Handbook of Poultry Feed from Waste A.H. El Boushy, A.F.B. van der Poel, 2013-04-17 The aim of this book is to help create new feedstuffs for poultry and farm animals from the agro industry and to mobilize the neglected waste as a feedstuff to lower the price of animal products such as eggs white and red meat milk etc Furthermore this book aims to contribute to the campaign against hunger in the developing world and to reduce the competition between animals and human beings for cereals and pulses Accordingly the global pollution problem will be reduced This book will be of great interest to all those involved in the animal feed and poultry industries in agricultural universities and in research establishments where animal nutrition is studied and taught Poultry production in Burkina Faso: Potential for poverty reduction and women's empowerment Hoffmann, Vivian, Awonon, Josue, Gelli, Aulo, 2020-01-31 Poultry rearing is widespread in rural Burkina Faso and contributes to both the food security and cash income of smallholders farmers The landlocked status of the country coupled with increasing demand for poultry in urban areas implies an opportunity for significant pro poor growth through this sector We use data from a survey of 1800 poultry producers to characterize smallholder poultry producers and their practices We find that 88% of households in program areas raised poultry While access to vaccination services and veterinary medicines at the village level is high uptake of these services is limited especially among smaller producers Fewer women than men own poultry but most women report that they control the proceeds from sales of their own birds indicating the potential for development of the poultry sector to generate relatively equitable gains in terms of gender Access to credit appears to increase women s poultry ownership but remains limited as does women s access to poultry output markets

Singh Rathore, Vinod Kumar Singh, Raghavendra Singh, 2023-10-24 Researchers and policy planners are in search of a solution to address the twin challenges of maximizing agricultural production while maintaining improving ecosystem sustainability. Enhancing farm productivity is needed in certain regions of the world to satisfy local food consumption and farmers' needs. Linear economy based input intensive conventional agriculture CAPS has increased production output but has not made agriculture more sustainable. Henceforth a farming system that aims to reduce the adverse impact on the environment as well as enhance agricultural productivity by reducing environmental footprint and improving soil health and economic wellbeing is needed in the present day. Integrated organic farming systems IOFS involve residue recycling, bio intensive cropping, high tech horticulture, mushroom, dairy, poultry, fishery, apiary etc can improve the ecosystem health and augment the income and livelihood security of the growers. Worldwide IOFS are gaining popularity due to improved ecosystem services and improving farm productivity and livelihood security. Hence IOFS a circular economy based reuse, recycle, repair agricultural production system can be alternatives to energy intensive inputs based on CAPS. Hence there is an urgent need to select suitable IOFS models with proper resource optimization for productivity maximization and better ecosystem sustainability. Undoubtedly IOFS reduces energy use from synthetic agrochemicals but food production in IOFS is highly dependent on fossil fuel energy that must be addressed urgently. Despite the enormous positive outlooks there are several challenges in the adoption of IOFS models. The IOFS is a multiproduct oriented production system that needs multi specialties and marketing. Capacity building and infrastructure development are also great challenges in adopting IOFS. Moreover the development of IOFS models is highly individualistic and location specific. Production systems need proper resource optimization and characterization. Hence the development of site specific IOFS models to maintain food quality with productivity improvement is a genuine issue to the researchers which needs to be addressed. Papers original research review letter to the editors spanning across the discipline related to the IOFS development in sustainable ways are encouraged for inclusion in this research topic. Papers should explicitly cover ecosystem restoration, farm productivity and profitability and could have a specific focus on the following areas: the IOFS models for enhancing productivity and environmental quality through an integrated management approach aiming at the maximization of use efficiencies, the management of biomass waste to restore the soil fertility and ecosystem services, the effect of integrated management practices on greenhouse gas emissions and energy use. Critical approaches for climate smart food production systems.
