Berry, Janis E. Johnston, Paul W. Mielke Jr., 2014-04-11 The focus of this book is on the birth and historical development of permutation statistical methods from the early 1920s to the near present Beginning with the seminal contributions of R A Fisher E J G Pitman and others in the 1920s and 1930s permutation statistical methods were initially introduced to validate the assumptions of classical statistical methods Permutation methods have advantages over classical methods in that they are optimal for small data sets and non random samples are data dependent and are free of distributional assumptions Permutation probability values may be exact or estimated via moment or resampling approximation procedures Because permutation methods are inherently computationally intensive the evolution of computers and computing technology that made modern permutation methods possible accompanies the historical narrative Permutation analogs of many well known statistical tests are presented in a historical context including multiple correlation and regression analysis of variance contingency table analysis and measures of association and agreement A non mathematical approach makes the text

Committee: School partnerships and Cooperation - HC 269 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2013-11-06 The Government wants schools to take more responsibility for themselves and each other in delivering a true self improving school system It wants schools to look not to local authorities for expertise but to each other We have no problem with that vision and think the wide range of models and structures already in place is a strength and proof of vitality We support moves to give schools more freedom to innovate but we argue that the creation of a self improving system needs a degree of coordination and strong incentives to encourage schools to look beyond their own school gate Otherwise there is a danger that many schools will operate in isolation rather than in cooperation Academy chains are generally performing well but raise particular questions and need specific solutions We recommend that it should be made clear how academies can leave chains either with or without mutual consent We also call for the Department for Education to monitor more effectively the extent to which convertor academies meet the expectation that they should support other schools The report calls for amongst other recommendations that Ofsted to be given the powers to inspect academy chains and for Government to formalise procedures for schools to leave academy chains by mutual consent and to set out how an outstanding school can leave a chain against the wishes of the chain management

House of Lords - Select Committee on the Olympic and Paralympic Legacy: Keeping the Flame Alive: the Olympic and Paralympic Legacy - HL 78 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Select Committee on Olympic and Paralympic Legacy, 2013-11-18 Since the Games the same political impetus and agreed deadlines no longer exist and many aspects of legacy are in danger of faltering whilst some have fallen by the wayside There is confusion on the timeframes and targets involved in delivery and a lack of clear ownership of legacy as a whole The committee recommends that a minister be given overall responsibility for the Olympic legacy enabling greater co ordination across Whitehall departments It also believes the Mayor of London should be given control over further development of east London and the Olympic Park in Stratford There is also a warning over the geographic disparity in the economic benefits stemming from the Games While London and the south east of England benefited with nearly 15 000 additional jobs just seven were created in the North East London 2012 may have promised to inspire a generation but the committee says it found little evidence of a step change in sports participation levels across the UK UK Sport the body that invests approximately 100m in high performance athletes and teams each year and decides funding levels for Olympic and Paralympic sports is also criticised The committee believes not enough is being done by UK Sport to help both team and emerging sports The no compromise approach of UK Sport has delivered medals for Team GB and has clearly improved top end importance This approach however has an inherent bias against team sports and fails to help emerging sports some of which such as handball and volleyball generated real enthusiasm at London 2012

Hello World Hannah Fry, 2018-09-18 Shortlisted for the 2018 Baillie Gifford Prize and the 2018 Royal Society Investment Science Book Prize A beautifully accessible guide One of the best books yet written on data and algorithms Times UK If you were accused of a crime who would you rather decide your sentence a mathematically consistent algorithm incapable of empathy or a compassionate human judge prone to bias and error What if you want to buy a driverless car and must choose between one programmed to save as many lives as possible and another that prioritizes the lives of its own passengers And would you agree to share your family s full medical history if you were told that it would help researchers find a cure for cancer These are just some of the dilemmas that we are beginning to face as we approach the age of the algorithm when it feels as if the machines reign supreme Already these lines of code are telling us what to watch where to go whom to date and even whom to send to jail But as we rely on algorithms to automate big important decisions in crime justice healthcare transportation and money they raise questions about what we want our world to look like What matters most Helping doctors with diagnosis or preserving privacy Protecting victims of crime or preventing innocent people being falsely accused Hello World takes us on a tour through the good the bad and the downright ugly of the algorithms that surround us on a daily basis Mathematician Hannah Fry reveals their inner workings showing us how algorithms are written and implemented and demonstrates the ways in which human bias can literally be written into the code By weaving in relatable real world stories with accessible explanations of the underlying mathematics that power algorithms Hello World helps us to determine their power expose their limitations and examine whether they really are improvement on the human systems they replace

The Linguistic Challenge of the Transition to Secondary School Alice Deignan, Duygu Candarli, Florence Oxley, 2022-12-30 This book provides a unique analysis and description of the linguistic challenges faced by school students as they move from primary to secondary school a major transition which some students struggle with emotionally and academically The study draws on a bespoke corpus of 2.5 million words of written materials and transcribed classroom recordings provided by the project's partner schools combines quantitative and qualitative approaches to the corpus data to explore linguistic variation across school levels registers and subjects describes the procedures of corpus compilation and analysis of written and spoken academic language showing how modern corpus tools can be applied to this far reaching social and educational issue uncovers differences and similarities between the academic language that school children are exposed to at primary and secondary school contrasting this against the backdrop of the non academic language that they encounter outside school This book is important reading for advanced students and researchers in corpus linguistics applied linguistics and teacher education It carries implications for policymakers and schools looking to support students at this critical point in their schooling The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
