M. Annie Grace, Emma C. Monroe, 1917      Preparing STEM Teachers Joanne E. Goodell, Selma Koç, 2020-09-01 STEM project based instruction is a pedagogical approach that is gaining popularity across the USA. However, there are very few teacher education programs that focus specifically on preparing graduates to teach in project based environments. This book is focused on the UTeach program, a STEM teacher education model that is being implemented across the USA in 46 universities. Originally focused only on mathematics and science, many UTeach programs are now offering engineering and computer science licensure programs as well. This book provides a forum to disseminate how different institutions have implemented the UTeach model in their local context. Topics discussed will include sustainability features of the model and how program assessment, innovative instructional programming, classroom research, and effectiveness research have contributed to its success. The objectives of the book are: To help educators gain insight into a teacher education organizational model focused on STEM and how and why it was developed; To present the theoretical underpinnings of a STEM education model, i.e., deep learning, conceptual understanding; To present innovative instructional programming in teacher education, i.e., project-based instruction, functions and modeling research methods; To present research and practice in classroom and field implementation and future research recommendations; To disseminate program assessments and improvement efforts.

Literacy Is Still Not Enough Nicky Mohan, Ian Jukes, Ryan L. Schaaf, 2021-01-26 Modern fluencies provide a platform for authentic teaching, learning, and assessment. While reading, writing, and arithmetic remain important, they are no longer enough. For learners to thrive, they must move beyond traditional literacies to modern fluencies: the unconscious mental processes that are learned, adapted, and applied in the context of real-world problems and challenges. In this book, the authors unpack the fluencies: solution, information, creativity, communication, collaboration, and global citizenship, to reflect the relentless social, cultural, and economic shifts of modern times. Practical resources are presented alongside Authentic Unit Plan Exemplars for each fluency, Assessment rubric examples, Discussion questions. Learners today must master an entirely different set of essential skills and knowledge needed to succeed than previous generations. This book provides a practical framework for integrating new fluencies into traditional curriculum.
