Section A—Reading Test (Seen passage)

Read the text carefully and answer the questions 1, 2 and 3:—

Nakshi Kantha is a kind of embroidered quilt. The name was taken from the Bengali word, 'naksha' which means artistic pattern. It is a kind of traditional craft and is said to be indigenous to Bangladesh and West Bengal in India. The art has been practised in rural Bengal for centuries. The name 'Nakshi Kantha' became popular after the poet Jasimuddin's poem 'Nakshi Kanthar Math' was published in 1929.

Traditional Kanthas are made for family use. Old or new cloth and thread are used to make these quilts. Mymensingh, Jamalpur, Rajshahi, Faridpur, Bogra and Jessore are most famous for this craft. Now, it is produced commercially. You can find them in many expensive handicraft shops in cities. The quilts are now in great demand because of the colourful patterns and designs embroidered on them.

The Common Law of Obligations Andrew Robertson, Michael Tilbury, 2016-01-28 The development of the law of obligations across the common law world has been and continues to be a story of unity and divergence. Its common origins continue to exert a powerful stabilising influence, carried forward by a methodology that places heavy weight on the historical foundations of legal principles. Divergence is however produced by numerous factors including national and international human rights instruments, local statutory regimes, civil law influences, regional harmonisation, local circumstances and values, and different political and legal cultures. The essays in this collection explore the forces that produce divergence, the countervailing forces that generate cohesion and consistency in the common law of obligations, and the influence that the major common law jurisdictions continue to exert over one another in this area of law. The chapters in this book were originally presented at the Seventh Biennial Conference on the Law of Obligations held in Hong Kong in July 2014. A second collection entitled Divergences in Private Law ISBN 9781782256601 will focus on particular departures from the common law mainstream and the causes and effects of those deviations. Individual Differences and Task-Based Language Teaching Shaofeng Li, 2024-06-06. This volume consists of a collection of empirical studies and research syntheses investigating the role of individual difference (ID) variables in task-based language teaching (TBLT), a pedagogical approach that emphasizes the importance of the performance of meaning-oriented tasks in facilitating second language learning. TBLT is subject to learner external as well as learner internal factors, with the former referring to task and context-related factors and the latter to ID factors pertaining to learner traits, dispositions or propensities. To date, the research has focused primarily on learner external factors and there has been insufficient and unsystematic research on individual difference factors. This volume brings centre stage this important but under-researched dimension by means of a comprehensive in-depth examination of the role of key ID factors in TBLT. The volume integrates theory, research and pedagogy by spelling out the mechanism through which IDs influence learning attainment, behaviours and processes, examining evidence for theoretical claims and discussing ways to apply research findings and cater to individual differences in the task-based classroom.

60 Years of the New York Convention Katia Fach Gomez, 2019-03-22. Worldwide interest in the recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards has never been higher and the New York Convention of 1958, currently adhered to by 159 States including the major trading nations, remains the most successful treaty in this area of commercial law. This incomparable book, marking the Convention's 60th anniversary, provides a fully updated analysis of the Convention's application from international, comparative and national perspectives. Drawing on a global conference held in Seville in April 2018 that was actively supported by UNCITRAL, the book's 27 chapters by highly qualified international practitioners and academics from different jurisdictions address the subject with critical eyes well aware of current developments and future challenges in the field of arbitration. Among the issues and topics covered are the following: Multi-tiered dispute resolution clauses; Applicability of the UN Convention on the Use of Electronic Communications in International Contracts; Complexities of enforcing orders determined by software; Enforcement of annulled awards; European Union law and the New York Convention; Enforcing awards against States and State entities; Sovereign immunity as a ground to refuse compliance with investor-State awards; Enforcement against non-signatories; Public policy exception; Arbitrating and enforcing foreign awards in specific countries and regions including China, sub-Saharan Africa and the ASEAN countries. Ample reference is made throughout to leading cases and practice. Familiarity with the intricacies of the New York Convention as the most universally acknowledged framework in which cross-border economic exchanges can flourish is essential for judges, practitioners, legal staff, business people and scholars working with or applying international commercial arbitration anywhere in the world. This book's combination of highly thought-provoking topics and the depth with which they are addressed will prove invaluable to all interested parties
