Mastering the Market Judith A. Miller, 1999 The grain trade a crucial sector of the French economy caused enormous concern throughout the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Bread was the staple of French diets so harvest shortfalls triggered unrest The royal government had only the most scattershot and ineffective means to draw foodstuffs into restless cities Successive regimes developed strategies to dominate the baking trades influence prices along vital supply lines and amass emergency stocks of grain that could meet months long demand As free trade ideologies developed French administrators at both the national and local levels sought to reconcile these ideologies with the perceived need to control the market They created increasingly hidden and effective means to shape the grain trade Thus the French state played an instrumental role in establishing a viable form of free trade

The Stakes of Regulation Steven L. Kaplan, 2015-08-15 Scholars have long regarded Bread Politics and Political Economy in the Reign of Louis XV 1776 as marking an important moment in the study of the social political and cultural history of eighteenth century France The Stakes of Regulation is the companion volume to a new edition of this landmark study revealing how Kaplan's thinking has evolved in reaction both to the changing intellectual epistemological historiographical and socio political environment and to the significant scholarship that has been accomplished during the past forty years Kaplan remains faithful to his original premise that the subsistence question is at the core of eighteenth century history and that the issues joined by the struggle over liberalization continue to shape our destiny today through the bristling tension between liberty and equality and the debate over the necessity legitimacy and character of regulation

Histoire de l'alimentation Massimo Montanari, Jean-Louis Flandrin, 2016-08-29 Quand l'Homme a-t-il commencé à cuire ses aliments Depuis quand peut-on parler de cuisine A quelle époque les festins sont-ils apparus Et l'habitude des repas réguliers Et notre manière de manger assis sur des chaises autour d'une table haute chacun coupant sa viande avec un couteau dans son assiette l'aide d'une fourchette

Pourquoi d'une société une autre et d'une époque la suivante le choix des aliments leur valeur gastronomique leur préparation et la façon de les manger sont-ils si différents ? L'alimentation renvoie non seulement à la satisfaction d'un besoin physiologique identique chez tous les humains mais aussi à la diversité des cultures et tout ce qui contribue à modeler l'identité de chaque peuple : elle dépend de leurs techniques de production agricole, de leurs structures sociales, de leurs représentations diététiques et religieuses et des prescriptions qui en découlent de leur vision du monde et d'un ensemble de traditions lentement construites au cours des siècles. Les relations entre ces aspects de la culture et les façons de se nourrir ont toujours existé, de la conquête du feu au débarquement de MacDonald en Europe. C'est cette longue histoire que ce livre nous invite à couvrir. Il y sera question de nourriture quotidienne, du rôle du pain, du vin et des épices de l'art culinaire mais aussi des famines qui frappaient périodiquement l'ancienne Europe ou bien des transformations de la consommation alimentaire depuis deux siècles. On y verra que nos ancêtres avaient déjà des livres de cuisine et que les métiers de l'alimentation étaient encore plus nombreux qu'aujourd'hui. On y verra également comment la tradition occidentale s'est peu ou prou nourrie de cultures voisines, celles de la Mésopotamie et de l'Égypte ancienne, de la Grèce et de Rome, des Byzantins, des Juifs et des Arabes et finalement des Américains. Cet ouvrage auquel ont participé une cinquantaine d'historiens a été dirigé par Jean-Louis Flandrin, cofondateur de la revue internationale Food Foodways, professeur maître à l'Université de Paris VIII - Vincennes et directeur d'études à l'EHESS et par Massimo Montanari, professeur à l'Université de Bologne et spécialiste de l'alimentation au Moyen Âge. Alimentation et processus technologiques Alain Branger, 2007-09. Le point sur l'organisation de la chaîne de l'alimentation et sur la relation qu'entretient l'homme avec l'alimentation.
