Biopolitics of the More-Than-Human Joseph Pugliese,2020-10-23 In Biopolitics of the More Than Human Joseph Pugliese examines the concept of the biopolitical through a nonanthropocentric lens arguing that more than human entities from soil and orchards to animals and water are actors and agents in their own right with legitimate claims to justice Examining occupied Palestine Guantanamo and sites of US drone strikes in Afghanistan Pakistan Somalia and Yemen Pugliese challenges notions of human exceptionalism by arguing that more than human victims of war and colonialism are entangled with and subject to the same violent biopolitical regimes as humans He also draws on Indigenous epistemologies that invest more than human entities with judicial standing to argue for an ethico legal framework that will enable the realization of ecological justice Bringing the more than human world into the purview of justice Pugliese makes visible the ecological effects of human war that would otherwise remain outside the domains of biopolitics and law

India's Grand Strategy and Foreign Policy Bernhard Beitelmaier-Berini, 2021-07-15 The book explores the competing grand strategic worldviews shaping India's foreign and security policies by analyzing the interaction between normative modern international relations theories and vernacular concepts of statecraft and strategy To assess the diverse competing ideas which characterize India's debates on grand strategy and foreign policy the author presents the subculture cleavage model of grand strategic thought This innovative analytical framework reveals the complexities of India's strategic pluralism and offers the building blocks for a systematic analysis of grand strategy formation The book demonstrates that the strategic paradigms or strategic subcultures are marked by contending ideas of Indian statehood and civilization held by policymakers and the informed public and are a result of ideology driven perceptions of the country's strategic environment The author argues that the apparent hybridization and stretching of modern and traditional concepts of international relations in India has become a widespread feature of Indian foreign policy to meet the needs of state formation and nation building A unique approach to organizing and understanding the debates and discourse in Indian strategic thinking the book will be of interest to specialists and students in the field of International Relations political theory South Asian Studies and India's foreign and security policy
