

Algebra 2 Unit 12: Statistical Notes

Variability and Sampling

Data is everywhere. In its rawest form, it's in our science classes, it shows up in economics, statistics and everywhere else that variability occurs. Variability is simply the property of outcomes being different. The tools of statistics are designed to explain this variability. There are many types of variability. It is good to understand these various tools in order to understand their strengths and weaknesses in analyzing.

Example 1 The following types of variability can change variability of a data set, but each gives an example that may hold.

- (a) Observational or Measurement Variability: Variability that is introduced due to either our measuring instruments not being precise enough or differences in how individual people read the measurement.

2 students measure time for a ball to roll down a ramp
→ different reaction times

- (b) Natural Variability or Human-Induced Variability: Variability that occurs due to the fact that members of populations are simply different.

2 people work out same amount of time
→ different people use different amounts of weight

- (c) Random Variability: This type of variability is the result of noise and error. It can be because our tools assigned our populations or samples to two or more treatment groups and then observing the variability between the groups.

2 groups taking a test, one group allowed to sleep 8 hours, other group only 4 hours → different tests

- (d) Sample Variability: This is the type of variability that occurs when we take multiple samples. There is population variability. There is going to still be difference due to the variability of the samples or errors.

Multiple samples of people surveyed to determine political candidate preference

Remember, through all of our work in this book, we are really trying to explain the variability of data within either a population or a sample and then using this to determine if the variability can be attributed to one of the factors above or the variability of the others.

Teaching to the Math Common Core State Standards F. D. Rivera, 2015-06-17 This is a methods book for preservice middle level majors and beginning middle school teachers It takes a very practical approach to learning to teach middle school mathematics in an emerging Age of the Common Core State Standards The Common Core State Standards in Mathematics CCSSM is not meant to be the official mathematics curriculum it was purposefully developed primarily to provide clear learning expectations of mathematics content that are appropriate at every grade level and to help prepare all students to be ready for college and the workplace A quick glance at the Table of Contents in this book indicates a serious engagement with the recommended mathematics underlying the Grade 5 through Grade 8 and traditional pathway Algebra I portions of the CCSSM first with issues in content practice assessment learning teaching and classroom management pursued next and in that order In this book we explore what it means to teach to the CCSSM within an alignment mindset involving content practice learning teaching and assessment The Common Core state content standards which pertain to mathematical knowledge skills and applications have been carefully crafted so that they are teachable learnable coherent fewer clearer and higher The practice standards which refer to institutionally valued mathematical actions processes and habits have been conceptualized in ways that will hopefully encourage all middle school students to engage with the content standards more deeply than merely acquiring mathematical knowledge by rote and imitation Thus in the CCSSM proficiency in content alone is not sufficient and so does practice without content which is limited Content and practice are both equally important and thus must come together in teaching learning and assessment in order to support authentic mathematical understanding This blended multisourced text is a getting smart book It prepares preservice middle level majors and beginning middle school teachers to work within the realities of accountable pedagogy and to develop a proactive disposition that is capable of supporting all middle school students in order for them to experience growth in mathematical understanding that is necessary for high school and beyond including future careers
