In subsequent chapters, Lipson explains the main citation styles students and researchers are likely to encounter in their academic work: Chicago, MLA, APA, CSE, biological sciences, AMA, medical sciences, ACS, chemistry, mathematics, and computer science, physics, astrophysics, and astronomy, Bluebook and ALWD law, and AAA, anthropology, and ethnography. His discussions of these styles are presented simply and clearly, with examples drawn from a wide range of source types crossing all disciplines, from the arts and humanities to science, law, and medicine. Based on deep experience in the academic trenches, Cite Right is an accessible one-stop resource, a must-have guide for students and researchers alike who need to prepare citations in any of the major disciplines and professional studies. The Nuts and Bolts of College Writing Michael Harvey, 2013-06-03 This worthy successor to Strunk and White now features an expanded style guide covering a wider range of citation cases, complete with up-to-date formats for Chicago, MLA, and APA styles.

Designing Second Language Performance Assessments John M. Norris, 1998 This volume focuses on the decision-making potential provided by second language performance assessments. The authors first situate performance assessment within a broader discussion of alternatives in language assessment and in educational assessment in general. They then discuss issues in performance assessment design, implementation, reliability, and validity. Finally, they present a prototype framework for second language performance assessment based on the integration of theoretical underpinnings and research findings from the task-based language teaching literature, the language testing literature, and the educational measurement literature. The authors outline test and item specifications and they present numerous examples of prototypical language tasks. They also propose a research agenda focusing on the operationalization of second language performance assessments. Writing Skills for Nursing and Midwifery Students Dena Bain Taylor, 2012-11-16 Nursing and midwifery students are required to communicate in writing in a variety of forms for a variety of potential audiences, including their colleagues, allied health professionals, administrators, and most importantly, their patients and the public.
