

Kaplan Gerontology Review Study Guide

A client has a cataract removed from the left eye. Which of the following is an important nursing intervention in the immediate postoperative period?

- a. Position the client on the right side with head slightly elevated.
- b. Place the client on the left side to protect the eye.
- c. Perform sensory neurological checks every two hours.
- d. Maintain complete bed rest for the first 48 hours.

Correct answer a. Position the client on the right side with head slightly elevated.

(The client should be positioned on their back or their unaffected side to prevent trauma to the surgical eye, C and D are unnecessary for cataract clients)

A client returns to the recovery room at the outpatient surgery center after cataract surgery. The nurse notes that the IV site in the client's left hand appears reddened and warm. Which of the following actions, if performed by the nurse, is best?

- a. Call the physician to obtain an order to remove the IV cannula.
- b. Apply cool compresses, and continue to assess the IV insertion site.
- c. Stop the IV infusion and remove the IV cannula.
- d. Apply antibiotic ointment to the site, and change the IV dressing.

Correct answer c. Stop the IV infusion and remove the IV cannula.

(Nurse can remove the IV cannula without a physician order, if site is infected the IV should be removed and restarted)

Your 78-year-old client reports that she has frequent constipation as a result of medications she is prescribed and asks the nurse for advice about using a daily over-the-counter laxative. The most appropriate response to her question is that it would be best for her to consult her health practitioner before using non-prescription drugs.

An older adult reports chronic constipation when asked why this problem has gotten worse with age, the nurse responds: "It is possible that you have lost the ability to feel when you need to move your bowels."

An Assessment Guide To Geriatric Neuropsychology Holly Tuokko, Thomas Hadjistavropoulos, 2014-04-04 At least half of all neuropsychological assessments are performed on elderly persons but the information clinicians need to make appropriate judgment calls is widely scattered Several books offering general descriptions of the cognitive functioning of the aged or of neuropsychological conditions affecting them are helpful to practitioners but do not provide reliable and valid normative information Two books that do provide this information do not focus on geriatric populations A concise yet comprehensive summary of what we now know about those over 65 with an extensive bibliography An Assessment Guide to Geriatric Neuropsychology fills the gap The neuropsychological assessment of elderly persons involves not only the performance based measurement of various capacities but heavy reliance on reports from caregivers both formal and informal about the day to day functioning of the affected person It also raises important yet often neglected ethical concerns The authors discuss all the measures that detect and discriminate among cognitive disorders of elderly persons including special measures relevant to caregiver reports and provide useful tables to assist in differential diagnosis They also reflect on the ethical issues that often confront the assessor of an elderly individual informed consent confidentiality the right of bodily autonomy and self determination and appropriate feedback This book will be an invaluable resource for all those called on to evaluate older clients

A Handbook of Geriatric Neuropsychology Shane S. Bush, Brian P. Yochim, 2022-07-12 A Handbook of Geriatric Neuropsychology Practice Essentials Second Edition brings together experts in the field to integrate the knowledge and skills needed to understand and treat older adults who are experiencing problems with memory and other thinking skills With three new sections including coverage of other conditions beyond neuropsychological disorders special assessment contexts and more on interventions and ethics as well as multiple new chapters and significant updates from the first edition this book provides a strong foundation for clinicians educators and researchers invested in the wellbeing of older adults The impact and experience of aging like the practice of neuropsychology evolves over time Similarly through advances in science and professional techniques neuropsychological practice has continued to evolve Neuropsychological evaluation remains the most effective method of diagnosing age related cognitive decline cognitive difficulties that result from psychological factors and other related disorders as well as determining how the various disorders impact functioning and quality of life This book explores these areas and offers state of the art assessment techniques to assess changes in cognition and behavior and to distinguish normal changes from neuropathology This book is a go to resource and key reference for psychologists who serve older adults with known or suspected cognitive problems as well as those who are invested in promoting brain wellness It provides much of the information needed to establish and improve foundational and functional competencies in geriatric neuropsychology and establish practices that are personally and professionally rewarding all aimed at promoting the understanding and wellbeing of older adults Geriatric Neuropsychology Deborah K. Attix, Kathleen A.

Welsh-Bohmer, 2013-10-15 This major clinical reference and text is the first volume to systematically address the entire process of neuropsychological assessment and intervention with older adults The expert editors and contributors detail the current state of knowledge about frequently encountered conditions ranging from mild cognitive impairment to progressive stable and reversible dementias Evidence based assessment and intervention strategies are described and specific guidance is provided for linking neuropsychological evaluation to individualized treatment planning Demonstrating an array of cognitive training compensatory and psychotherapeutic approaches the volume shows how these can successfully be used to improve patients functioning and quality of life Geriatric Neuropsychology Shane S. Bush, Thomas A. Martin, 2005-10-10

The text provides a lifespan developmental approach to neuropsychology It addresses the many issues in neuropsychological assessment that differ between younger and older adults It describes the symptoms neuropathology diagnostic considerations and treatment options of common neurological disorders associated with aging It also addresses special considerations related to geriatric neuropsychology such as ethical issues family systems issues decision making capacity cultural consideration and medical medication substance use issues Additionally a list of resources for the elderly and their families is also provided The Boston Process Approach to Neuropsychological Assessment Lee Ashendorf PhD, Rod Swenson PhD, ABN, David J. Libon PhD, FACPN, ABN, 2013-07-12 The Boston Process Approach to neuropsychological assessment advanced by Edith Kaplan has a long and well respected history in the field However its theoretical and empirical support has not previously been assembled in an easily accessible format This volume fills that void by compiling the historical empirical and practical teachings of the Process Approach The reader will find a detailed history of the precursors to this model of thought its development through its proponents such as Harold Goodglass Nelson Butters Laird Cermak and Norman Geschwind and its continuing legacy The second section provides a guide to applying the Boston Process Approach to some of the field s most commonly used measures such as the various Wechsler Intelligence Scales the Trail Making Test the California Verbal Learning Test and the Boston Naming Test Here the reader will find a detailed history of the empirical evidence for test administration and interpretation using Boston Process Approach tenets The final section of the book provides various perspectives on the implementation of the Boston Process Approach in various clinical and research settings and with specialized populations      Annual Review of Gerontology and Geriatrics, Volume 20, 2000 ,2000-10-25 The study of the end of life has become a major focus on medicine the social sciences ethics and religion This volume brings together the latest research on issues around death and dying life s attributes as it nears death planning and preparation for death and care and intervention related issues This evidence based finding of this volume will help shape how we approach the topic for years to come      A Compendium of Neuropsychological Tests Esther Strauss, Elisabeth M. S. Sherman, Otfried Spreen, 2006 This compendium gives an overview of the essential aspects of neuropsychological assessment practice It is also a source of critical reviews of major neuropsychological assessment tools for the use of the practicing clinician
