Linderman, Deborah Crotts, 1997 Improving Pupil Motivation Together Susan Bentham, Roger Hutchins, 2012-06-14 Improving Pupils Motivation Together provides a refreshing and much needed focus on how motivation can be enhanced by teachers and teaching assistants working both individually and collaboratively Written in an accessible and engaging manner the book explores various theories of motivation from a range of perspectives applying academic theory to real life classroom situations Using a combination of case studies and empirical research this book demonstrates how teachers and TAs can successfully enhance the motivation of their students through collaborative practice Improving Pupils Motivation Together starts by introducing theories of learning and motivation and goes on to offer insight in areas including Collaboration and ways to collaborate Motivation and giftedness Assessment for Learning Learning goals and learning objectives Common pupil responses Research in Action Improving Pupils Motivation Together is an ideal resource for both teachers and teaching assistants working with pupils who are difficult to motivate and who find learning challenging Further this book will be highly useful for teachers managing their support staff and for trainee teachers looking to develop their skills in motivating and engaging pupils Teaching in the Middle and Secondary Schools Joseph F. Callahan, Leonard H. Clark, 1992

Chemical Pedagogy Keith S Taber, 2024-12-20 How should chemistry be taught in schools colleges and universities Chemical Pedagogy discusses teaching approaches and techniques the reasoning behind them and the evidence for their effectiveness The book surveys a wide range of different pedagogic strategies and tactics that have been recommended to better engage learners and provide more effective chemistry teaching These accounts are supported by an initial introduction to some key ideas and debates about pedagogy the science of teaching Chemical Pedagogy discusses how teaching innovations can be tested to inform research based practice Through this book the author explores the challenges of carrying out valid experimental studies in education and the impediments to generalising study results to diverse teaching and learning contexts As a result the author highlights both the need to read published studies critically and the value of teachers and lecturers testing out recommended innovations in their own classrooms Chemical Pedagogy introduces core principles from research into human cognition and learning to provide a theoretical perspective on how to best teach for engagement and understanding An examination of some of the more contentious debates about pedagogy leads to the advice to seek optimally guided instruction which balances the challenge offered to learners with the level of support provided This provides a framework for discussing a wide range of teaching approaches and techniques that have been recommended to those teaching chemistry across educational levels including both those intended to replace teaching from the front and others that can be built into traditional lecture courses to enhance the learning experience

Teaching in the Middle and Secondary Schools Richard Dean Kellough, Joanna Carjuzaa, 2009 This practical performance based methods text for middle and second school pre service teachers is organized around four developmental components Why gives the rationale to support the components that follow What what you will be teaching How how you will teach it How well how well you are teaching it Organized into four parts that are then split up into ten modules the text begins with a history of education going back to colonial times The modules then cover the many and varied aspects of teaching pre and early adolescents such as teaching students with exceptionalities classroom management diversity instructional planning using technology in the classroom assessing student achievement and self assessment and continued professional development The authors contend that the best teacher is one who has an eclectic style and can monitor their own progress and make changes and adapt their strategies if they are not succeeding The ninth edition has been carefully updated to reflect the diversity and current topics in the field today The book is a valuable resource for students today and as a reference for many years to come New To This Edition NEW Improved balance of content between middle and secondary schools this emphasizes that middle school is uniquely different from both high school and the traditional junior high school and that pre and early adolescence is different from late adolescence NEW Technology has been integrated throughout every module of the book New features including Teaching Scenarios Activities and Technology Rich features were added to all modules NEW Contributions from pre service and in service middle and secondary school teachers teacher educators and educational researchers have been added to strengthen the tie between theory and practice *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
