

The background of the cover is a dramatic, fiery sky in shades of red and orange. In the lower-left foreground, there is a dark, skeletal structure that appears to be a large, curved metal framework, possibly a bridge or a large industrial building. In the lower-right, there are dark, silhouetted shapes that look like industrial structures or ruins.

Theology of Wagner's Ring Cycle I Richard H. Bell, 2020-01-21 Wagner's Ring is one of the greatest of all artworks of Western civilization but what is it all about The power and mystery of Wagner's creation was such that he himself felt he stood before his work as though before some puzzle A clue to the Ring's greatness lies in its multiple avenues of self disclosure and the corresponding plethora of interpretations that over the years has granted ample scope for directors and will no doubt do so well into the distant future One possible interpretation which Richard Bell argues should be taken seriously is the Ring as Christian theology In this first of two volumes Bell considers among other things how the composer's Christian interests may be detected in the forging of his Ring looking at how he appropriated his sources whether they be myths and sagas writers poets or philosophers and considering works composed around the same time especially his Jesus of Nazareth

Postdramatic Theatre Hans-Thies Lehmann, 2006-09-27 Newly adapted for the Anglophone reader this is an excellent translation of Hans Thies Lehmann's groundbreaking study of the new theatre forms that have developed since the late 1960s which has become a key reference point in international discussions of contemporary theatre In looking at the developments since the late 1960s Lehmann considers them in relation to dramatic theory and theatre history as an inventive response to the emergence of new technologies and as an historical shift from a text based culture to a new media age of image and sound Engaging with theoreticians of drama from Aristotle and Brecht to Barthes and Schechner the book analyzes the work of recent experimental theatre practitioners such as Robert Wilson Tadeusz Kantor Heiner Müller the Wooster Group Needcompany and Societas Raffaello Sanzio Illustrated by a wealth of practical examples and with an introduction by Karen J rs Munby providing useful theoretical and artistic contexts for the book Postdramatic Theatre is an historical survey expertly combined with a unique theoretical approach which guides the reader through this new theatre landscape Rwanda Genocide Stories Nicki Hitchcott,2015-11-26 A critical study of fictional responses by authors inside and outside Rwanda to the 1994 genocide Classical Antiquity and the Cinematic Imagination Martin M. Winkler,2024-02-22 The first systematic study of classical literature and arts to explain their close affinities with modern visual technologies and media The Memoir of Toussaint Louverture Philippe R. Girard,2014-02-28 Here is an annotated scholarly multilingual edition of the only lengthy text personally written by Haitian revolutionary Toussaint Louverture the memoirs he wrote shortly before his death in the French prison of Fort de Joux The translation is based on an original copy in Louverture s hand never before published Historian Philippe Girard begins with an introductory essay that retraces Louverture s career as a slave rebel and governor Girard provides a detailed narrative of the last year of Louverture s life and analyzes the significance of the memoirs and letters from a historical and linguistic perspective The book includes a full transcript in the original French of Louverture s handwritten memoirs The English translation appears side by side with the original The memoirs contain idiosyncrasies and stylistic variations of interest to linguists Scholarly interest in the Haitian Revolution and the life of Toussaint Louverture has increased over the past decade Louverture is arguably the most notable man of African descent in history and the Haitian Revolution was the most radical of the three great revolutions of its time Haiti s proud revolutionary past and its more recent upheavals indicate that interest in Haiti s history goes far beyond academia many regard Louverture as a personal hero Despite this interest there is a lack of accessible primary sources on Toussaint Louverture An edited translation of Louverture s memoirs makes his writings accessible to a larger public Louverture s memoirs provide a vivid alternative perspective to anonymous plantation records quantitative analyses of slave trading ventures or slave narratives mediated by white authors Louverture kept a stoic fa ade and rarely expressed his innermost thoughts and fears in writing but his memoirs are unusually emotional Louverture questioned whether he was targeted due to the color of his skin bringing racism an issue that Louverture rarely addressed head on with his white interlocutors to the fore The Memoir of General Toussaint Louverture Toussaint Louverture,2014 This is the memoir of a Haitian revolutionary written shortly before his death in the French prison of Fort de Joux It retraces Louverture s career as a slave rebel and governor It provides an alternative perspective to anonymous plantation records quantitative analyses of slave trading ventures or slave narratives mediated by white authors The Palgrave Handbook of Intermediality Jørgen Bruhn,Asun López-Varela Azcárate,Miriam de Paiva Vieira,2023-12-01 This handbook provides an extensive overview of traditional and emerging research areas within the field of intermediality studies understood broadly as the study of interrelations among all forms of communicative media types including transmedial phenomena Section I offers accounts of the development of the field of intermediality its histories theories and methods Section II and III then explore intermedial facets of communication from ancient times until the 21st century with discussion on a wide range of cultural and geographical settings media types and topics by contributors from a diverse set of disciplines It concludes in Section IV with an emphasis on urgent societal issues that an intermedial perspective might help understand Edith Stein's Life in a Jewish Family, 1891-1916 Joyce Avrech Berkman, 2023-04-04

Edith Stein's Life in a Jewish Family 1891-1916 is a treasure trove for the study of Stein's youth and early adulthood her approach to writing autobiographically and her intricate relationship with historical influences of her time and place Through intellectual mining Stein's narrative and conducting a comprehensive historical analysis of Stein's achievement as a distinct type of autobiography Joyce Avrech Berkman argues that a key axis of Stein's consciousness values philosophical ideas and life choices is a deep tense unresolved philosophical and spiritual struggle to both uphold traditional societal and cultural values and practices and also critiquing them to pioneer new patterns of thought Berkman further probes the sharply controversial nature of Stein's autobiography for her family members and Stein scholars in the decades after her death Edith Stein's Life in a Jewish Family 1891-1916 A Companion serves as an important guide to scholars in autobiographical studies history philosophy and theology as well as to a broader readership interested in Stein's life for religious and cultural reasons

Arab Women Novelists Joseph T. Zeidan, 1995-01-01 This book assesses the contribution of women to the Arabic novel both in subject matter and form It begins by tracing the struggle over women's rights in the Arab world particularly the gradual improvement in women's access to education the first area in which women made significant gains Subsequent chapters discuss Arab women writers remarkable talents and determination to overcome the barriers of a male dominated culture survey the 1950s and 1960s during which women's writing gained momentum and more women writers emerged and address the shift in emphasis and attitude that women's literature underwent in the late 1960s especially following the 1967 Arab Israeli war when women novelists began to place more stress on international politics Zeidan adapts Western based feminist literary theory to a discussion of Arab women's literature but refrains from imposing that theory inappropriately on literature whose context differs significantly He compares the women's movements in Arab and Western cultures and the development of women's literature in those cultures and uses these comparisons to highlight similarities and differences between them as well as to consider how one affected the other His analysis culminates in the early 1980s the end of the formative years when women's writing had become a familiar part of Arabic literature in general and a positive reflection on the collective Arab consciousness
