A clause that begins with a subordinating conjunction always keeps the conjunction with it when it moves in the sentence

I was late to college today because the bus broke down.
Because the bus broke down, I was late to college today.

A coordinating conjunction stays where it is, and clauses move around it

I was late to college today and I was raining.
It was raining and I was late to college today.

In a sentence where the subject is the same for two (or more) main clauses, the subject is not usually repeated

He got up, went to the window and looked out.

second main clause with implied subject of 'he'
third main clause with implied subject of 'he'

Although 'went to the window' and 'looked out' cannot stand alone as sentences, they are not subordinate clauses: the reader/audience will simply understand that the subject (he) is implied.
