Transformations in the Life Sciences, 1945-1980 Patrick Manning,Mat Savelli,2018-06-07 The second half of the twentieth century brought extraordinary transformations in knowledge and practice of the life sciences In an era of decolonization mass social welfare policies and the formation of new international institutions such as UNESCO and the WHO monumental advances were made in both theoretical and practical applications of the life sciences including the discovery of life s molecular processes and substantive improvements in global public health and medicine Combining perspectives from the history of science and world history this volume examines the impact of major world historical processes of the postwar period on the evolution of the life sciences Contributors consider the long term evolution of scientific practice research and innovation across a range of fields and subfields in the life sciences and in the context of Cold War anxieties and ambitions Together they examine how the formation of international organizations and global research programs allowed for transnational exchange and cooperation but in a period rife with competition and nationalist interests which influenced dramatic changes in the field as the postcolonial world order unfolded Budget of the United States Government

Human Missions to Mars Donald Rapp, 2023-01-01 In this book Donald Rapp looks at human missions to Mars from a technological perspective He divides the mission into a number of stages Earth's surface to low Earth orbit LEO departing from LEO toward Mars Mars orbit insertion and entry descent and landing ascent from Mars trans Earth injection from Mars orbit and Earth return A mission to send humans to explore the surface of Mars has been the ultimate goal of planetary exploration since the 1950s when von Braun conjectured a flotilla of 10 interplanetary vessels carrying a crew of at least 70 humans Since then more than 1 000 studies were carried out This third edition provides extensive updating and additions to the last edition including new sections and many new figures and tables and references

Biopolitics of the More-Than-Human Joseph Pugliese, 2020-10-23 In Biopolitics of the More Than Human Joseph Pugliese examines the concept of the biopolitical through a nonanthropocentric lens arguing that more than human entities from soil and orchards to animals and water are actors and agents in their own right with legitimate claims to justice. Examining occupied Palestine, Guantanamo and sites of US drone strikes in Afghanistan, Pakistan, Somalia and Yemen, Pugliese challenges notions of human exceptionalism by arguing that more than human victims of war and colonialism are entangled with and subject to the same violent biopolitical regimes as humans. He also draws on Indigenous epistemologies that invest more than human entities with judicial standing to argue for an ethico-legal framework that will enable the realization of ecological justice. Bringing the more than human world into the purview of justice, Pugliese makes visible the ecological effects of human war that would otherwise remain outside the domains of biopolitics and law.
