Employer Perspectives On The Employment Of People With Disabilities:

Employer Perspectives on the Employment of People with Disabilities United States United States Department of Labor, 2014-11-01 The U S Department of Labor Office of Disability Employment Policy ODEP conducted the 2008 Survey of Employer Perspectives on the Employment of People with Disabilities This survey emphasized current attitudes and practices of employers in 12 industry sectors including some high growth industries as projected by the Bureau of Labor Statistics BLS ODEP was also interested in understanding employer perspectives by company size Previous surveys have documented employer response to the Americans with Disabilities Act and have identified barriers that employers experience or believe they will encounter in recruiting hiring retaining and promoting workers with disabilities For example a 2003 telephone survey of 502 randomly selected private sector employers asked about employer views on people with disabilities in the workplace accommodations and economic issues Dixon 2003 However there are several findings from this study that needed clarification and explanation For example when employers were asked what the greatest barrier to hiring people with disabilities was 32 percent said the nature of work is such that people with disabilities cannot effectively perform it while 22 percent answered they didn't know Another study found that 22 percent of employers identified attitudes and stereotypes as a significant barrier to employment for people with disabilities Bruy re 2000 In order to increase employment opportunities for people with disabilities it is important to know whether these beliefs are more prevalent in certain industries or vary by company size A literature review also revealed the following weaknesses in the methods utilized in the research about employers Hernandez Keys Unger 2002 Industry sectors Little data exist to substantiate a comparison of practices between industries High growth industries Little research has been conducted on companies in rapidly growing industries There is a high likelihood that an interest in recruiting employees with disabilities may exist in these industries Company size Little research has compared employer perspectives on the employment of people with disabilities based on company size ODEP concluded that the research on employer perspectives on employing people with disabilities needed a strategic and scientifically based approach that rigorously collects and aggregates data from multiple types of employers This survey was designed to fill a gap in knowledge about the practices and organizational challenges that employers face in recruiting retaining and advancing people with disabilities There have been surveys conducted on employer attitudes but there were no nationally representative studies on employer practices and challenges by company size and industry sector This survey focused on industry segments and company size to ask detailed questions about practices challenges and strategies The strength of this survey is its emphasis on comprehensive sampling based on industry sectors company size and individuals at the executive level This new knowledge on employer perspectives on employing people with disabilities will help ODEP formulate targeted strategies and policies for increasing employment opportunities for people with disabilities While ODEP has conducted focus groups with high level executives this survey provided detailed and comprehensive data on employer

attitudes and practices regarding hiring recruitment and retention for the industries involved Employer perspectives on employment of people with disabilities ,2009 What Would It Take? Peter Waterhouse,Helen Kimberley,Pam Jonas,Camille Nurka,2010 This literature review aims to provide the basis for informed and detailed discussions of what kinds of strategies employers would respond to in hiring and retaining employees with disabilities including any contribution the Vocational Education and Training VET sector might make The review begins with discussion of the international and national policy context for this study Governments twin policy objectives of social inclusion encompassing access equity and social justice considerations and economic development are canvassed The review then moves onto consideration of the dynamics of employment in general before consideration of the research literature on disability employment issues A section highlights some good news stories in disability employment before the final summing up This literature review is a support document for the project report What would it take Employer perspectives on employing people with a disability For the main report see ED508544 Employers' perspectives on hiring immigrants Berlina, Anna,Cavicchia, Rebecca, Available online <https://pub.norden.org/nord2023/043> The Nordic countries are facing labour shortages Yet integrating migrants into the labour market remains a challenge especially for non EU born citizens and refugee women Employers play a central role in supporting integration This report explores Nordic employers perceptions of hiring low skilled migrants It highlights motivations benefits and challenges based on literature and interviews The employers in this study believe long term advantages outweigh initial challenges Benefits include access to a larger labour pool and improved public image Common challenges are legal hurdles communication challenges and limited language skills The study finds that reducing language requirements and collaborating with the public sector NGOs and staffing agencies are effective strategies And while wage subsidies positively impact employment the awareness among employers is limited Handbook of Disability Marcia H. Special Educational Needs and Inclusive Practices Fabio Dovigo, 2017-01-28 Today school is becoming a rapidly changing learning environment Thinking about students as a homogeneous population is no longer allowed as diversity in terms of culture language gender family organisation learning styles and so on has emerged as a key challenge for education today The debate on Special Educational Needs largely reflects this challenge as working in school implies careful reconsideration of what we mean by normal and special Current educational intervention is generally based on a deficit and within child model of facing SEN whereas very little attention is given to the role of learning environments The focus is on the child more than on the whole class and on cognition and technical provisions more than on affective sociocultural and community dimensions of learning Conversely regarding students and their needs as hidden voices allows us to adopt a transformative approach which sees diversity as a stimulus for the development of educational practices that might benefit all children and help school to become an inclusive and moving organisation The aim of the book is twofold on the one hand it offers a systematic overview of the inclusive education state of the art in six countries Germany Italy Norway Sweden UK and USA based on the contributions by well known scholars such as Christy Ashby Barbara Brokamp Fabio Dovigo Kari Nes Mara Westling Allodi Tony Booth and Beth Ferri on the other hand the book analyses five cases of good practices of inclusion related to different subjects and school levels

De Gruyter Handbook of Disability and Management Joy Beatty, Sophie Hennekam, Mukta Kulkarni, 2023-03-20 Globally the prevalence of disability is growing as is disability awareness The disability rights movement argues that the right to employment is essential for full participation and human dignity While there have been improvements related to broad diversity programs and policies those for persons with disabilities especially less visible or invisible disabilities have received less attention Contextual factors such as the legal environment and protections cultural and social values religious norms and broader economic conditions shape the employment prospects for persons with disabilities The De Gruyter Handbook of Disability and Management uses an interdisciplinary lens to study disability and management integrating perspectives from disability studies psychology education and legal domains It aims to incorporate a contextually sensitive and global perspective to emphasize actionable areas of inclusion and provides a more international focus by including contributions from across the world including countries and regions that have till date received less attention in the area of disability studies Managers human resource professionals and policy makers can be more proactive to support persons with disabilities and more insights best practices and tools are needed to facilitate this support This handbook will guide and support efforts of organizational stakeholders and policy makers as they strive to be more inclusive

Disability and Employment Fumitaka Furuoka, 2024-05-02 This book offers new knowledge on the intricate interplay between employment and disability It provides a timely scholarly deliberation and presents policy solutions to tackle the persistently high unemployment among people with disabilities This critical issue in the labour market obstructs fostering inclusive economic growth by ensuring employment opportunities for all under Goal 8 of the Sustainable Development Goals This insightful work dissects how negative stereotypes of people with disabilities in the labour market are perpetuated and highlights knowledge gaps in the available literature on the disability employment relationship It offers a systematic empirical analysis of the patterns of the unemployment rate of people with disabilities and its convergence and it examines the determinants of the unemployment gap between people with and without disabilities Theoretical deliberations are presented regarding the effectiveness of labour market interventions designed to solve this issue By exploring the concept of disability and offering empirical analysis and labour market solutions this book serves as a valuable resource for policymakers advocates and anyone committed to achieving more inclusive economic growth and moving towards a more humanistic economy From Industry 4.0 to Industry 5.0 Allam Hamdan,Arezou Harraf,Amina Buallay,Pallvi Arora,Hala Alsabatin,2023-07-31 This book aims at bringing together global researchers to generate thought on how this transition from Industry 4 0 to Industry 5 0 could make a difference to the globe for larger good The collaboration and interaction between man and machine has given rise to Industry 5 0 With the prime objective of Industry 5 0 to create a benefit for the human beings while tapping on to the advantage of Industry 4 0 in no case does it replace what has already been achieved In fact it brings to light what can be done in order to make life better While Industry 4 0 offered extraordinary technological advancement Industry 5 0 reasons out that technology alone is not sufficient to answer everything or provide a solution but it is an amalgamation of both machine and human interaction to create that difference In fact with the impact of widespread digitalization that has led to dehumanization of the industrial makeup the interest of global researchers has increased toward mapping how the humancreativity and brainpower can be reconciled with the intelligent systems that can enhance process efficiency Industry 5 0 has touched upon some of those key domains which are of much concern and debate globally including resilience both business and cyber environment and sustainability diversity and inclusion values and ethics vision and purpose circular economy understanding the human machine collaboration and the human touch in the production process This transition that has taken place in moving from Industry 4 0 to Industry 5 0 has essentially created a need to pay cognizance to the role of human in the process which creates an enhanced focus toward the right kind of skills and competencies identification of training and developmental needs talent acquisition and management safety and wellbeing future of work as well as hybrid working models Undeniably the pace with which Industry 4 0 has been accelerating has bypassed the first three industrial revolutions which is definitely a consequence of the fast introduction of new and cutting edge technologies While organizations are already in analyzing the context mapping this transition and the flow of activities from Industry 4 0 to 5 0 is gaining attention as Industry 4 0 lacked personalization and customization This co existence of man and machine creates a pathway for newer prospects and opportunities to emerge and expand possibilities of personalization with the empowerment of human in the production process This lays the foundation for this book This book adopts a forward looking approach by bringing in research and contributions that facilitate in mapping the consereasons consequences and solutions for man machine across industries This book serves as a guide not just to academia but also to the industry to adopt suitable strategies that offer insights into global best practices as well as the innovations in the domain The Social Dynamics of Labor Market Inclusion Lena Strindlund,2020-11-16 Labor market inclusion is a complex assignment that takes place through a dynamic interaction between unemployed individuals from vulnerable groups several authority actors and employers The overall aim of this thesis was to explore the social dynamics of labor market inclusion with a particular focus on integration from the perspectives of employers and authority actors Three empirical studies have been conducted focusing on different perspectives and integration challenges using various forms of qualitative methods and theoretical approaches Study I was a qualitative phenomenographic interview study of employers perspectives on labor market inclusion and intersectoral integration The study showed that employers views are multifaceted and can be categorized as constrained independent and conditional and can be understood through a complex internal relationship between conceived individual workplace and authority related aspects in relation to the themes of trust contribution and support paper I Study II was a two year longitudinal case study of an interorganizational integration project focusing on the authority actors perspectives Through ethnographic fieldwork and a practice theory approach two divergent rationalities an empowerment rationality and a coordinating rationality were identified within the project organization and four central concepts were highlighted communication trust structure and steering contributing to a collapse in integration paper II The dysfunctional group processes were further analyzed with the theory of negative effects of social capital and shadow organizing summarized as three social dynamics insulation homogenization and escalating commitment paper III Study III was a one year longitudinal case study of a municipal intraorganizational integration project focusing on the perspectives of both authority actors and municipal employers This study combined ethnographic field work with the theory of social representations which visualized three different representations among the different professional groups individual employer and political oriented which contributed to creating tensions within the project identified as incomprehension power struggles expectation gaps and distrust paper IV By studying two labor market inclusion projects through shadow organizing the thesis has revealed a complex and dynamic interplay between the various views of the actors involved as well as social processes within the project organizations and organizational aspects referred to as social dynamics These social dynamics constitute the key concepts in this thesis contributing understanding about how integration and organization work within labor market inclusion projects or rather what makes them fail Three social dynamics were identified multiple and conflicting views grouping processes and power struggles Greater knowledge and awareness of these complex and social dynamics of labor market inclusion may contribute to better preparedness when organizing integration projects The results suggest that by identifying and addressing the multiple views characterizing integration projects and not letting incomprehension dominate the destructive social dynamics may not be given as much space or may even be avoided which may stimulate a willingness to integrate rather than the opposite
