House Of Passion:

The House That Richard Built James D. Smith, 2007-06 We are all carpenters we are all building something We are building families marriages careers relationships and legacies God has the plans for you plans to prosper you plans to give you hope and a future Jer 29 11 If God has these great plans for you wouldn't you want to build the great things He has in store The House that Richard Built will take you on a life changing journey into the world of a master carpenter Some of the things you will learn What it means to measure twice and cut once What to do when the roof comes crashing down How to ensure you're building on the right foundation How to focus so you hit the nails And much more It's your life that's under construction This book is the power tool you need James Smith learned the lessons that he shares in this book by working with Richard his stepfather as a young man In his life he has been a soldier a high school teacher a college instructor a trainer and a graduate Bible student He combines his varied life experiences and the skills of carpentry with biblical wisdom in a way that readers will find useful and refreshing With sincerity and openness about his own life mistakes James helps his readers identify and apply life lessons that will help them build the life that God has planned

Not Passion's Slave Robert C. Solomon, 2003-01-30 The idea that we are in some significant sense responsible for our emotions is an idea that Robert Solomon has developed for almost three decades Here in a single volume he traces the development of this theory of emotions and elaborate it in detail Two themes run through his work the first presents a cognitive theory of emotions in which emotions are construed primarily as evaluative judgments The second proposes an existentialist perspective in which he defends the idea that as we are responsible for our emotions Indeed sometimes it even makes sense to say that we choose them While the first claim has gained increasing currency in the literature his claim about responsibility for emotions has continued to meet with considerable resistance and misinterpretation The new emphasis on evolutionary biology and neurology has mistakenly reinforced the popular prejudice that emotions happen to us and are entirely beyond our control This volume is also a kind of intellectual memoir of Solomon's own development as a thinker The essays written in the 1980s elaborate the themes of the intentionality of emotion and the claim that emotions are judgments in this period he is also increasingly preoccupied with how emotions vary and are identified in a variety of cultures In the 1990s his interests evolve to consider the social and political role of emotions and theories about emotion The final section presents his current philosophical position on the seeming passivity of the passions Despite his own critical assessment of his earlier work he continues to argue that in the final analysis we are responsible for our emotions and existential quality of our lives

Trott, 2007-07-01 Are meaning and purpose still possible in life The age of philosophy and its pursuit of the good of happiness came to an end with nihilism The philosophers equated the good with intellect which led to divided descriptions of this value Philosophy is divided by divided loves Plato's love of pure intellect and Aristotle's love of nature and constructs of value which is why it led to nihilism in the end But it is possible to go beyond the ravages of nihilism by setting aside these divided loves for the sake of love itself the power that makes itself known through the desirability of life At Smith's House examines the possibilities of love itself in twelve informal entertaining conversations between two old friends It begins by dissecting the divided concepts of value produced by philosophy and its infatuation with intellect Then it describes the difference between love itself and the divided loves seen in philosophy as well as in institutional doctrine Finally it discusses the restoration of unity to the church and goodness to culture through the formulation Deus caritas est which provides a means of going beyond nihilism and the demise of philosophy Hearings Before the Committee on Ways and Means, House of Representatives, on the Proposed Revenue Act of 1918 United States.
