Resilience in the Pacific and the Caribbean Simon Hollis, 2020-10-26 This book critically examines the global diffusion and local reception of resilience through the implementation of Disaster Risk Reduction DRR programmes in Pacific and Caribbean island states Global efforts to strengthen local disaster resilience capacities have become a staple of international development activity in recent decades yet the successful implementation of DRR projects designed to strengthen local resilience remains elusive While there are pockets of success a gap remains between global expectations and local realities Through a critical realist study of global and local worldviews of resilience in the Pacific and Caribbean islands this book argues that the global advocacy of DRR remains inadequate because of a failure to prioritise a person orientated ethics in its conceptualization of disaster resilience This regional comparison provides a valuable lens to understand the underlying social structures that makes resilience possible and the extent to which local governments communities and persons interpret and modify their behaviour on risk when faced with the global message on resilience This book will be of much interest to students of resilience risk management development studies and area studies

Environmental Hazards and Resilience Dennis J. Parker, Edmund C. Penning-Rowsell, 2021-08-26 Building resilience to the world's increasingly damaging environmental hazards has become a priority This book considers the scientific advances which have been made around the world to enhance this resilience Although resilience is not new it is through the idea of resilience that governments organisations and communities around the world are now seeking to address the rapidly increasing losses that environmental hazards cause so that fewer lives are lost and damage is reduced Alternative ideas and approaches have been helpful in reducing loss but resilience offers a fresh and potentially effective means of reducing it further Adopting a scientific approach and scientific evidence is important in applying the resilience idea in hazard mitigation However the science of resilience is at an immature stage of development with much discussion about the concept and how it should be understood and interpreted Building useful theories remains a challenge although some of the building blocks of theory have been developed More attention has been given to developing indicators and frameworks of resilience which are subsequently applied to measure resilience to hazards such as flooding earthquake and climate change Environmental Hazards and Resilience Theory and Evidence considers the scientific and theoretical challenges of making progress in applying resilience to environmental hazard mitigation and provides examples from around the world including the USA New Zealand China Bangladesh and elsewhere The chapters in this book were originally published in the Environmental Hazards

Governance, Conflict, and Natural Resources in Africa Hany Gamil Besada, 2021-04-22 A country's abundant natural resources may serve as a curse or a blessing with the outcome often dependent on prevailing governance structures and experience managing these assets Despite natural resource advantages many African countries have failed to transform their enormous economic potential and wealth into tangible benefits such as sustainable socio economic development human security or peace Governance Conflict and Natural Resources in Africa reevaluates the role that foreign state owned and private sector actors play in resource rich states whether stable post conflict or fragile in sub Saharan Africa Through research and an analysis of in depth interviews with local stakeholders in Ghana Sierra Leone and Ethiopia Hany Besada explains how foreign state owned and private sector corporations have contributed to economic growth at both the national and local levels in different resource rich countries This book reveals the unique challenges and opportunities created by these investors demonstrating that new policies in business practices and operations have the potential to generate sustainable development and positive economic transformation Governance Conflict and Natural Resources in Africa puts forward a novel framework for understanding the role of private economic actors in extractive industries in Africa and sheds new light on foreign private sector contributions to capacity building and economic development

The Green Belt, Housing Crises and Planning Systems Charles Edward Goode, 2025-03-31 This book evaluates the effectiveness of the Green Belt planning policy in England It is one of the most well known strategies internationally with similar growth restraint policies having been adopted in a diverse range of cities around the world such as Portland Medellin and Bangkok Despite this it is often argued that Green Belts contribute to wider inequitable outcomes in society Focusing on the Green Belt in England the book critically analyses the extent to which these policies and planning systems contribute to housing crises and examines how far they need to be reformed With the central role of community engagement in many of the debates about housing crises the book investigates the characteristics of popular and campaigner opposition to housebuilding alongside investigating the power relations and politics of planning systems This timely research taps into important current policy debates in the UK surrounding urban nature green infrastructure and building on the grey belt The book is therefore of relevance and benefit to policymakers and politicians to academics and students internationally from a range of fields interested in housing community engagement green infrastructure strategic planning power and politics and conservation

Concept clarity with Authentic elaborated and error free solutions The Oxford Handbook of Transformations of the State Stephan Leibfried, Evelyn Huber, Matthew Lange, Jonah D. Levy, Frank Nullmeier, John D. Stephens, 2015 This Handbook offers a comprehensive treatment of transformations of the state from its origins in different parts of the world and different time periods to its transformations since World War II in the advanced industrial countries the post Communist world and the Global South Leading experts in their fields from Europe and North America discuss conceptualizations and theories of the state and the transformations of the state in its engagement with a changing international environment as well as with changing domestic economic social and political challenges The Handbook covers different types of states in the Global South from failed to predatory rentier and developmental in different kinds of advanced industrial political economies corporatist statist liberal import substitution industrialization and in various post Communist countries Russia China successor states to the USSR and Eastern Europe It also addresses crucial challenges in different areas of state intervention from security to financial regulation migration welfare states democratization and quality of democracy ethno nationalism and human development The volume makes a compelling case that far from losing its relevance in the face of globalization the state remains a key actor in all areas of social and economic life changing its areas of intervention its modes of operation and its structures in adaption to new international and domestic challenges

Pan-Nationalism as a Category in Theory and Practice Alexander Maxwell, 2023-05-22 How is pan nationalism different from other forms of nationalism This book explores the diversity of pan nationalism in both theory and practice Drawing on Rogers Brubaker the book introduces pan nationalism as a category of practice It shows that pan nationalism implied transcending political frontiers intermittently possessed a pejorative subtext and differed from unmodified nationalism partly due to a retroactively applied success failure criterion Pan nationalists always look across political frontiers but do not always want a single pan national state The book explores the diversity of pan nationalism through case studies and a selection of pan national movements such as Habsburg pan Slavism from both the Slavic and Hungarian perspective pan Saxonism in Europe and North America pan Ethiopianism and pan Somalism in the horn of Africa and pan Hinduism online The book will be of interest to students and researchers of politics including comparative politics various forms of nationalism and history The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Nationalism and Ethnic Politics Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1913 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1913 Yojana ,2014 University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963 Through 1967: Authors & titles University of California (System).
