Memo November Geograph 2014:

The Problem of Social Inequality Scott G. McNall, 2015-12-07 Within and among nations rising levels of social inequality threaten our collective future Currently upwards of 80% of people's life chances are determined by factors over which they have absolutely no control Social inequality threatens the democratic project because it destroys the trust on which governments depend and it gives rise to corrupt political and economic institutions How can we get out of the traps we have created for ourselves We need to reboot capitalism Drawing on diverse examples from a range of countries McNall explains the social economic and ecological traps we have set for ourselves and develops a set of rules of resilience that are necessary conditions for the creation and maintenance of democratic societies and a set of rules essential for creating a sustainable future

Daniel Markovits, 2020-09-08 A revolutionary new argument from eminent Yale Law professor Daniel Markovits attacking the false promise of meritocracy It is an axiom of American life that advantage should be earned through ability and effort Even as the country divides itself at every turn the meritocratic ideal that social and economic rewards should follow achievement rather than breeding reigns supreme Both Democrats and Republicans insistently repeat meritocratic notions Meritocracy cuts to the heart of who we are It sustains the American dream But what if both up and down the social ladder meritocracy is a sham Today meritocracy has become exactly what it was conceived to resist a mechanism for the concentration and dynastic transmission of wealth and privilege across generations Upward mobility has become a fantasy and the embattled middle classes are now more likely to sink into the working poor than to rise into the professional elite At the same time meritocracy now ensnares even those who manage to claw their way to the top requiring rich adults to work with crushing intensity exploiting their expensive educations in order to extract a return All this is not the result of deviations or retreats from meritocracy but rather stems directly from meritocracy's successes This is the radical argument that Daniel Markovits prosecutes with rare force Markovits is well placed to expose the sham of meritocracy Having spent his life at elite universities he knows from the inside the corrosive system we are trapped within Markovits also knows that if we understand that meritocratic inequality produces near universal harm we can cure it When The Meritocracy Trap reveals the inner workings of the meritocratic machine it also illuminates the first steps outward towards a new world that might once again afford dignity and prosperity to the American people The Suicidal State in Somalia Mohamed Haji Ingiriis, 2016-04-01

This book is a critical reposition of the study of military regimes in Africa Documenting and delving deep into the reign and rule of General Mohamed Siad Barre regime in Somalia from 1969 up to 1991 the book puts emphasis on African agencies ostensibly shaped by external beneficiaries and patrons over what went wrong with Africa after the much awaited post colonial period It does so by critically engaging with the wider theoretical and conceptual frameworks in African Studies which more often than not tend to attribute the post colonial African State raptures to colonialism The main thesis of the book is that colonialism left Africa on its own space wherein African leaders could have made a difference By putting discrete perspectives into historical context the book circumnavigates through comparative and comprehensive holistic approach to the Siad Barre regime to reveal how colonialism did not produce less than what criminalisation of the State resulted in Somalia This empirical analysis is crucial to understanding the contemporary conundrum facing the Somali world today The argument is that the contemporary conflicts are not only attributable to but also because of the past plunders of the post colonial leaders trained by the departed colonial authorities Employing nuanced analytic concepts and categories the aim of the book is to refine the past to recapture the present and envision the future Framing new ways of analyzing military regimes in Africa begins with re assessment of how the Siad Barre regime was previously approached Marshalling extensive and extraordinary amount of sources the book unveils the intricacies and contradictions of the dictatorship and its impact on the Somali psyche The book locates the evolution of the regime within the wider context of the Cold War political contestation between the East and the West Unparalleled in depth and analysis this book is the first full length scholarly study of the Siad Barre regime systematically explaining the politics and process of the dictatorial rule The historicity of exploring Somali State trajectory entails employing a Braudelien longue dur e approach Thus three interrelated sets of contexts questions inform the study how Siad Barre himself came into power how he ruled and maintained his authoritarian reign over the Somalis and who had assisted him from inside and outside the Somali world

Deepening Neoliberalism, Austerity, and Crisis Julien Mercille,Enda Murphy,2015-07-07 From bank bailouts to austerity Europe s and Ireland s response to the economic crisis has been engineered specifically to shift the burden of paying for the crisis onto ordinary citizens while investors financiers bankers and the privileged are protected The authors expose the class based nature of Ireland s crisis resolution

The Politics of Sustainability in the Arctic Ulrik Pram Gad,Jeppe Strandshjerg,2018-10-04 The Politics of Sustainability in the Arctic argues that sustainability is a political concept because it defines and shapes competing visions of the future In current Arctic affairs prominent stakeholders agree that development needs to be sustainable but there is no agreement over what it is that needs to be sustained In original conservationist discourse the environment was the sole referent object of sustainability however as sustainability discourses have expanded the concept has been linked to an increasing number of referent objects such as society economy culture and identity This book sets out a theoretical framework for understanding and analysing sustainability as a political concept and provides a comprehensive empirical investigation of Arctic sustainability discourses Presenting a range of case studies from Greenland Norway Canada Russia Iceland and Alaska the chapters in this volume analyse the concept of sustainability and how actors are employing and contesting this concept in specific regions within the Arctic In doing so the book demonstrates how sustainability is being given new meanings in the postcolonial Arctic and what the political implications are for postcoloniality nature and development more broadly Beyond those interested in the Arctic this book will also be of great value to students and scholars of sustainability sustainable development and identity and environmental politics

Lake, 2021-03-15 Land Fictions explores the common storylines narratives and tales of social betterment that justify and enact land as commodity It interrogates global patterns of property formation the dispossessions property markets enact and the popular movements to halt the growing waves of evictions and land grabs This collection brings together original research on urban rural and peri urban India rapidly urbanizing China and Southeast Asia resource expropriation in Africa and Latin America and the neoliberal urban landscapes of North America and Europe Through a variety of perspectives Land Fictions finds resonances between local stories of land s fictional powers and global visions of landed property s imagined power to automatically create value and advance national development Editors D Asher Ghertner and Robert W Lake unpack the dynamics of land commodification across a broad range of political spatial and temporal settings exposing its simultaneously contingent and collective nature The essays advance understanding of the politics of land while also contributing to current debates on the intersections of local and global urban and rural and general and particular Contributors Erik Harms Michael Watts Sai Balakrishnan Brett Christophers David Ferring Sarah Knuth Meghan Morris Benjamin Teresa Mi Shih Michael Levien Michael L Dwyer Heather Whiteside

Propaganda and Ideology in the Russian-Ukrainian War Jon Roozenbeek, 2024-05-31 Russia s invasion of Ukraine is one of the most important conflicts of the twenty first century With the start of military hostilities in 2014 also came an onslaught of propaganda to both convince and confuse audiences worldwide about the war s historical and ideological underpinnings Based on extensive research drawing on tens of thousands of news articles and hundreds of pages of legal documents and internal correspondence this book offers the first comprehensive analysis of the role of propaganda ideology and identity in the Russian Ukrainian war It argues that despite Russia s efforts to set up a media machine at home and abroad with eight years of propaganda legitimising Russia s presence in eastern Ukraine Russia never managed to vocalise a convincing alternative to Ukrainian nationhood Instead Russian propaganda backfired Ukraine is now more united than ever before

Children of Migrants in China Kam Wing Chan, Yuan Ren, 2020-11-25 Children are precious in China especially as its population ages rapidly The unprecedented fast urbanization and massive internal migration have profoundly changed almost every aspect of society They have impacted the livelihood of children of migrants most Because of the hukou system and related policies China s internal migrants face major obstacles to assimilate into cities But more than that as this book shows these policies have also torn families apart on a scale unseen heretofore More than 100 million children grow up in unstable families and the great majority have suffered from prolonged separation from their parents in the migratory upheaval This book provides an updated analysis of this mega and painful process unfolding at various geographical scales The chapters revolve around the central notion of family togetherness or the lack thereof The book measures dissects and analyses the impacts of migration on children and recommends policies to address major problems from a variety of disciplinary perspectives employing different methodologies The problems faced by the children of migrants remain enormous and it is a looming huge crisis in the making If unaddressed those problems can damage a whole generation with serious consequences The chapters in this book were first published in Eurasian Geography and Economics

Cool Steven Quartz, Anette Asp, 2015-04-14 This engrossing history merges evolutionary biology and economics to explain our spending habits and show how coolness is at the heart of consumerism Mental Floss We live in a world of conspicuous consumption where the things we buy not only satisfy our needs but also communicate our values identities and aspirations In Cool Steven Quartz and Anette Asp bring together groundbreaking findings in neuroscience economics and evolutionary biology to show how our concepts of cool be it designer jeans smartphones or craft beer help drive the global economy Cool puts forth a provocative theory of consumerism based on our brain's innate status seeking and social calculator The authors highlight the underlying processes that guide our often unconscious decision making They also pull back the curtain on choice architects who design store interiors as well as coolhunters who scour Berlin and Tokyo for the latest trends Quartz and Asp follow the evolution of cool consumption from the mid twentieth century through the emergence of the Internet in the 1990s finally unpacking the social motivations behind today's hip ethical consumption Taking us from Norman Mailer to normcore Cool is surprising at every turn and will forever change the way you think about money status and your next purchase
