Good Practice Guidelines:

Good Practice Guidelines Deborah Higgins, 2017      Clinical Practice Guidelines Institute of Medicine, Committee to Advise the Public Health Service on Clinical Practice Guidelines, 1990-02-01 The Alberta clinical practice guidelines program is supporting appropriate effective and quality medical care in Alberta through promotion development and implementation of evidence based clinical practice guidelines      The Good Practice Guide to Therapeutic Activities with Older People in Care Settings Tessa Perrin, 2017-07-05 Offers a guideline on what constitutes good practice in activity provision This guide presents a benchmark against which activity providers can measure and evaluate their practice clear links to national standards and guidance for care home owners who wish to respond to the government initiatives on providing activities for their clients      DAC Guidelines and Reference Series Applying Strategic Environmental Assessment Good Practice Guidance for Development Co-operation OECD, 2006-11-10 This Guidance volume explains the benefits of using SEA in development co operation and sets out key steps for its application based on recent experiences      Best Practice Guidelines for Doctoral Programs Ian J. Shaw, Scott Cunningham, Bernhard Ott, 2015-10-14 A second reformation in global theology is currently taking place In the Majority World evangelical theological education is growing rapidly and increasing its global impact Scholars are applying the fruits of their research in Biblical and theological fields to their contexts to serve the needs of theological students and churches and their leaders One of the most significant trends within this growth of global theological education is the increasing emergence of evangelical doctoral programs Starting with a major consultation in Beirut in 2010 ICETE s Doctoral Initiative has been working to provide resources to develop and equip these programs This book contains the results of that work including the Beirut Benchmarks for Research Doctoral Programs 2010 the Beirut Benchmarks for Professional Doctorates 2011 and a well developed series of statements on best practices which explain amplify and help apply the Benchmarks Written out of a commitment to excellence and a belief that such excellence is honouring to God and of service to His Church this work will benefit doctoral programs students and supervisors working both in the Majority World and the West      OECD Best Practice Guidelines for Biological Resource Centres OECD, 2007-03-28 These best practice guidelines are intended to serve as a target for the quality management of biological resource center collections They are the result of discussions held by OECD member countries together with a number of key partner countries      Best Practice Guidelines for Theological Libraries Serving Doctoral Programs Katharina Penner, 2021-11-25 Libraries and librarians are indispensable to student learning and the formation of researchers at the doctoral level This book identifies five areas and sixteen principles that need to be considered by theological schools when optimizing library operations to serve doctoral programs As an illustration of these principles the book provides narratives from four theological libraries in Nairobi Hong Kong Bangalore and Amsterdam that have successfully transitioned to serve doctoral programs The contributors present tested best practice alongside their successful experiences pioneering libraries that serve doctoral programs in challenging situations An invaluable training resource for Majority World librarians this book also offers insight into quality guidelines for accreditation agencies supporting theological institutions in developing robust and flourishing programs

Good practices guidelines for data collection systems to support sustainable inland and recreational fisheries in the Western Balkans region Visser, T.A.M, Valbo-Jorgensen, J., Chomo, V.,2021-02-26 These guidelines illustrate recommendations for good practices on data collection in Eastern European inland fisheries and in particular the Western Balkan region based on the methodologies and approaches used in countries throughout Europe and from FAO experience of inland fisheries in other regions They provide guidance on the options available to inland fishery managers based on particular circumstances i e commercial fishing or recreational use and they are especially relevant for assisting the economies in transition in Europe Caucasus and Central Asia These guidelines are not an overarching work on inland fisheries management nor do they provide advice on the environmental aspects or competing uses of inland water bodies They focus on issues of data collection to support fishery managers whether they be government agencies fishers or angler associations co responsible for the management of inland resources in European rivers and lakes

Best Practice Guidelines for Great Ape Tourism Elizabeth J. Macfie,Elizabeth A. Williamson,2010 Executive summary Tourism is often proposed 1 as a strategy to fund conservation efforts to protect great apes and their habitats 2 as a way for local communities to participate in and benefit from conservation activities on behalf of great apes or 3 as a business A few very successful sites point to the considerable potential of conservation based great ape tourism but it will not be possible to replicate this success everywhere The number of significant risks to great apes that can arise from tourism require a cautious approach If great ape tourism is not based on sound conservation principles right from the start the odds are that economic objectives will take precedence the consequences of which in all likelihood would be damaging to the well being and eventual survival of the apes and detrimental to the continued preservation of their habitat All great ape species and subspecies are classified as Endangered or Critically Endangered on the IUCN Red List of Threatened Species IUCN 2010 therefore it is imperative that great ape tourism adhere to the best practice guidelines in this document The guiding principles of best practice in great ape tourism are

Tourism is not a panacea for great ape conservation or revenue generation Tourism can enhance long term support for the conservation of great apes and their habitat Conservation comes first it must be the primary goal at any great ape site and tourism can be a tool to help fund it Great ape tourism should only be developed if the anticipated conservation benefits as identified in impact studies significantly outweigh the risks Enhanced conservation investment and action at great ape tourism sites must be sustained in perpetuity Great ape tourism management must be based on sound and objective science Benefits and profit for communities adjacent to great ape habitat should be maximised Profit to private sector partners and others who earn income associated with tourism is also important but should not be the driving force for great ape tourism development or expansion Comprehensive understanding of potential impacts must guide tourism development positive impacts from tourism must be maximised and negative impacts must be avoided or if inevitable better understood and mitigated The ultimate success or failure of great ape tourism can lie in variables that may not be obvious to policymakers who base their decisions primarily on earning revenue for struggling conservation programmes However a number of biological geographical economic and global factors can affect a site so as to render ape tourism ill advised or unsustainable This can be due for example to the failure of the tourism market for a particular site to provide revenue sufficient to cover the development and operating costs or it can result from failure to protect the target great apes from the large number of significant negative aspects inherent in tourism Either of these failures will have serious consequences for the great ape population Once apes are habituated to human observers they are at increased risk from poaching and other forms of conflict with humans They must be protected in perpetuity even if tourism fails or ceases for any reason Great ape tourism should not be developed without conducting critical feasibility analyses to ensure there is sufficient potential for success Strict attention must be paid to the design of the enterprise its implementation and continual management capacity in a manner that avoids or at least minimises the negative impacts of tourism on local communities and on the apes themselves Monitoring programmes to track costs and impacts as well as benefits is essential to inform management on how to optimise tourism for conservation benefits These guidelines have been developed for both existing and potential great ape tourism sites that wish to improve the degree to which their programme contributes to the conservation rather than the exploitation of great apes
