Conservation of Species and the Endangered Rhinoceros United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science and Technology. Subcommittee on Natural Resources, Agriculture Research, and Environment, 1987

Rhino Poaching Janina Naef, 2016 Rhino horn is very popular in Asia as it is a status symbol and used as medicine That is one reason why the number of these animals is decreasing continuously In 2007 13 rhinos were poached in South Africa while in 2015 the number increased to 1175 rhinos This Matura Paper deals with problems of rhino poaching in South Africa It poses into the question if it is still possible to see rhinos in the future and examines what should be done to save this species from extinction Therefore 5 theses has been stated which consist of political financial protection measures and enlightenment of local and Asian people Thereby an interview has been conducted with a conservationist in addition to research in a volunteering project in South Africa regarding these theses The results prove the problems already stated If there are no changes in one of these problems the rhino doubtfully has a future

Technologies for Conserving Species United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science, Space, and Technology. Subcommittee on Natural Resources, Agriculture Research, and Environment, 1988

Death and Destruction Richard Wayne Charlton, 2017 The poaching of wildlife has been a concern to many involved in the protection of wildlife Poaching is found throughout the world and has been around for thousands of years In the past century poaching has reached new heights and the concern of an extinction of a species has brought the topic of poaching to new light Whilst poaching has been seen as a biological or conservation topic in the past criminologists around the world have now started to delve into the topic The poaching of wildlife and more so in recent years rhino poaching has been a concern in South Africa South Africa has seen an increase in rhino poaching in the past 8 years where over 4 000 rhinos have been slaughtered This research aims to give insight into the current rhino poaching epidemic in South Africa and looks at the problem from a criminological point of view where possible solutions can be recommend using criminological theories for the prevention of rhino poaching

Rhinoceros Horn Poaching Prevention Tessa Lucille Corbet, 2025 Rhinoceros rhino are an iconic species that barely survived extinction due to poaching and the illegal wildlife trade Today despite conservation efforts rhinos still face poaching as the biggest threat to their existence The white rhinoceros also known as square lipped Ceratotherium simum and the black rhinoceros Diceros bicornis are classified by the International Union for the Conservation of Nature IUCN as critically endangered and near threatened respectively Chanyandura et al 2021 Conservation efforts of the past 50 years have focused on repopulation and poaching prevention however while repopulation efforts have seen population growth in key range states poaching remains an issue Through case studies of the four rhinoceros range states with the majority of Africa s rhinos I will investigate what factors contribute to variation in rhinoceros poaching nationally in South Africa Namibia Kenya and Zimbabwe This study does this through a historical framework considering the political and social climates in each country I identify high levels of corruption private and public land ownership community engagement funding for conservation trophy hunting and ecotourism and the historical and political context as key variables that contribute to rhino protection or the lack thereof The future of rhino protection must include comprehensive well funded rhino management strategies that include anti corruption frameworks and community based conservation Engaging local communities and improving management on a national level is central to controlling the rhinoceros poaching crisis
