Yellin,2012-12-06 Cardiovascular dynamics is a field in which modelling and systems analysis have formed an extremely important discipline For example understanding of even such a fundamental function of the circulation as the relationship between central venous pressure and cardiac output has required evolution of a pertinent model based on years of exhaustive experimental investigations by Starling Starr and Guyton Hemodynamic analyses of pulsatile pressures and flows in the arteries and veins have been a continuing challenge taken up by champions of fluid dynamics such as Frank Wetterer Taylor and Womersley just to mention a few names and some kind of model was always proposed as a conceptual framework An even greater challenge to cardiovascular dynamicists was how to analyze the intermittent coupling of the ventricle and the arterial or venous vasculature through the valve The availability of numerical solutions by computer and the recently evolved ventricular model with a time varying elastance and a pressure dependent internal resistance opened the way to analysis of this coupling The ever increasing speed of computers has also facilitated trips between the frequency and the time domain even on line for some experimental studies This book contains many analyses dedicated to the interactions between the heart and the vasculature providing the reader with findings at the cutting edge of current research in this field
