NADA, 1964 Contesting Constructed Indian-ness Michael Taylor, 2013-05-16 Native American sports team mascots represent a contemporary problem for modern Native American people The ideas embedded in the mascot representations however are as old as the ideas constructed about the Indian since contact between the peoples of Western and the Eastern hemispheres Such ideas conceived about Native Americans go hand in hand with the machinations of colonialism and conquest of these people This research looks at how such ideas inform the construction of identity of white males from historic experiences with Native Americans Notions of playing Indian and of going Native are precipitated from these historic contexts such that in the contemporary sense of considering Native Americans popular culture ideas dress Native Americans in feathers and buckskin in order to satisfy stereotypic expectations of Indian-ness

Nagler,2020-03-31 In the latest fruit of a brilliant career Michael Nagler argues that nonviolence not just as a tactic but as a way of being is the only way to unite deeply divided people and enable progressive movements and leaders of all stripes to fulfil their promise and potential So many of the problems that beset us war poverty isolation and the climate crisis have their roots in an old story about the universe we are purposeless matter in a random void and scarcity competition and violence are inevitable Citing the convergence of modern science and the essence of the world s wisdom traditions Michael Nagler argues for a new story the universe is conscious and purposeful humans are spiritual beings and cooperation and collaboration are our natural way of interacting This new story has had other champions but Nagler is the first to realize that a piece is missing For the new story to take hold we have to embrace nonviolence not only as a social change tactic but as a way of life Nonviolence is the only power strong enough to move the heart toward this deep and revolutionary change in worldview Nagler refers to this as the third harmony which is the harmony within and among us to resolve the crisis of the human image Calling on us to realize the urgency of nonviolence for resolving our personal and collective problems Nagler focuses on how to shift to our story on a personal everyday level and then integrate it into the very foundations of our understanding of humanity and community for our sake for the sake of future generations and the sake of nonviolence itself
