Basic one-way receiver for digital, analog basic, and pay-per-view channels.

The Motorola DSR470 can deliver digital satellite feeds with local analog service.

The Motorola DSR470 digital satellite receiver provides interactive digital cable programming through a unique satellite delivery method. Using its unique design, the DSR470 offers a wide range of viewing options—the combined offerings of analog cable and digital satellite programming to cable subscribers. Additionally, Motorola has developed a unified digital/analog on-screen display so the viewer can seamlessly scan all available channels.

Check with your local cable service provider for availability of this product in your area.
