House Of Day House Of Night By Olga Tokarczuk:

House of Day, House of Night Olga Tokarczuk, 2002 The English debut of one of Poland's most popular contemporary writers     Przekładaniec, 2 (2010) vol 24 - English Version ,     Reading Matters Ulrich Marzolph, 2023 The present book is a special gift for a special colleague and friend Defined as an Unfestschrift it gives colleagues students and friends of Regina Bendix an opportunity to express their esteem for Regina's inspiration cooperation leadership and friendship in an adequate and lasting manner The title of the present book Reading Matters is as close as possible to an English equivalent of the beautiful German double entendre Erlesenes meaning both something read a reading and something exquisite Presenting matters for reading the Unfestschrift unites short contributions about readings that mattered in some way or another for the contributors readings that had an impact on their understanding of whatever they were at some time or presently are interested in The term readings is understood widely Since most of the invited contributors are academics the term implies in the first place readings of an academic or scholarly nature In a wider notion however readings also refer to any other piece of literature the perception of a piece of art a painting a sculpture a performance listening to music appreciating a folkloric performance or a fieldwork experience or just anything else whose reading or individual perception has been meaningful for the contributors in different ways Contrary to a strictly scholarly treatment of a given topic in which the author often disappears behind the subject the presentations unveil and highlight the contributor's personal involvement and thus a dimension of crucial importance for ethnographers such as the dedicatee     The Novel Cure Ella Berthoud, Susan Elderkin, 2014-12-30 Delightful elegant prose and discussions that span the history of 2 000 years of literature Publisher's Weekly A novel is a story transmitted from the novelist to the reader It offers distraction entertainment and an opportunity to unwind or focus But it can also be something more powerful a way to learn about how to live Read at the right moment in your life a novel can quite literally change it The Novel Cure is a reminder of that power To create this apothecary the authors have trawled two thousand years of literature for novels that effectively promote happiness health and sanity written by brilliant minds who knew what it meant to be human and wrote their life lessons into their fiction Structured like a reference book readers simply look up their ailment be it agoraphobia boredom or a midlife crisis and are given a novel to read as the antidote Bibliotherapy does not discriminate between pains of the body and pains of the head or heart Aware that you've been cowardly Pick up To Kill a Mockingbird for an injection of courage Experiencing a sudden acute fear of death Read One Hundred Years of Solitude for some perspective on the larger cycle of life Nervous about throwing a dinner party Ali Smith's There but for The will convince you that yours could never go that wrong Whatever your condition the prescription is simple a novel or two to be read at regular intervals and in nice long chunks until you finish Some treatments will lead to a complete cure Others will offer solace showing that you're not the first to experience these emotions The Novel Cure is also peppered with useful lists and sidebars recommending the best novels to read when you're stuck in traffic or can t fall asleep the most important novels to read during every decade of life and many more Brilliant in concept and deeply satisfying in execution The Novel Cure belongs on everyone's bookshelf and in every medicine cabinet It will make even the most well read fiction aficionado pick up a novel he's never heard of and see familiar ones with new eyes Mostly it will reaffirm literature's ability to distract and transport to resonate and reassure to change the way we see the world and our place in it This appealing and helpful read is guaranteed to double the length of a to read list and become a go to reference for those unsure of their reading identities or who are overwhelmed by the sheer number of books in the world Library Journal

Soft Living Architecture Rachel Armstrong, 2018-09-06 Soft Living Architecture explores the invention of new architectures based on living processes It crafts a unique intersection between two fast developing disciplines biomimicry and biodesign in architecture and bioinformatics and natural computing in the natural sciences This is the first book to examine both the theory and methodology of architecture and design working directly with the natural world It explores a range of approaches from the use of life like systems in building design to the employment of actual growing and living cell and tissue cultures as architectural materials creating architecture that can change learn and grow with us The use of living architecture is cutting edge and speculative yet it is also inspiring a growing number of designers worldwide to adopt alternative perspectives on sustainability and environmental design The book examines the ethical and theoretical issues arising alongside case studies of experimental practice to explore what we mean by natural in the Anthropocene and raise deep questions about the nature of design and the design of nature This provocative and at times controversial book shows why it will become ever more necessary to embrace living processes in architecture if we are to thrive in a sustainable future

Reading the Environment Dominika Oramus, 2025-09-04 Reading the Environment Olga Tokarczuk's Fiction aims at analysing the dynamics of reading fiction in the context of accelerating climate change This volume proposes an environment oriented model of reading and applies it to a well defined corpus all existing English translations of Olga Tokarczuk's fiction These are Primeval and Other Times House of Day House of Night Drive Your Plow Over the Bones of the Dead Flights The Books of Jacob and The Empusium Removed from the immediate cultural context of a single author these novels give a representative sample of contemporary literature read by Anglophone people of diverse national backgrounds who live in different localities but share one endangered planet whether they realise it or not The book charts five ways in which our reading protocols have shifted the way of interconnectedness the way of naturecultures the way of sympoiesis the way of Earth Island and the way of the beginning of the Anthropocene This book is written for an academic audience postgraduates researchers and academics specializing in Environmental Humanities Ecocriticism World Literature Post Modern Literature and Climate Fiction

Translating Values Piotr Blumczynski, John Gillespie, 2016-06-30 This collection explores the central importance of values and evaluative concepts in cross cultural translational encounters Written by a group of international scholars from a diverse range of linguistic and cultural backgrounds the chapters in this book consider what it means to translate cultures by examining core values and their relationship to key evaluative concepts such as authenticity clarity home honour or justice and how they influence the complex multidimensional process of translation This book will be of interest to academics studying cross cultural and inter linguistic interactions to translators and interpreters students of translation and of modern languages and all those dealing with multilingual and multicultural settings

Polish Literature as World Literature Piotr Florczyk,K. A. Wisniewski,2022-12-15 This carefully curated collection consists of 16 chapters by leading Polish and world literature scholars from the United States Canada Italy and of course Poland An historical approach gives readers a panoramic view of Polish authors and their explicit or implicit contributions to world literature Indeed the volume shows how Polish authors from Jan Kochanowski in the 16th century to the 2018 Nobel laureate Olga Tokarczuk have engaged with their foreign counterparts and other traditions active participants in the global literary network and the conversations of their day The volume features views of Polish literature and culture within theories of world literature and literary systems with a particular attention paid to the resurgence of the idea of the physical book as a cultural artifact This perspective is especially important since so much of today s global literary output stems from Anglophone perceptions of what constitutes literary quality and tastes The collection also sheds light on specific issues pertaining to Poland such as the idea of Polishness and global phenomena including social and economic advancement as well as ecological degradation Some of the authors discussed like the Romantic poet Adam Mickiewicz or the 1980 Nobel laureate Czeslaw Milosz were renowned far beyond the borders of their country while others like the contemporary travel writer and novelist Andrzej Stasiuk embrace regionalism seeing as they do in their immediate surroundings a synecdoche of the world at large Nevertheless the picture of Polish literature and Polish authors that emerges from these articles is that of a diverse cosmopolitan cohort engaged in a mutually rewarding relationship with what the late French critic Pascale Casanova has called the world republic of letters

Globalization and Sense-Making Practices Simi Malhotra,Zahra Rizvi,Shraddha A. Singh,2023-09-11 This book presents a critical analysis of sense making practices through an exploration of acoustic creative and artistic spaces It studies how local cultures of sight hearing smell taste and touch are impacted by global discourses and media such as television popular music digital media and literature The authors look at sense making practices and spatial discourses through an interconnected discussion on thought and experience that seeks to present a multidimensional cartography of the global the local and the glocal to closely analyze the phenomenon of globalization The volume is an investigation of the possibilities of alternate sustainable modes of being and existing in a world which requires a unified ethical biopolitical worldview that challenges the disparity of its fragments while speculating on their synesthetic conditionality A unique contribution the book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of English literature media studies cultural studies literary cultures post colonial studies globalization studies philosophy critical theory sociology and social anthropology

Home and the World in Slovak Writing Katarina Gephardt,Charles Sabatos,Ivana Taranenková,2025-03-04

Literatures of small nations represent a minuscule portion of the global literary marketplace where books written in English outnumber translated works The struggle for visibility in relation to dominant languages and cultures is not new in Slovakia a nation of five million whose literary history has been shaped by the influence of more widely spoken languages including Hungarian Czech and Russian Home and the World in Slovak Writing brings Slovak literature out of this isolation to tell the story of how a nation s literature can survive and thrive despite a small domestic audience and relatively limited circulation in English translation The book demonstrates how historic events such as the post Stalin Thaw the Prague Spring and the Velvet Revolution moulded the Slovak canon and situates contemporary Slovak literature in broader regional and global contexts Through case studies of the transformations and adaptations of Slovak literature contributors examine the changing social roles of writers the tensions between tradition and innovation and the dynamic interactions between influences from the outside world and domestic sources of inspiration Home and the World in Slovak Writing maps the relationship between geopolitical destiny and literary production at a critical moment As relations between the East and the West are destabilized by war the question of cultural identity has again become a matter of national survival in Central Europe New Women's Writing in Russia, Central and Eastern Europe Rosalind Marsh,2020-12-07 Since the late 1980s there has been an explosion of women s writing in Russia Central and Eastern Europe greater than in any other cultural period This book which contains contributions by scholars and writers from many different countries aims to address the gap in literature and debate that exists in relation to this subject We investigate why women s writing has become so prominent in post socialist countries and enquire whether writers regard their gender as a burden or on the contrary as empowering We explore the relationship in contemporary women s writing between gender class and nationality as well as issues of ethnicity and post colonialism

Literary Prizes and Cultural Transfer Petra Broomans,Mathijs Sanders,Jeanette den Toonder,Elise Bijl,2022-02-05

Literary Prizes and Cultural Transfer addresses the multilevel nature of literary and translation prizes with the aim of expanding our knowledge about them as an international and transnational phenomenon The contributions to this book analyse the social institutional and ideological functions of such prizes This volume not only looks at famous prizes and celebrities but also lesser known prizes in more peripheral language areas and regions with a special focus on cultural transmitters and their networks which play a decisive role in the award industry Cultural transfer and translations are at the heart of this book and this approach adds a new dimension to the study of literary and translation prizes The contributions reveal the diverse ways in which a cultural transfer approach enhances the study of literary prizes presenting the state of the art regarding recent developments in the field Articles with a broader scope discuss definitions concepts and methods while other contributions deal with specific case studies A variety of theoretical and methodological approaches are explored applying field theory network analysis comparative literature and cultural transfer studies By providing multiple perspectives on the literary prize this volume aims to contribute to our knowledge and understanding of this intriguing phenomenon

Melancholic Migrating Bodies in Contemporary Polish Women's Writing

Urszula Chowaniec, 2015-10-13 Reading contemporary women's writing as melancholy texts highlights their often under explored neuralgic nature and emancipatory value These strangers in their own lands as most recent Polish women writers and their work were described are the subject of detailed analysis in this book and are also positioned as the mirrors in which those lands are reflected From this perspective the melancholic strands in women's writing are drawn together to provide a diagnosis of the current situation in Poland taking into account unwanted discourses unwelcomed subjects and unresolved problems Melancholic Migrating Bodies offers the first systematic overview of Poland's literary and cultural environment after 1989 from the perspective of women's writing It critically surveys the various political and social transformations of this period through a close reading of the foremost Polish female novelists In this original way the book adopts a fresh perspective on some of the country's key questions such as Catholicism nationalism the patriotic ethos history romantic mythology and the problem of memory

Memory, the City and the Legacy of World War II in East Central Europe Uilleam

Blacker, 2019-06-27 After the Second World War millions of people across Eastern Europe displaced as a result of wartime destruction deportations and redrawing of state boundaries found themselves living in cities that were filled with the traces of the foreign cultures of the former inhabitants In the immediate post war period these traces were not acknowledged the new inhabitants going along with official policies of oblivion the national narratives of new post war regimes and the memorializing of the victors In time however and increasingly over recent decades the former other pasts have been embraced and taken on board as part of local cultural memory This book explores this interesting and increasingly important phenomenon It examines official ideologies popular memory literature film memorialization and tourism to show how other pasts are being incorporated into local cultural memory It relates these developments to cultural theory and argues that the relationship between urban space cultural memory and identity in Eastern Europe is increasingly becoming a question not only of cultural politics but also of consumption and choice alongside a tendency towards the cosmopolitanization of memory

Translation: Theory and Practice in Dialogue Antoinette Fawcett, 2010-05-27 This exciting new book explores the present relevance of translation theory to practice A range of perspectives provides both current theoretical insights into the relevance of theory to translation and also offers first hand experiences of applying appropriate strategies and methods to the practice and description of translation The individual chapters in the book explore theoretical pronouncements and practical observations grouped in topics that include theory and creativity translation and its relation with linguistics gender issues and more The book features four parts it firstly deals with how theories from both within translation studies and from other disciplines can contribute to our understanding of the practice of translation secondly how theory can be reconceptualized from examining translation in practice thirdly reconceptualizing practice from theory and finally Eastern European and Asian perspectives of how translation theory and practice inform one another The chapters all show examples from theoretical and practical as well as pedagogical issues ensuring appeal for a wide readership This book will appeal to advanced level students researchers and academics in translation studies

The Victoria Principle Michael Farrell, 2025-05-01 In The Victoria Principle Michael Farrell extends the humour and narrative drive demonstrated in recent collections such as I Love Poetry and Googlecholia to the short story The collection begins with a writer character trying to do literary justice to the fear of birds other stories feature creative activity such as the conceptual artist who deliberately boils an egg to Nirvana's Smells Like Teen Spirit or the would be writers who attend a nude retreat in Nova Scotia There is pathos too in a storyteller's relationship with his sister and in that of a gay doctor with a straight Italian waiter who is trying to make ends meet while supporting two children with two different women The stories also revisit classical and popular myths such as the judgement of Paris and the life of Andy Gibb The associations brought into play can be unexpected or absurd but the process has its own logic we may think of these fictions as meta fictions as thought stories rather than short stories offering inflections and reflections on queer Catholicism and mental breakdown amidst the ongoing contradictions and ironies of contemporary Australian life A Time for the Province George Z. Gasyna, 2025-04-15 Within discourses on Polish provincial or marginal literature the eastern borderlands are a richly symbolic region that inspires much fascination and study Through close readings surveys and analyses of transborder narratives by seven modern writers who hailed from the Polish borderlands or set their works there A Time for the Province demonstrates how the region has come to represent a palimpsest of cultural identities and myths as each new generation unearths and rediscovers them George Gasyna explores and theorizes the province as a space of grand utopian visions and dystopic gestures about both the Polish past and a Polish future Offering a novel literary and cultural history of modern Polish writing he paves the way toward productive new modes of conceptualizing the cultural and literary forms that have come from Central Europe over the last century challenging many basic assumptions about what this literature can offer its readership in Poland and around the world Through engagement with the theoretical apparatuses of postmemory studies and border studies A Time for the Province redefines Polish cultural identity in the current moment of postsocialist transition and globalized citizenship Postcolonial Europe? Essays on Post-Communist Literatures and Cultures

, 2015-07-28 This collective monograph analyzes post 1989 Central and Eastern Europe through the paradigm of postcoloniality Based on the assumption that both Western and Soviet imperialism emerged from European modernity the book is a contribution to the development of a global postcolonial discourse based on a more extensive and nuanced geohistorical comparativism It suggests that the inclusion of East Central Europe in European identity might help resolve postcolonialism's difficulties in coming to terms with both postcolonial and neo colonial dimensions of contemporary Europe Analyzing post communist identity reconstructions under the impact of transformative political economic and cultural experiences such as changes in perception of time and space landscapes cityscapes migration and displacement collective memory and trauma objectifying gaze cultural self colonization and language as a form of power the book facilitates a mutually productive dialogue between postcolonialism and post communism Together the studies map the rich terrain of contemporary East Central European creative writing and visual art the latter highlighted through accompanying illustrations
