Global Agriculture and the American Farmer Kimberly Ann Elliott, 2017-06-27 The United States is one of the world s largest producers and exporters of a range of agricultural commodities and the largest provider of foreign assistance so U S policies have big effects on global food security and other global public goods linked to agriculture On the positive side of the ledger President Obama created the Feed the Future aid initiative to promote agricultural development in poorer countries as a tool to achieve the global goals of ending hunger and extreme poverty which are mostly rural But that generosity is undercut by U S support for farmers that distorts global markets and ignores negative spillovers for the rest of the world In this book Elliott focuses on three policy areas that are particularly damaging for developing countries traditional agricultural subsidy and trade policies that support the incomes of American farmers at the expense of farmers elsewhere the biofuels mandate which in its current form increases market volatility while doing little if anything to mitigate climate change and weak regulation of antibiotic use in livestock which contributes to the global spread of drug resistant super bugs While noting that broad reforms are needed to fix these problems Elliott also identifies practical steps that U S policymakers could take in the relatively short run to improve farm policies for American taxpayers and consumers as well as for the poor and vulnerable in developing countries

Ndlela, 2019-05-03 This book identifies the root causes of income inequality in underdeveloped economies and proposes new solutions for structural reform in economies that have long neglected and exploited working people It focuses on the case of Zimbabwe a classic example of an African post colonial state continuing with dualistic economic structures while simultaneously laying the blame for the initiation of this form of underdevelopment with colonialism The book explores the colonial roots of economic dualism in which traditional sectors run alongside newer forms of wage employment and suggests ways for Zimbabwe to move beyond the ingrained inequalities and asymmetries in production and organisation that it generates Using a combination of theoretical and empirical approaches Economic Dualism in Zimbabwe demonstrates how economic dualism can be eliminated through structural transformation of the traditional agricultural sector and reallocation of labour across sectors The author comprehensively discusses the origins of dualism in Zimbabwe how it developed in land labour credit and financial markets who stands to gain and lose from it and ultimately what reforms are needed to eliminate dualism from the economic system The book aims to complement efforts made by both North and South to transform this structurally embedded cause of underdevelopment and seeks to motivate change in the collective development agenda mindset This book will be of interest to graduate level students scholars researchers and policy practitioners in the fields of Development Studies Economics Agricultural Policy Labour Policy Economic Planning and African Studies The Good Governor Matthew R. Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2016 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies,2015 The Use of Economic Instruments Hrafnhildur Bragadóttir,Carl von Utfall Danielsson,Roland Magnusson,Sampo Seppänen,Amanda Stefansdotter,David Sundén,2014-08-18 The Working Group on Environment and Economy of the Nordic Council of Ministers publishes regular reports on the use of economic instruments in Nordic environmental policy This report is part of that series and has two parts Part 1 presents an overview of the use of economic instruments in Nordic environmental policy with a focus on policy changes over the period 2010-2013 Part 2 develops a framework for assessing the political possibilities of reforming environmentally harmful subsidies and applies this framework to three cases relevant in the Nordic context The report was prepared by Copenhagen Economics GreenStream Network and Environice The authors of the report are Hrafnhildur Bragadóttir Carl von Utfall Danielsson Roland Magnusson Sampo Seppänen Amanda Stefansdotter and David Sundén Regulating Short Food Supply Chains in the EU Mirta Alessandrini,2024-11-30 This volume presents a thorough analysis of the concept and role of Short Food Supply Chains (SFSCs) within the EU legal framework with a two fold aim first it shows the pitfalls of the current legal scenario which often limits alternatives rather than promoting them and second it provides a new conceptualisation for SFSCs under EU law by delineating and integrating all their distinctive features Agricultural landscapes in the EU are now undergoing fundamental changes revealing an increasing interest in SFSCs as a tool for promoting both local products and their food systems Despite being the backbone of the EU agricultural system SFSCs position in the current socioeconomic narrative has not been sufficiently fostered In response the book traces how SFSCs have historically been dealt with under the agricultural rules of the CAP and to a much lesser extent those relating to internal market food law delving into the intricate relationship between agricultural and food law The integration of these two disciplines into an agri food law domain represented a pivotal shift in legal discourse in particular in the context of SFSC regulation The legal analysis extends its scope to encompass spatial and historical dimensions enriching the contextual understanding of regulatory frameworks over time and across geographical boundaries This new conceptualisation does not aim to establish a universal set in the stone legal definition for SFSC applicable across disciplines Rather it seeks to identify common themes and key features among various SFSC initiatives These themes serve as the foundation for determining a set of minimum legal requirements for the recognition and valorisation of SFSC initiatives at the EU level which Member States can then tailor to their specific needs The goal is to lay the groundwork for developing a concept that can be effectively operationalised across different sectors and geographical dimensions The book makes a substantial contribution to the current academic debate filling a significant gap in the existing CAP literature On the one hand it provides the first comprehensive and systematic analysis of all the measures that have addressed small farmers and SFSCs from the CAP reforms up to the present day On the other by adopting a new multidisciplinary perspective encompassing legal sociological and agri food studies it raises new questions on the role of short supply chains in light of the Farm to Fork Strategy and beyond
