Topic 3: Assessment

Study Point A: Knowledge of Tests and Standards

A. Individual and group listening assessments

- ☐ Primary differences between the tests
- ☐ Advantages of each

Individual assessment advantages

- Direct one-to-one attention allows the student and examiner to establish solid rapport, which is essential for obtaining valid results
- Direct control of the testing
- Orally administered by the examiner, little reading is required by the student, which makes it possible to test very young students or those with limited reading skills
- Scores from individual tests can be interpreted across a variety of levels

Disadvantages

- Cost of the tests themselves, both monetarily and with respect to time
- Learning to administer and interpret the results from the tests (particularly the cognitive tests) requires extensive training, and administration time ranges from one to four hours
- (Wide range of tests) underlying conceptual framework of different theories of intelligence

Group assessment advantages

- Group-administered tests have standardized and computerized scoring systems
- Group-administered tests can be given to as many students who can comfortably fit into a room, which reduces test administration time and increases testing efficiency
- Potentially unlimited number of students who would be administered a group-administered test
- Allows for a direct comparison of scores across select demographic variables

Disadvantages

- Does not allow for in-depth observations of individual students as they complete the test
- Examiner may break standardization and inadvertently
- Restriction of responses to multiple choice, whereas items on many individually-administered tests have different levels of scoring depending on the complexity of the response
- Results may also not be representative of children of a particular demographic
- Results can be used inappropriately
