Food Policy Tim Lang, David Barling, Martin Caraher, 2009-03-19 For over half a century food policy has mapped a path for progress based upon a belief that the right mix of investment scientific input and human skills could unleash a surge in productive capacity which would resolve humanity's food related health and welfare problems It assumed that more food would yield greater health and happiness by driving down prices increasing availability and feeding more mouths In the 21st century this policy mix is quietly becoming unstuck In a world marred by obesity alongside malnutrition climate change alongside fuel and energy crises water stress alongside more mouths to feed and social inequalities alongside unprecedented accumulation of wealth the old rubric of food policy needs re evaluation This book explores the enormity of what the new policy mix must address taking the approach that food policy must be inextricably linked with public health environmental damage and social inequalities to be effective Written by three authors with differing backgrounds one in political science another in environmental health and health promotion and the third in social psychology this book reflects the myriad of perspectives essential to a comprehensive view of modern food policy It attempts to make sense of what is meant by food policy explores whether the term has any currency in current policy discourse assesses whether current policies help or hinder what happens judges whether consensus can triumph in the face of competing bids for understanding looks at all levels of governance across the range of actors in the food system from companies and the state to civil society and science considers what direction food policies are taking not just in the UK but internationally assesses who and what gains or loses in the making of these food policies and identifies a modern framework for judging how good or limited processes of policy making are This book provides a major comprehensive review of current and past food policy thinking and proposing the need for what the authors call an ecological public health approach to food policy Nothing less will be fit for the 21st century

A Stakeholder Approach to Managing Food Adam Lindgreen, Martin K. Hingley, Robert J. Angell, Juliet Memery, 2016-08-05 This research anthology explores the concept of food production and supply from farm gate to plate bringing together contemporary thinking and research on local national and global issues from a stakeholder perspective A Stakeholder Approach to Managing Food includes a number of sections to represent these challenges opportunities conflicts and cohesions affecting relevant stakeholder groups within food production and supply and their reaction to engagement with and co creation of the food environment For some local national and global interests may seem at odds We are in an era of growing and pervasive multi national corporations and these corporations have significant influence at all levels Rapidly growing economies such as China are a focus for the global brand but is this a scenario of adaptation or homogenization of food Alongside this trend toward national and global development in food this volume presents the counter reaction that is taking place especially in developed countries toward local speciality and culturally bound foods with emphasis on the importance of the inter connection of local communities and agri food culture and economy With an in depth analysis of agricultural businesses this book shows that the entrepreneurial spirit is alive and well in rural communities with often renewed and engaged connection with consumers and imaginative use of new media This book will be of interest to students researchers and policy makers concerned with agriculture food production and economics cultural studies Goliath's Curse Luke Kemp,2025-09-23 A NEXT BIG IDEA CLUB S MUST READ BOOK A radical retelling of human history through the cycle of societal collapse a Cassandra like warning about the path today s oligarchs have set and a sweeping and dire vision of a world on the brink Publishers Weekly starred review Deeply sobering and strangely inspiring Read it now or your descendants will find it in the ruins Johann Hari author of Stolen Focus Anyone who doubts the importance of this conversation hasn t been paying attention Bill McKibben author of Here Comes the Sun 12 000 years ago human history changed forever when the egalitarian groups of hunter gathering humans began to settle down and organize themselves into hierarchies The few dominated the many seizing control through violence What emerged were Goliaths large societies built on a collection of hierarchies that are also terrifyingly fragile collapsing time after time across the world Today we live in a single global Goliath one that is precariously interdependent under threat from nuclear war climate change and the existential risks of AI The next collapse may be our last In Goliath s Curse Cambridge scholar Luke Kemp conducts a historical autopsy on our species from the earliest cities to the collapse of modern states like Somalia Drawing on historical databases and the latest discoveries in archaeology and anthropology he uncovers groundbreaking revelations More democratic societies tend to be more resilient A modern collapse is likely to be global long lasting and more dire than ever before Collapse may be invisible until after it has occurred It s possible we re living through one now Collapse has often had a more positive outcome for the general population than for the 1% All Goliaths contain the seeds of their own demise As useful for finding a way forward as it is for diagnosing our precarious present Goliath s Curse is a stark reminder that there are both bright and dark sides to societal collapse that it is not necessarily a reversion to chaos or a dark age and that making a more resilient world may well mean making a more just one Mother Earth, Mother Africa and Theology Sinenhlanhla S. Chisale,Rozelle Robson Bosch,2021-11-30 The theological role of African women and men in sustainable development and environmental justice strongly emerges in this book Picking up the theme and metaphor of the fifth pan

African conference of the Circle of Concerned African Women Theologians hereafter Circle Mother Earth and Mother Africa this book titled Mother Earth Mother Africa and Theology presents original and innovative research by scholarly members and friends of the Circle The main contribution of the volume is its multi and trans disciplinary exploration and reimagining of human relationships to Earth from an African ecofeminist and ecowomanist theological perspective It engages in critical conversations of re interpreting and re imagining African cultural religious theological and philosophical perspectives on gender and the Earth The aim is to construct Earth friendly relationships in the face of the growing global environmental crisis Scholarly voices of African women and men from fields such as Theology Environmental Law and Policy Tourism Agricultural Science and Natural Resources and Economics are reflected in this book which consists of three parts Creation the Trinity and Mother Africa Caring for Mother Africa and Mother Africa and her daughters in fertility Each of the eleven chapters in the volume presents the metaphor of Mother Earth Mother Africa and gender relations with the aim to explore life affirming life enhancing human relationships to Earth from the author s particular area of specialisation and context

Study on HarvestPlus' contribution to the development of national biofortification breeding programs Douthwaite, Boru, 2021-12-21 This evaluative review is one of a series of end of program studies being carried out by the CGIAR Research Program CRP on Agriculture for Nutrition and Health A4NH to document lessons from its achievements to inform future research and development R D efforts This study looks at lessons learned from HarvestPlus work with National Agricultural Research and Extension Systems NARES to develop and implement sustainable biofortification breeding programs HarvestPlus is part of A4NH Towards Gendering Institutionalism Heather MacRae, Elaine Weiner, 2017-07-03 Gender has traditionally proven to be a blind spot for new institutionalists This book bring gender to the fore as a critical aspect of institutions and opens up new avenues to interrogate the dynamics of power and change Casting its empirical lens on the EU where institutional efforts to realize gender equality are quite pronounced the book interrogates attempts to bring about more gender just polities supranationally nationally and more locally The book takes a best case scenario with explicit transformative aims to the social gendered order in order to illuminate how institutions and their gendering help and hinder institutional change In doing so it aims to 1 consolidate and expand the theoretical toolkit in terms of synergies between feminism and new institutionalism s various strands and 2 bring it to bear on the trajectory of Europe s gender equality agenda towards better understanding the institutional and institutionalized challenges to redressing gender inequalities

Food Systems Evaluation Methods and Sustainability Assessment Bradley George Ridoutt, Aida Turrini, 2024-03-08 The food system is responsible for some of society s most pressing sustainability challenges Diets are currently unsustainable in many countries as evidenced by the growing burden of malnutrition degradation of natural resources contributions to climate change and unaffordability of healthy diets There is an urgent need to address the gaps in understanding of what a sustainable food system means across varying populations and geographies and how we can better measure these systems

while identifying how dietary choices impact on human health and the environment However decision makers and experts are questioning whether it is possible to meet environmental social and economic goals simultaneously or whether trade offs are necessary Thus the development of better measurements and indicators to clearly understand the benefits and considerations for healthy and sustainable food systems is needed

Systematic Reviews in the Social Sciences Mark Petticrew,Helen Roberts,2008-04-15 Such diverse thinkers as Lao Tze Confucius and U S Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld have all pointed out that we need to be able to tell the difference between real and assumed knowledge The systematic review is a scientific tool that can help with this difficult task It can help for example with appraising summarising and communicating the results and implications of otherwise unmanageable quantities of data This book written by two highly respected social scientists provides an overview of systematic literature review methods Outlining the rationale and methods of systematic reviews Giving worked examples from social science and other fields Applying the practice to all social science disciplines It requires no previous knowledge but takes the reader through the process stage by stage Drawing on examples from such diverse fields as psychology criminology education transport social welfare public health and housing and urban policy among others Including detailed sections on assessing the quality of both quantitative and qualitative research searching for evidence in the social sciences meta analytic and other methods of evidence synthesis publication bias heterogeneity and approaches to dissemination

Customized Implementation of European Union Food Safety Policy

Eva Thomann, 2018-08-14 As a Journal Editor for over twenty five years I have read a lot about the European Union I am often asked what are the major gaps in EU research My answer is always implementation Eva Thomann's book makes a major contribution to EU implementation studies She brings really fresh thinking to the field This is an important book for all students of the EU and of policy implementation Jeremy Richardson Co Editor of the Journal of European Public Policy This book sheds light on the patterns causes and consequences of the customization of European Union EU policies Even if they comply member states interpret and adapt EU rules in very diverse ways when putting them into practice We can think of and measure this diversity as a phenomenon of regulatory change along the implementation chain The book explores what explains customization and what it means for providing policy solutions to shared problems It studies the implementation of EU food safety policies in Austria Germany France the United Kingdom and Switzerland using innovative qualitative comparative techniques After looking at the role of prominent compliance arguments and the logics of action for customization the study assesses how differing degrees of customization affect the success of the implementation The book provides a new evidence based perspective on gold plating and better regulation in Europe for scholars students and practitioners of policy implementation European integration and Europeanization alike Agricultural Education Magazine ,1955 The Natal Agricultural Journal ,1909 The status of women in agrifood systems Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2023-04-13 The status of women in agrifood systems report uses extensive new data and analyses to provide a comprehensive picture of women s participation benefits and challenges they face working in agrifood systems globally The report shows how increasing women s empowerment and gender equality in agrifood systems enhances women s well being and the well being of their households creating opportunities for economic growth greater incomes productivity and resilience The report comes more than a decade after the publication of the State of food and agriculture SOFA 2010 11 Women in agriculture Closing the gender gap for development SOFA 2010 11 documented the tremendous costs of gender inequality not only for women but also for agriculture and the broader economy and society making the business case for closing existing gender gaps in accessing agricultural assets inputs and services Moving beyond agriculture The status of women in agrifood systems reflects not only on how gender equality and women s empowerment are central to the transition towards sustainable and resilient agrifood systems but also on how the transformation of agrifood systems can contribute to gender equality and women s empowerment It provides a comprehensive analysis of the available evidence on gender equality and women s empowerment in agrifood systems that has been produced over the last decade The report also provides policymakers and development actors with an extensive review of what has worked highlighting the promise of moving from closing specific gender gaps towards the adoption of gender transformative approaches that explicitly address the formal and informal structural constraints to equality It concludes with specific recommendations on the way forward Last update 03 08 2023 Resources in Education ,2001-04 Natal Agriculture Journal ,1909
