Intergenerational Mobilities Lesley Murray, Susan Robertson, 2016-10-04 Drawing from work on mobilities and geographies of the lifecourse this collection is concerned with the ways in which age as a relational concept is constructed and played out in mobile urban space With studies of ageing and mobility often focusing on discrete age groups most notably children and older people this study seeks to fill a gap in existing literature by exploring mobility in relation to the lifecourse and generation looking not only at the margins Whilst some generations are increasingly mobile others are less so and this disparity in mobility opportunity is relational as age is relational This book addresses gaps in knowledge in relational geographies of ageing whilst contributing to literature on mobility and transport in particular the burgeoning field of mobility in justice Here mobility is considered in its broadest sense for example in relation to the movement or lack of movement of bodies and to computer mediated intergenerational communications Through focusing on urban mobile spaces from very local spaces of medical care to global spaces of migration that are the context for intergenerational mobilities this collection explores these interdependencies and considers ways in which intergenerational mobilities are conceptualised and researched

America Ascendant Stanley B. Greenberg, 2015-11-03 America is poised to lead the 21st Century as it led the 20th That will happen because the country is at a tipping point in the battle for its own renewal a renewal that will allow America to be exceptional again Our economy is on the move fueled by revolutions in energy immigration innovation big data and advanced manufacturing America's energy independence has set off shockwaves Just as important are the social transformations that are making the country ever more racially and culturally diverse younger a home to immigrants and the metropolitan centers that foster a rising economic and cultural dynamism While most other countries struggle profoundly with immigration and religious and racial differences America's on a path to multicultural identity Those revolutions in the economy society and culture and are also producing a new American majority that embraces new values and new politics Republicans are waging a counter revolution and that is why America looks gridlocked and why the country is turning to Democrats to take on the country's growing challenges The economic and social transformations leave people struggling to earn enough and reach the middle class Families are under stress Government is corrupted by big money The American public is demanding the country address the dark side of our progress and reforms are starting to happen That is why Democrats will get to lead an era of reform and renewal comparable to the progressive era that mitigated the excesses of the Industrial Revolution In this incisive book expert strategist Greenberg draws on years of research and polling to illuminate how America is far from being gridlocked and he articulates a powerful vision of how American politics and America can be renewed

Negotiating International Water Rights

Muserref Yetim, 2016-06-28 Transboundary watercourses account for an estimated 60 per cent of global freshwater flow and support the livelihoods of hundreds of millions of people worldwide Yet the indeterminate status of water rights in many international watercourses presents a problem and many attempts to resolve water rights issue have failed Knowing how and where negotiations fail is essential if successful resolution is to be achieved Muserref Yetim's important book seeks to illustrate a means to the peaceful resolution of natural resource based conflicts Through a detailed study of the Tigris Euphrates water conflict involving Turkey Syria and Iraq countries of vital security interest to the world at large the author clarifies the collective action dilemmas confronting Middle Eastern watercourses and reveals the bargaining bottlenecks where negotiations fail She develops an original framework that explains bargaining failures and proposes conditions for creating a new property rights regime among watercourse states that offers a route to governing their shared water resources in ways that are politically economically and environmentally sound In almost all water scarce regions international water resources are subject to intense unilateral exploitation in a highly competitive fashion And as demand for freshwater continues to increase through increasing urbanization and the continuing development of societies so the issue of how such shared water resources can best be governed is becoming vitally important Negotiating International Water Rights offers both a timely contribution to a matter of international concern and important insights into resource conflict in countries of vital security interest to the world at large Geographical Data Science and Spatial Data Analysis Lex celebration of very classical nationhoods built on post modern premises challenges the Western view of nationalism as a dying ideology that ought to have been transcended by post national cosmopolitanism Marlene Laruelle looks at how states in the region have been navigating the construction of a nation in a post imperial context where Russia remains the dominant power and cultural reference She takes into consideration the ways in which the Soviet past has influenced the construction of national storylines as well as the diversity of each state s narratives and use of symbolic politics Exploring state discourses academic narratives and different forms of popular nationalist storytelling allows Laruelle to depict the complex construction of the national pantheon in the three decades since independence The second half of the book focuses on Kazakhstan as the most hybrid national construction and a unique case study of nationhood in Eurasia Based on the principle that only multidisciplinary can help us to untangle the puzzle of nationhood Central Peripheries uses mixed methods combining political science intellectual history sociology and cultural anthropology It is inspired by two decades of fieldwork in the region and a deep knowledge of the region s academia and political environment Praise for Central Peripheries Marlene Laruelle paves the way to the more focused and necessary outlook on Central Asia a region that is not a periphery but a central space for emerging conceptual debates and complexities Above all the book is a product of Laruelle s trademark excellence in balancing empirical depth with vigorous theoretical advancements Diana T Kudaibergenova University of Cambridge Using the concept of hybridity Laruelle explores the multitude of historical political and geopolitical factors that predetermine different ways of looking at nations and various configurations of nation building in post Soviet Central Asia Those manifold contexts present a general picture of the transformation that the former southern periphery of the USSR has been going through in the past decades Sergey Abashin European University at St Petersburg
