Designing a Machine

Situation 2 :

You are preparing an outline of the steps to be taken in redesigning a machine. Your initial outline is given below; you are now to change and improve upon it. Some of the possible revisions you might make in this outline are presented in the items following it.

First read the outline; then answer each question by selecting the best of the five choices.

1. Identifying desirable changes

- Specification of improved performance and other characteristics desired in the new model.
- Evaluation of basic factors limiting the performance of the current model.
- Description of the current model.

II. Determining the feasibility of various desirable changes

- Selecting the most promising ideas for changes.
- Collecting ideas regarding possible improvements.
- Trying out each of the proposed changes.

III. Developing new model.

- a. Combining old and new elements in a pilot model
- b. Evaluating the pilot model:
 1. Testing the pilot model
 2. Appraising the result

1. Major section II of this outline would be most improved by:
