Suk, 2024-04-30 Decades after liberal constitutional democracies ended the laws of patriarchy and committed to gender equality misogyny still pervades women's lives Often expressed as hatred and discrimination against women misogyny is the legal aftermath of patriarchy which goes beyond attacking and belittling women After Misogyny reframes misogyny as society's overentitlement to women's forbearance and sacrifices which continues to be expressed in the law even after patriarchy has been repudiated Women's contributions both inside and outside the home are radically undercompensated and highly beneficial to society especially the reproductive work of childbearing and childrearing From antidiscrimination law to abortion bans the law fails women by keeping the dynamics of social overentitlement and male overempowerment invisible In recent years many constitutional democracies have used new processes of constitution making and constitutional change to reset entitlements and power After Misogyny shows how movements to reset these baseline entitlements are necessary for constitutional democracies to overcome misogyny The Humanities and the Dynamics of Inclusion Since World War II David A. Hollinger, 2006-04-14 Publisher description National Identities in Pakistan Cara Cilano, 2014-06-03 In 1971 a war which took place in Pakistan that resulted in the establishment of two separate countries East Pakistan became Bangladesh leaving the remaining four western provinces to comprise a truncated Pakistan This book examines how literature by those who remained Pakistanis acts as a cultural response to the threat the war posed to a nationalist identity It provides an analysis of the writing by Pakistani authors in their attempt to deal with the radical shock of the war and shows how fiction about the war helps readers imagine what the paring down of the country means for any abiding articulation of a Pakistani group identification The author discusses English and Urdu language fictions in the context of the historical debate about Pakistani nationalism including how such nationalism informs literary culture and in the contemporary interest in official apologies for the past The author organises the literary analysis around four key issues the domestic sphere and the family the territorial limits of citizenship multiculturalism class and nationalist history and diasporic imaginings of the nation These issues

resonate across the fictions in both languages and the author's analysis of them traces how these works grapple with changing notions of what it means to be Pakistani after the civil war and offers an interesting discussion to studies in South Asia

Dead Man Jonathan Rosenbaum, 2019-07-25 When it was released in 1995 Dead Man puzzled many audiences and critics Jim Jarmusch's reputation was for directing slick hip contemporary films And Dead Man was a black and white Western As time has passed though the number of its admirers has grown rapidly Indeed Dead Man with its dark and unconventional treatment of violence racism and capitalism may be Jarmusch's finest work to date This is Jonathan Rosenbaum's view For him Dead Man is both a quantum leap and a logical next step in Jarmusch's career Starring Johnny Depp as the uprooted accountant William Blake and Gary Farmer as his enigmatic Native American companion Nobody and with startling cameos from Robert Mitchum John Hurt and Iggy Pop Dead Man is by turns shocking comic and deeply moving This book explores and celebrates a masterpiece of 1990s American cinema

Special Affects Eric Jenkins, 2016-10-27 Examines the translation of classical Hollywood into Disney's feature films from a Deleuzian perspective Special Affects retells the emergence of Disney animation and classical Hollywood cinema from the perspective of affect and the embodied modes of generating affection The emergence of these media enables new modes of perception that create aspecial sensations of wonder astonishment marvel and the fantastic Such affections subsequently become mined by consumer industries for profit thereby explaining the connection between media and consumerism that today seems inherent to the culture industry Such modes and their affections are also translated into ideology as American culture seeks to make sense of the sociocultural changes accompanying these new media particularly as specific versions of American Dream narratives Special Affects is the first extended exploration of the connection between media and consumerism and the first book to extensively apply Deleuzian film theory to animation Its exploration of the connection between the animated form and consumerism and its re examination of twentieth century animation from the perspective of affect makes this an engaging and essential read for film philosophy scholars and students

The

Victorian Woman Question in Contemporary Feminist Fiction J. King, 2005-06-01 The Victorian Woman Question in Contemporary Feminist Fiction explores the representation of Victorian womanhood in the work of some of today's most important British and North American novelists including A S Byatt Sarah Waters Margaret Atwood Angela Carter and Toni Morrison By analysing these novels in the context of the scientific religious and literary discourses that shaped Victorian ideas about gender it contributes to an important inter disciplinary debate For while showing the power of these discourses to shape women's roles the novels also suggest how individual women might challenge that power through their own lives

Reyner Banham and the Paradoxes of High Tech Todd Gannon, 2017-09-05 Reyner Banham and the Paradoxes of High Tech reassesses one of the most influential voices in twentieth century architectural history through a detailed examination of Banham's writing on High Tech architecture and its immediate antecedents Taking as a guide Banham's habit of structuring his writings around dialectical tensions Todd Gannon sheds new light on Banham's early engagement with the New Brutalism of Alison and Peter Smithson his measured enthusiasm for the clip on approach developed by Cedric Price and the Archigram group his advocacy of well tempered environments fostered by integrated mechanical and electrical systems and his late career assessments of High Tech practitioners such as Norman Foster Richard Rogers and Renzo Piano Gannon devotes significant attention to Banham's late work including fresh archival materials related to Making Architecture The Paradoxes of High Tech the manuscript he left unfinished at his death in 1988 For the first time readers will have access to Banham's previously unpublished draft introduction to that book The Outlook, 1926 New-Church Messenger, 1911
