Life by Algorithms Catherine Besteman,Hugh Gusterson,2019-05-23 Essays on the downsides dysfunctions and dangers of automated decision making An excellent survey of the algorithmically managed life Choice The phone systems that businesses use to screen calls The link between student standardized test scores and public schools access to resources The algorithms that regulate patient diagnoses and reimbursements to doctors The impenetrable corporate bureaucracy that can drive customers in need of help up the wall or drive them to suicide The storage sorting and analysis of massive amounts of information have enabled the automation of decision making at an unprecedented level. Meanwhile computers have offered a model of cognition that increasingly shapes our approach to the world. The proliferation of robo-processes is the result, as editors Catherine Besteman and Hugh Gusterson observe in this rich and wide-ranging volume, which features contributions from a distinguished cast of scholars in anthropology, communications, international studies and political science. Though automatic processes are designed to be engines of rational systems, the stories in Life by Algorithms reveal how they can in fact produce absurd, inflexible or even dangerous outcomes. Joining the call for algorithmic transparency, the contributors bring exceptional sensitivity to everyday sociality into their critique to better understand how the perils of modern technology affect finance, medicine, education, housing, the workplace, food production, public space and emotions, not as separate problems but as linked manifestations of a deeper defect in the fundamental ordering of our society.

The Machine Stops
E. M. Forster's 1909 science fiction story tells the tale of a human society collapsing when the technology upon which it has become dependent fails. Think of this volume as The Machine Starts, a collection of unsettling ethnographic accounts of the rise of algorithmic governance. A necessary and sobering call to arms.

Beyond the Bubble Test
Linda Darling-Hammond, Frank Adamson, 2014-06-16
Performance assessment is a hot topic in school systems and educators continue to analyze its costs, benefits and feasibility as a replacement for high stakes testing. Until now, researchers and policymakers have had to dig to find out what we know and what we still have to learn about performance assessment.

Beyond the Bubble Test: How Performance Assessments Support 21st Century Learning synthesizes the latest findings in the field and, not a moment too soon, statistics indicate that the United States is in danger of falling behind if it fails to adapt to our changing world. The memory and recall strategies of traditional testing are no longer adequate to equip our students with the skills they need to excel in the global economy. Instead, teachers need to engage students in deeper learning, assessing their ability to use higher order skills. Skills like synthesizing information, understanding evidence and critical problem solving are not achieved when we teach to multiple choice exams. Examples in Beyond the Bubble Test paint a useful picture of how schools can begin to supplement traditional tests with something that works better. This book provides new perspectives on current performance assessment research, plus an incisive look at what's possible at the local and state levels.

Linda Darling-Hammond, with a team of leading scholars, bring together lessons learned, new directions and solid recommendations into a single, readily accessible compendium. Beyond the Bubble Test situates the current debate on performance assessment within the context of testing in the United States. This comprehensive resource also looks beyond our U.S. borders to Singapore, Hong Kong and other places whose reform-mindedness can serve as an example to us.
