An Ethical Evaluation of Lethal Functions in Autoregulative Weapons Systems Nicole Kunkel,2024-12-30 This book connects two of the most pressing ethical topics of our time questions of peace and technology materialized in so called autonomous weapons systems which can operate without human control and intervention in real time The author however criticizes the term autonomy as too anthropomorphic and therefore misleading She consequently proposes using the term autoregulation in its place Taking a contingent pacifist stance this book addresses the question of whether such technological means help or hinder peace processes The argument is tripartite First it is demonstrated that the risk of harm to nonparticipants is very likely to increase Second and with respect to responsibility it is indicated that a human machine system can only be operated responsibly if a human is in control Finally this idea is transferred into theological thought through reference to Bonhoeffer s idea of incurring guilt in acting responsibly In that context autoregulative technology might pose the possibility of shying away from responsibility and therefore becoming guilty This book is among the first ethical considerations of lethal autoregulative weaponry from a contingent pacifist stance and brings together peace ethical thinking and theories from various backgrounds ICTR 2022 5th International Conference on Tourism Research Cândida

Discord in the UN Ronny Patz,Klaus H. Goetz,2019-01-24 How do international organizations in the United Nations system put together their budgets What is the role of complex principals most notably member states and the complex agents in the bureaucracies of international organizations in budgeting processes And what does a focus on budgeting tell us about the changing nature of the system of international organizations This book provides answers to these questions through a detailed examination of budgeting in the UN system The analysis draws on both quantitative and qualitative observations for a total of 22 UN system organizations and detailed case studies for the United Nations ILO UNESCO and WHO The findings demonstrate the importance of three key organizational outcomes proceduralization routinization and budgetary segmentation as international organizations grapple with managing discord over priorities as a result of complex principal agent constellations Contrary to a common view of international bureaucracies as pathological organizations core budget routines are mostly successfully maintained However principal constellations become more complex notably through the rise of voluntary contributions and non state donors budgetary segmentation advances in some cases even leading to the setting up of new international organizations and budgeting and resource mobilization become ever more intertwined As a consequence the capacity of international bureaucracies to fulfil their budgeting responsibilities is stretched to the limits and beyond Transformations in Governance is a major academic book series from Oxford University Press It is designed to accommodate the impressive growth of research in comparative politics international relations public policy federalism and environmental and urban studies concerned with the dispersion of authority from central states to supranational institutions subnational governments and public private networks It brings together work that advances our understanding of the organization causes and consequences of multilevel and complex governance The series is selective containing annually a small number of books of exceptionally high quality by leading and emerging scholars The series is edited by Liesbet Hooghe and Gary Marks of the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and Walter Mattli of the University of Oxford

The Blue Book of Optometrists ,2006 Blue Book of Optometrists and Opticians ,2007 Achieving Successful and Sustainable Project Delivery in Africa Dr. Okoro Chima Okereke,2020-05-05 African nations have an underdeveloped industrial and economic base such as their water supply electrical systems roads railways etc Massive funding is required to build each of these basic services to the levels of developed nations funding which they do not have Many African companies rely on assistance from the government and global companies looking to invest or facilitate projects in the region And for a variety of reasons many of these projects fail to fulfil the needs of the nation In order to facilitate their own economic development African nations need to cultivate efficient project management practices and policies that will help them achieve their goal of sustainability This book by a multidisciplinary project management consultant contributes to the body of knowledge that each African country can attain and sustain economic development by suggesting how to eliminate and correct most causes of failures of projects in construction water treatment electricity and renewable energy It suggests that they should also be able to obtain the sustainable harvesting of the benefits of project deliverables which have been planned for in order to implement the various aspects of their economic development The suggestions in this book will make a difference in project delivery and are comprehensive enough to create a root and branch change which will affect the people involved in making decision on projects and their delivery Thus project management teams and their managers organization decision makers companies looking to invest in the region and politicians who plan the economy have to understand the causes of unhelpful practices and what needs to be done in order to produce productive and effective delivery of long term sustainable project The principal goal of this book is to advise public and private companies and international organizations conducting projects in Africa on how to prepare themselves their businesses and enterprises to solve the problems that cause failure of projects and abandonment of project deliverables The book also recommends the necessity for a commercial enterprise or government entity to prepare and develop its vision mission and strategic objects to constitute the basis of a business plan which should be implemented for successful operations After first identifying various failed and abandoned projects in Nigeria Ghana and South Africa the author provides an analysis of why these projects failed or were abandoned By using methodologies of Organizational Project Management OPM Project Portfolio Management PPM and project management techniques he suggests a framework for project delivery which could be used as a foundational structure and platform that will address the problem and provide solutions for the achievement of successful and sustainable project delivery in Africa Proceedings
