Cinematic Social Studies William B. Russell, Stewart Waters, 2017-01-01 Action Film is a common and powerful element in the social studies classroom and Cinematic Social Studies explores teaching and learning social studies with film Teaching with film is a prominent teaching strategy utilized by many teachers on a regular basis Cinematic Social Studies moves readers beyond the traditional perceptions of teaching film and explores the vast array of ideas and strategies related to teaching social studies with film The contributing authors of this volume seek to explain through an array of ideas and visions what cinematic social studies can should look like while providing research and rationales for why teaching social studies with film is valuable and important This volume includes twenty four scholarly chapters discussing relevant topics of importance to cinematic social studies The twenty four chapters are divided into three sections This stellar collection of writings includes contributions from noteworthy scholars like Keith Barton Wayne Journell James Damico Cynthia Tyson and many more

Inside the Hotel Rwanda Edouard Kayihura, Kerry Zukus, 2014-04-01 In 2004 the Academy Award nominated movie Hotel Rwanda lionized hotel manager Paul Rusesabagina for single handedly saving the lives of all who sought refuge in the Hotel des Milles Collines during Rwanda's genocide against the Tutsi in 1994 Because of the film the real life Rusesabagina has been compared to Oskar Schindler but unbeknownst to the public the hotel's refugees don't endorse Rusesabagina's version of the events In the wake of Hotel Rwanda's international success Rusesabagina is one of the most well known Rwandans and now the smiling face of the very Hutu Power groups who drove the genocide He is accused by the Rwandan prosecutor general of being a genocide negationist and funding the terrorist group Democratic Forces for the Liberation of Rwanda FDLR In Inside the Hotel Rwanda survivor Edouard Kayihura tells his own personal story of what life was really like during those harrowing 100 days within the walls of that infamous hotel and offers the testimonies of others who survived there from Hutu and Tutsi to UN peacekeepers Kayihura tells of his life in a divided society and his journey to the place he believed would be safe from slaughter Inside the Hotel Rwanda exposes Paul Rusesabagina as a profiteering politically ambitious Hutu Power sympathizer who extorted money from those who sought refuge threatening to send those who did not pay to the genocidaires despite pleas from the hotel's corporate ownership to stop Inside the Hotel Rwanda is at once a memoir a critical deconstruction of a heralded Hollywood movie alleged to be factual and a political analysis aimed at exposing a falsely created hero using his fame to be a political force spouting the same ethnic apartheid that caused the genocide two decades ago

Dialogic Literary Argumentation in High School Language Arts Classrooms David Bloome, George Newell, Alan R Hirvela, Tzu-Jung Lin, 2019-09-23 Written by leaders in the field of literacy and language arts Education this volume defines Dialogic Literary Argumentation outlines its key principles and provides in depth analysis of classroom social practices and teacher student interactions to illustrate the possibilities of a social perspective for a new vision of teaching reading and understanding literature Dialogic Literary Argumentation builds on the idea of arguing to learn to engage teachers and students in using literature to explore what it means to be human situated in the world at a particular time and place Dialogic Literary Argumentation fosters deep and complex understandings of literature by engaging students in dialogical social practices that foster dialectical spaces intertextuality and an unpacking of taken for granted assumptions about rationality and personhood Dialogic Literary Argumentation offers new ways to engage in argumentation aligned with new ways to read literature in the high school classroom Offering theory and analysis to shape the future use of literature in secondary classrooms this text will be great interest to researchers graduate and postgraduate students academics and libraries in the fields of English and Language Arts Education Teacher Education Literacy Studies Writing and Composition

Teaching English Language Learners Michaela Colombo, Dana Furbush, 2009 This book prepares mainstream teachers to provide content instruction to English language learners

Into the Dark (Cultural Exegesis) Craig Detweiler, 2008-08-01 In this book Craig Detweiler examines forty five films from the twenty first century that resonate theologically from the Lord of the Rings trilogy to Little Miss Sunshine offering groundbreaking insight into their scriptural connections and theological applications Detweiler writes with the eye of a filmmaker leads Hollywood and religion initiatives at Fuller Seminary and even came to faith through cinema In this book he unpacks the theology of everyday life exploring the Spirit of God in creation redemption and general revelation through sometimes unlikely filmmakers It's the first authoritative book that dissects up to date movies selected by the popular Internet Movie Database This book is recommended for teachers students pastors film fans and those interested in the intersection of Christianity and culture

Teaching Religion and Film Gregory J Watkins, 2008-08-22 In a culture increasingly focused on visual media students have learned not only to embrace multimedia presentations in the classroom but to expect them Such expectations are perhaps more prevalent in a field as dynamic and cross disciplinary as religious studies but the practice nevertheless poses some difficult educational issues the use of movies in academic coursework has far outpaced the scholarship on teaching religion and film What does it mean to utilize film in religious studies and what are the best ways to do it In Teaching Religion and Film an interdisciplinary team of scholars thinks about the theoretical and pedagogical concerns involved with the intersection of film and religion in the classroom They examine the use of film to teach specific religious traditions religious theories and perspectives on fundamental human values Some instructors already teach some version of a film and religion course and many have integrated film as an ancillary to achieving central course goals This collection of essays helps them understand the field better and draws the sharp distinction between merely watching movies in the classroom and comprehending film in an informed and critical way

Debates in History Teaching Ian Davies, 2017-02-16 Now in its second edition Debates in History Teaching remains at the cutting edge of history education It has been fully updated to take into account the latest developments in policy research and professional practice With further exploration into the major issues that history teachers encounter in their daily professional lives it provides fresh guidance for thinking and practice for teachers within the UK and beyond Written by a range of experts in history education chapters cover all the key issues needed for clear thinking and excellent professional action This book will enable you to reach informed judgements and argue your point of view with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding Debates include What is happening today in history education What is the purpose of history teaching What do history teachers need to know What are the key trends and issues in international contexts What is the role of evidence in history teaching and learning How should you make use of ICT in your lessons Should moral learning be an aim of history education How should history learning be assessed Debates in History Teaching remains essential reading for any student or practising teacher engaged in initial training continuing professional development or Master s level study

Discerning Critical Hope in Educational Practices Vivienne Bozalek, Brenda Leibowitz, Ronelle Carolissen, Megan Boler, 2013-12-04 How can discerning critical hope enable us to develop innovative forms of teaching learning and social practices that begin to address issues of marginalization privilege and access across different contexts At this millennial point in history questions of cynicism despair and hope arise at every turn especially within areas of research into social justice and the struggle for transformation in education While a sense of fatalism and despair is easily recognizable establishing compelling bases for hope is more difficult This book addresses the absence of sustained analyses of hope that simultaneously recognize the hard edges of why we despair The volume posits the notion of critical hope not only as conceptual and theoretical but also as an action oriented response to despair Our notion of critical hope is used in two ways it is used firstly as a unitary concept which cannot be disaggregated into either hopefulness or criticality and secondly as an analytical concept where critical hope is engaged and diversely theorized in ways that recognize aspects of individual and collective directions of critical hope The book is divided into four sub sections Critical Hope in Education Critical Hope and a Critique of Neoliberalism Critical Race Theory Postcolonial Perspectives on Critical Hope Philosophical Overviews of Critical Hope Education can be a purveyor of critical hope but it also requires critical hope so that it as a sector itself can be transformative With contributions from international experts in the field the book will be of value to all academics and practitioners working in the field of education

Human Rights Discourse in a Global Network

Lena Khor, 2016-05-13 In her innovative study of human rights discourse Lena Khor takes up the prevailing concern by scholars who charge that the globalization of human rights discourse is becoming yet another form of cultural legal and political imperialism imposed from above by an international human rights regime based in the Global North To counter these charges she argues for a paradigmatic shift away from human rights as a hegemonic immutable and ill defined entity toward one that recognizes human rights as a social construct comprised of language and of language use She proposes a new theoretical framework based on a global discourse network of human rights supporting her model with case studies that examine the words and actions of witnesses to genocide Paul Rusesabagina and humanitarian organizations Doctors Without Borders She also analyzes the language of texts such as Michael Ondaatje's Anil's Ghost Khor's idea of a globally networked structure of human rights discourse enables actors textual and human who tap into or are linked into this rapidly globalizing system of networks to increase their power as speaking subjects and in so doing to influence the range of acceptable meanings and practices of human rights in the cultural sphere Khor's book is a unique and important contribution to the study of human rights in the humanities that revitalizes viable notions of agency and liberatory network power in fields that have been dominated by negative visions of human capacity and moral action
