-06-29 The elasmobranch fishes include the living sharks skates and rays that are important members of nearly all marine ecosystems

Their large size secretive behavior and wide ranging habits make them difficult to observe in the field or to maintain in captivity Consequently little is known about their natural behavior and how it is mediated by their sensory systems This volume is dedicated to the scientific contributions and memory of Donald Nelson a pioneer in the study of shark behavior sensory biology and remote instrumentation The two opening papers review Don Nelson s unique scientific accomplishments and provide insight into his strong bias towards study of animals in the field These are followed by 14 scientific papers on elasmobranch behavior sensory biology and current monitoring technologies The papers on elasmobranch sensory biology and behavior address questions on hearing the lateral line electroreception the brain orientation behavior chemical irritants feeding and reproduction The latter section of the volume presents papers on conventional tagging techniques ultrasonic telemetry physiological telemetry remote monitoring techniques archival tagging and satellite tagging The intent of this volume is to familiarize both new and established scientists with the sensory biology and behavior of sharks and rays and to encourage further behavioral research on these animals in their natural environment
