To determine the student's final examination score, find the student's total test raw score in the column labeled "Raw Score" and then locate the scale score that corresponds to that raw score. The scale score is the student's final examination score. Enter this score in the space labeled "Scale Score" on the student's answer sheet.

Schools are not permitted to rescore any of the open-ended questions on this exam after each question has been rated once, regardless of the final exam score. Schools are required to ensure that the raw scores have been added correctly and that the resulting scale score has been determined accurately.

Because scale scores corresponding to raw scores in the conversion chart change from one administration to another, it is crucial that for each administration the conversion chart provided for that administration be used to determine the student's final score. The chart above is usable only for this administration of the Regents Examination in Physical Setting/Chemistry.

January 2014 Global Regents Ny:

Film Quarterly Spring 2014 B. Ruby Rich, 2014-07-03 Film Quarterly has published substantial peer reviewed writing on cinema and media for nearly sixty years earning a reputation as the most authoritative academic film journal in the United States as well as an important English language voice of cinema studies abroad

Global Injustice Symbols and Social Movements T. Olesen, 2015-04-09 Global Injustice Symbols and Social Movements examines our collective moral and political maps dotted with symbols shaped by political dynamics beyond their local or national origin and offers the first systematic sociological treatment of this important phenomenon

After the Education Wars Andrea Gabor, 2018-06-12 The education wars have been demoralizing for teachers After the Education Wars helps us to see a better way forward

Cathy N Davidson The New York Times Book Review After the Education Wars is an important book that points the way to genuine reform

Diane Ravitch author of Reign of Error and The Death and Life of the Great American School System A bestselling business journalist critiques the top down approach of popular education reforms and profiles the unexpected success of schools embracing a nimbler more democratic entrepreneurialism

In an entirely fresh take on school reform business journalist and bestselling author Andrea Gabor argues that Bill Gates Eli Broad and other leaders of the prevailing education reform movement have borrowed all the wrong lessons from the business world

After the Education Wars explains how the market based measures and carrot and stick incentives informing today's reforms are out of sync with the nurturing culture that good schools foster and contrary to popular belief at odds with the best practices of thriving twenty first century companies as well

These rich detailed stories of real reform in action illustrate how enduring change must be deeply collaborative and relentlessly focused on improvement from the grass roots up

Lessons also learned from both the open source software and quality movements

The good news is that solutions born of this philosophy are all around us from Brockton Massachusetts where the state's once failing largest high school now sends most graduates to college to Leander Texas a large district where school improvement spurred by the ideas of quality guru W Edwards Deming has become a way of life

A welcome exception to the doom and gloom canon of education reform

After the Education Wars makes clear that what's needed is not more grand ideas but practical and informed ways to grow the best ones that are already transforming schools

Global Rankings and the Geopolitics of Higher Education Ellen Hazelkorn, 2016-11-18 Global rankings and the Geopolitics of Higher Education is an examination of the impact and influence that university rankings have had on higher education policy and public opinion in recent years

Law The End of Public Schools David W. Hursh, 2015-10-16 The End of Public Schools analyzes the effect of foundations corporations and non governmental organizations on the rise of neoliberal principles in public education By first contextualizing the privatization of education within the context of a larger educational crisis and with particular emphasis on the Gates Foundation and influential state and national politicians it describes how specific policies that limit public control are advanced across all levels Informed by a thorough understanding of issues such as standardized testing teacher tenure and charter schools David Hursh provides a political and pedagogical critique of the current school reform movement as well details about the increasing resistance efforts on the part of parents teachers and the general public How Global Corruption Becomes Rotten Flesh Ricardeau Luceus, 2017-06-17 Corruption touches each of us in unique but similar ways Transparency International an organization devoted to fighting corruption at every level of society in every nation of the world defines it as the abuse of entrusted power for private gain http www transparency org about Ricardeau Luceus has organized his professional experience and observation supported by relevant research to emphasize the destructive nature of dishonesty in everyday life and dealings From illicit birth certificates to forged death documents corruption follows us through life in many of our public interactions Mr Luceus explores the extent and impact of dishonesty at every level of society to show its corrosive effect on ethics and quality of life Offering awareness as the first step this book is a valuable tool for helping us to grapple with the immoral and unethical aspects of social institutions that are misshaping our youth and risking our future as a nation and as a people Food Justice in US and Global Contexts Ian Werkheiser, Zachary Piso, 2017-07-01 This book offers fresh perspectives on issues of food justice The chapters emerged from a series of annual workshops on food justice held at Michigan State University between 2013 and 2015 which brought together a wide variety of interested people to learn from and work with each other Food justice can be studied from such diverse perspectives as philosophy anthropology economics gender and sexuality studies geography history literary criticism philosophy and sociology as well as the human dimensions of agricultural and environmental sciences As such interdisciplinary workshops are a much needed vehicle to improve our understanding of the subject which is at the center of a vibrant and growing discourse not only among academics from a wide range of disciplines but also among policy makers and community activists The book includes their perspectives offering a wide range of approaches to and conceptions of food justice in a variety of contexts This invaluable work requires readers to cross boundaries and be open to new ideas based on different assumptions Property and Human Rights in a Global Context Ting Xu, Jean Allain, 2016-03-24 Property as a human rights concern is manifested through its incorporation in international instruments and as a subject of the law through property related cases considered by international human rights organs Yet for the most part the relationship between property and human rights has been discussed in rather superficial terms lacking a clear substantive connection or common language That said the currents of globalisation have witnessed a new era of interrelation between these two areas of the law including the emergence of international intellectual property law and the recognition of indigenous claims which in fundamental ways speak to an engagement with human rights law This collection starts the conversation between human rights lawyers and property lawyers and explores analytical approaches to the increasing relationship between property and human rights in a global context The chapters engage with key theoretical and policy debates and range across three main themes The re-evaluation of the public private divide in the law the tensions between the market and social justice in development and the balance between the rights of individuals and those of communities The chapters adopt a global comparative perspective and engage in case studies from countries including India Philippines Brazil the United States the United Kingdom and includes various regions of Africa and Europe

Cradling the Chrysalis Mary MacCallum Sullivan, Harriett Goldenberg, 2018-05-16 This book addresses the ethical and philosophical basis for the teaching learning involved in becoming a psychotherapist How can training prepare prospective psychotherapists counsellors and counselling psychologists for a task whose practitioners cannot even agree as to whether it is an art or a science an impersonal clinical interaction or a profoundly humane even spiritual encounter The authors believe they share with their students a passion about the possibilities inherent in this particular kind of conversation Such a meeting demands a fully personal engagement and a profoundly ethical attitude towards the relationship with the Other it is also potentially an important beginning in repairing the world The book explores the relative importance and emphasis of the structure content and process of psychotherapy training Its thesis is that the teaching learning takes place in the quality of the reciprocal meeting between the teacher and the learner

Atlas of Knowledge Katy Borner, 2015-03-20 The power of mapping principles for visualizing knowledge illustrated by many stunning large scale full color maps Maps of physical spaces locate us in the world and help us navigate unfamiliar routes Maps of topical spaces help us visualize the extent and structure of our collective knowledge they reveal bursts of activity pathways of ideas and borders that beg to be crossed This book from the author of Atlas of Science describes the power of topical maps providing readers with principles for visualizing knowledge and offering as examples forty large scale and more than 100 small scale full color maps Today data literacy is becoming as important as language literacy Well designed visualizations can rescue us from a sea of data helping us to make sense of information connect ideas and make better decisions in real time In Atlas of Knowledge leading visualization expert Katy Borner makes the case for a systems science approach to science and technology studies and explains different types and levels of analysis Drawing on fifteen years of teaching and tool development she introduces a theoretical framework meant to guide readers through user and task analysis data preparation analysis and visualization visualization deployment and the interpretation of science maps To exemplify the framework the Atlas features striking and enlightening new maps from the popular Places Spaces Mapping Science exhibit that range from Key Events in the Development of the Video Tape Recorder to Mobile Landscapes Location Data from Cell Phones for Urban Analysis to Literary Empires Mapping Temporal and Spatial Settings of Victorian Poetry to Seeing Standards A Visualization of the Metadata Universe She also discusses the possible effect of science maps on the practice of science The Ethics of Invention Sheila Jasanoff, 2016-08-30 We live in a world increasingly governed by technology but to what end Technology rules us as much as laws do It shapes the legal social and ethical environments in which we act Every time we cross a street drive a car or go to the doctor we submit to the silent power of technology Yet much of the time the influence of technology on our lives goes unchallenged by citizens and our elected representatives In The Ethics of Invention renowned scholar Sheila Jasanoff dissects the ways in which we delegate power to technological systems and asks how we might regain control Our embrace of novel technological pathways Jasanoff shows leads to a complex interplay among technology ethics and human rights Inventions like pesticides or GMOs can reduce hunger but can also cause unexpected harm to people and the environment Often as in the case of CFCs creating a hole in the ozone layer it takes decades before we even realize that any damage has been done Advances in biotechnology from GMOs to gene editing have given us tools to tinker with life itself leading some to worry that human dignity and even human nature are under threat But despite many reasons for caution we continue to march heedlessly into ethically troubled waters As Jasanoff ranges across these and other themes she challenges the common assumption that technology is an apolitical and amoral force Technology she masterfully demonstrates can warp the meaning of democracy and citizenship unless we carefully consider how to direct its power rather than let ourselves be shaped by it The Ethics of Invention makes a bold argument for a future in which societies work together in open democratic dialogue to debate not only the perils but even more the promises of technology
