Junior Graphic Mavis Kitcher (Mrs), 2014-02-26      Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2014-03-24      Exploring Services Science Henriqueta Nóvoa, Monica Drăgoicea, 2015-01-06 This book contains the refereed proceedings of the 6th International Conference on Exploring Service Science IESS held in Porto Portugal in February 2015 Service science constitutes an interdisciplinary approach to systematic innovation in service systems integrating managerial social legal and engineering aspects to address the theoretical and practical challenges of the service industry and its economy The 27 full papers accepted for IESS were selected from 69 submissions The papers consider the topics service innovation service exploration service design IT based service engineering and service sustainability      Towards an Integrated Approach to Measurement, Analysis and Modeling of Cortical Networks A. Ravishankar Rao, Guillermo A. Cecchi, Ehud Kaplan, 2016-03-17 The amount of data being produced by neuroscientists is increasing rapidly driven by advances in neuroimaging and recording techniques spanning multiple scales of resolution The availability of such data poses significant challenges for their processing and interpretation To gain a deeper understanding of the surrounding issues the Editors of this e Book reached out to an interdisciplinary community and formed the Cortical Networks Working Group and the genesis of this e Book thus began with the formation of this Working Group which was supported by the National Institute for Mathematical and Biological Synthesis in the USA The Group consisted of scientists from neuroscience physics psychology and computer science and meetings were held in person A detailed list of the group members is presented in the Editorial that follows At the time we started in 2010 the term big data was hardly in existence though the volume of data we were handling would certainly have qualified Furthermore there was significant interest in harnessing the power of supercomputers to perform large scale neuronal simulations and in creating specialized hardware to mimic neural function We realized that the various disciplines represented in our Group could and should work together to accelerate progress in Neuroscience We searched for common threads that could define the foundation for an integrated approach to solve important problems in the field We adopted a network centric perspective to address these challenges as the data are derived from structures that are themselves network like We proposed three inter twined threads consisting of measurement of neural activity analysis of network structures deduced from this activity and modeling of network function leading to theoretical insights This approach formed the foundation of our initial call for papers When we issued the call for papers we were not sure how many papers would fall into each of these threads We were pleased that we found significant interest in each thread and the number of submissions exceeded our expectations This is an indication that the field of neuroscience is ripe for the type of integration and interchange that we had anticipated We first published a special topics issue after we received a sufficient number of submissions This is now being converted to an e book to strengthen the coherence of its contributions One of the strong themes emerging in this e book is that network based measures capture better the dynamics of brain processes and provide features with greater discriminative power than point based measures Another theme is the importance of network oscillations and synchrony Current research is shedding light on the principles that govern the establishment and maintenance of network oscillation states These principles could explain why there is impaired synchronization between different brain areas in schizophrenics and Parkinson s patients Such research could ultimately provide the foundation for an understanding of other psychiatric and neurodegenerative conditions The chapters in this book cover these three main threads related to cortical networks Some authors have combined two or more threads within a single chapter We expect the availability of related work appearing in a single e book to help our readers see the connection between different research efforts and spur further insights and research

Who Really Feeds the World? Vandana Shiva, 2016-06-28 Debunking the notion that our current food crisis must be addressed through industrial agriculture and genetic modification author and activist Vandana Shiva argues that those forces are in fact the ones responsible for the hunger problem in the first place Who Really Feeds the World is a powerful manifesto calling for agricultural justice and genuine sustainability drawing upon Shiva s thirty years of research and accomplishments in the field Instead of relying on genetic modification and large scale monocropping to solve the world s food crisis she proposes that we look to agroecology the knowledge of the interconnectedness that creates food as a truly life giving alternative to the industrial paradigm Shiva succinctly and eloquently lays out the networks of people and processes that feed the world exploring issues of diversity the needs of small famers the importance of seed saving the movement toward localization and the role of women in producing the world s food

Transdisciplinary Perspectives on Transitions to Sustainability Edmond Byrne, Gerard Mullally, Colin Sage, 2016-06-17 Demonstrating how a university can in a very practical and pragmatic way be re-envisioned through a transdisciplinary informed frame, this book shows how through an open and collegiate spirit of inquiry the most pressing and multifaceted issue of contemporary societal unsustainability can be addressed and understood in a way that transcends narrow disciplinary work. It also provides a practical exemplar of how far more meaningful deliberation, understandings and options for action in relation to contemporary sustainability related crises can emerge than could otherwise be achieved. Indeed, it helps demonstrate how only through a transdisciplinary ethos and approach can real progress be achieved. The fact that this can be done in parallel to or perhaps underneath the day to day business of the university serves to highlight how even micro seed initiatives can further the process of breaking down silos and reuniting C. P. Snow's two cultures after some four centuries of the relentless project of modernity. While much has been written and talked about with respect to both sustainability and transdisciplinarity, this book offers a pragmatic example which hopefully will signpost the ways others can will and indeed must follow in our common quest for real progress.

Agribusiness Julian Roche, 2019-08-06 Agribusiness offers a unique introduction to the business of agriculture: what agribusiness is, why it matters, what the role of technology is, how trade fits into the picture, what its key risks are, who is lending and investing and why, and what returns they are getting. Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors William B. Bonvillian, Charles Weiss, 2015-08-18 The American economy faces two deep problems: expanding innovation and raising the rate of quality job creation. Both have roots in a neglected problem the resistance of Legacy economic sectors to innovation While the U S has focused its policies on breakthrough innovations to create new economic frontiers like information technology and biotechnology most of its economy is locked into Legacy sectors defended by technological economic political social paradigms that block competition from disruptive innovations that could challenge their models Americans like to build technology covered wagons and take them out west to open new innovation frontiers we don't head our wagons back east to bring innovation to our Legacy sectors By failing to do so the economy misses a major opportunity for innovation which is the bedrock of U S competitiveness and its standard of living Technological Innovation in Legacy Sectors uses a new unifying conceptual framework to identify the shared features underlying structural obstacles to innovation in major Legacy sectors energy air and auto transport the electric power grid buildings manufacturing agriculture health care delivery and higher education and develops approaches to understand and transform them It finds both strengths and obstacles to innovation in the national innovation environments a new concept that combines the innovation system and the broader innovation context for a group of Asian and European economies Manufacturing is a major Legacy sector that presents a particular challenge because it is a critical stage in the innovation process By increasingly offshoring production the U S is losing important parts of its innovation capacity Innovate here produce here where the U S took all the gains of its strong innovation system at every stage is being replaced by innovate here produce there which threatens to lead to produce there innovate there To bring innovation to Legacy sectors authors William Bonvillian and Charles Weiss recommend that policymakers focus on all stages of innovation from research through implementation They should fill institutional gaps in the innovation system and take measures to address structural obstacles to needed disruptive innovations In the specific case of advanced manufacturing the production ecosystem can be recreated to reverse jobless innovation and add manufacturing led innovation to the U S's still strong research oriented innovation system

OECD Principles on Water Governance Aziza Akhmouch, Delphine Clavreul, Sarah Hendry, Sharon Megdal, James Nickum, Francisco Nunes-Correia, Andrew Ross, 2020-04-30 The science policy interface is critical to the design and implementation of water policies In theory scientists provide policy makers with robust facts and data that can help guide decision making and lessons from the political economy of reforms can push scientific boundaries further to trigger further research for wise solutions While evidence based policy is obviously desirable in practice such a connection is not always straightforward Another assumption behind the science policy gap is the discrepancy between scientists and policy makers in terms of culture process timing language and expected outcome This book tries to reconcile this discrepancy through a multi stakeholder approach to authoring its different articles This joint initiative between the OECD particularly its Water Governance Initiative and the International Water Resources Association seeks to provide a canvas for grounding water policy in science and vice versa The objective of this book devoted to the OECD Principles on Water Governance is to use the OECD Principles as a common thread across the articles to draw lessons from theoretical work and practical experiences in water governance reforms but also to only feature papers authored by groups of diverse stakeholders from different institutional backgrounds This book was originally published as a special issue of Water International
