Every Note Played Lisa Genova, 2018-03-20 Unsparing in her depiction of the disease s harrowing effects neuroscientist Genova also celebrates humanity People Sometimes it s easier to tell truth in fiction And she tells it with heart and hope NPR Her juxtaposition of scientific detail with compassionate heartfelt storytelling is unparalleled Bookreporter Every Note Played will grip and gut you The Boston Globe From neuroscientist and New York Times bestselling author of Still Alice comes a powerful exploration of regret forgiveness freedom and what it means to be alive An accomplished concert pianist Richard received standing ovations from audiences all over the world in awe of his rare combination of emotional resonance and flawless technique Every finger of his hands was a finely calibrated instrument dancing across the keys and striking each note with exacting precision That was eight months ago Richard now has ALS and his entire right arm is paralyzed His fingers are impotent still devoid of possibility The loss of his hand feels like a death a loss of true love a divorce his divorce He knows his left arm will go next Three years ago Karina removed their framed wedding picture from the living room wall and hung a mirror there instead But she still hasn't moved on Karina is paralyzed by excuses and fear stuck in an unfulfilling life as a piano teacher afraid to pursue the path she abandoned as a young woman blaming Richard and their failed marriage for all of it When Richard becomes increasingly paralyzed and is no longer able to live on his own Karina becomes his reluctant caretaker As Richard's muscles voice and breath fade both he and Karina try to reconcile their past before it's too late Poignant and powerful Every Note Played is a masterful exploration of redemption and what it means to find peace inside of forgiveness Cycle World Magazine ,1993-01 Category Change from a

Constructional Perspective Kristel Van Goethem,Muriel Norde,Evie Coussé,Gudrun Vanderbauwhede,2018-03-15 Category change broadly defined as the shift from one word class to another is often studied as part of other changes such as grammaticalization or lexicalization but not in its own right This volume offers a survey of different types of category change and their properties e.g abrupt versus gradual changes morphological versus syntactic changes or context independent versus context sensitive changes The purpose of this collection of papers is to explore the concepts of linguistic category and category change from the perspective of Construction Grammar Using data from a variety of languages the authors address a number of themes that are central to current theorizing about category change such as the question of whether or not categories should be considered discrete entities how new categories arise or whether category change can be considered as the emergence of a new construction i.e a new form meaning pairing The novel approach advanced in this volume will be of interest to historical linguists as well as to general linguists working on the nature of linguistic categories American
