The possibilities of the virtual age can provide many valuable resources and opportunities for teachers, preservice teachers and teacher educators. However, in order to utilize these resources responsibly and productively, the researchers and practitioners of teaching and teacher education must better understand the new potentials and pitfalls related to teaching and learning that are present within the virtual age. The Handbook of Research on Advancing Teaching and Teacher Education in the Context of a Virtual Age focuses on the recent innovations in teaching and teacher education as well as innovations in the curriculum and pedagogy of teacher education. It deepens discussions related to how teacher education can address educational possibilities within this digital age. Covering topics such as learning material adaptation, teacher talent pipelines and metaverse, this major reference work is a comprehensive resource for administrators and educators of both K-12 and higher education, teacher educators, pre-service teachers, government officials, librarians, researchers and academicians.

Proceedings for the 8th European Conference on Innovation and Entrepreneurship Stijn Kelchtermans, Filip de Beule, 2013 Landscapes of Participatory Making, Modding and Hacking Kenneth Y. T. Lim, 2017-03-07. This book describes maker culture as it is manifested in particular socio-cultural contexts and describes some of the underlying narratives behind the emergence of such cultures and hackerspaces. With reference to case studies, it invites a recasting of long-standing academic notions of industrialization, industrial location, urbanization and regional divides. The volume approaches this emergent socio-cultural phenomenon from an academic perspective and as such differs from existing studies in this field as it is the first to approach maker culture and makerspaces by tracing trajectories from academic literature. This will provide teachers and researchers with a more grounded foundation upon which to base their own work in this nascent yet rapidly growing field.
