that this challenge provides an opportunity to reimagine the use of Experiential Learning connecting students with community based partners doing the work of sustainable development around the world Featuring compelling case studies of project partners in Nigeria Uganda and Tanzania working to address the complexities of climate change they offer a practical model for implementing Experiential Learning that can be translated and scaled across sectors and resource environments It is aimed at scholars and educators working across higher education and international education with interests in digital and experiential education

North Pacific Environment and Paleoclimate from the Late Pleistocene to Present Miriam Jones, Lesleigh Anderson, Dorothy M. Peteet, 2020-01-13 The vast area of the North Pacific spanning 55 longitude represents a challenge for documenting and understanding the geologic history of ocean atmosphere and terrestrial environmental change Nevertheless its importance for many issues including our fundamental understanding of ocean and atmospheric circulation patterns and teleconnections with natural modes of climate variability through time has led to a steady rise in the numbers of study sites and proxy types By bringing together a wide range of proxies and timescales that examine the impacts of paleoclimate on ecosystems water carbon and humans and interactions between marine and terrestrial processes this Research Topic contributes to an improved understanding of the region s significance at global hemispheric and regional scales
