Create Your School Library Writing Center Timothy Horan,2016-10-16 Colleges typically have writing centers to which students can bring their writing assignments to a peer tutor for assistance but most high schools and middle schools do not This book advocates for the creation of writing centers in 7 12 schools and explains why the school library is the best place for the writing center There is a glaring absence of writing centers in today s K 12 schools More and more students are being asked in college entrance testing to submit samples of their writing and employers are expecting their workers to write correctly and clearly This book addresses the critical lack of writing centers below the undergraduate level It demonstrates how middle school and high school librarians can create writing centers in their school libraries explains how to assist students through a one on one writing tutorial method and gives students and teachers the tools for learning and understanding the complex art of writing Author Timothy Horan inventor of the School Library Writing Center establishes why school libraries represent the best and most logical places to create writing centers and why school librarians are the natural choice to direct writing center operations He then takes readers through the process of creating a writing center from original conception up through opening day Additional topics covered include how to publicize and grow your School Library Writing Center maintaining your writing center for efficient operation on a daily basis as well as for years to come how to become an effective writing center director and writing tutor the most current technology that can be used to assist in the writing composition and research process and working with English language learner ELL students within your writing center

Victorian Animal Dreams Deborah Denenholz Morse, Martin A. Danahay, 2017-05-15 The Victorian period witnessed the beginning of a debate on the status of animals that continues today This volume explicitly acknowledges the way twenty first century deliberations about animal rights and the fact of past and prospective animal extinction haunt the discussion of the Victorians obsession with animals Combining close attention to historical detail with a sophisticated analytical framework the contributors examine the various forms of human dominion over animals including imaginative possession of animals in the realms of fiction performance and the visual arts as well as physical control as manifest in hunting killing vivisection and zookeeping The diverse range of topics analyzed from a contemporary perspective makes the volume a significant contribution to Victorian studies The conclusion by Harriet Ritvo the pre eminent authority in the field of Victorian animal studies provides valuable insight into the burgeoning field of animal studies and points toward future studies of animals in the Victorian period

Pet Projects Elizabeth Young, 2019-12-17 In Pet Projects Elizabeth Young joins an analysis of the representation of animals in nineteenth century fiction taxidermy and the visual arts with a first person reflection on her own scholarly journey Centering on Margaret Marshall Saunders a Canadian woman writer once famous for her animal novels and incorporating Young s own experience of a beloved animal s illness this study highlights the personal and intellectual stakes of a pet project of cultural criticism Young assembles a broad archive of materials beginning with Saunders s novels and widening outward to include fiction nonfiction photography and taxidermy She coins the term first dog voice to describe the narrative technique of novels such as Saunders s Beautiful Joe written in the first person from the perspective of an animal She connects this voice to contemporary political issues revealing how animal fiction such as

Saunders's reanimates nineteenth century writing about both feminism and slavery Highlighting the prominence of taxidermy in the late nineteenth century she suggests that Saunders transforms taxidermic techniques in surprising ways that provide new forms of authority for women Young adapts Freud to analyze literary representations of mourning by and for animals and she examines how Canadian writers including Saunders use animals to explore race ethnicity and national identity Her wide ranging investigation incorporates twenty first as well as nineteenth century works of literature and culture including recent art using taxidermy and contemporary film Throughout she reflects on the tools she uses to craft her analyses examining the state of scholarly fields from feminist criticism to animal studies With a lively first person voice that highlights experiences usually concealed in academic studies by scholarly discourse such as detours zigzags roadblocks and personal experience this unique and innovative book will delight animal enthusiasts and academics in the fields of animal studies gender studies American studies and Canadian studies
