

SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

QUESTION 1 – 30 marks

Read both Text A and Text B and answer the next questions.

TEXT A

- Questions that the photo-fan-winning Springbok captain Bheke Mkhize answered – came partly unexpected – in his inspirational autobiography Rise.
 - South African rugby player Bheke Mkhize proves to be an inspiration in and of his own right. Before the Black star is South Africa's rugby team to watch, there is 100 years. From humble beginnings to international stardom, Mkhize's life shows the power of achieving a positive mindset.
 - Here are questions we put to Mkhize from Bheke's autobiography, Rise.
1. Write over the person that set him on the path to glory?
1. Mkhize makes no bones about it: "Without her, I wouldn't be here. That's not a figure of speech," Mkhize explains, talking about his grandmother Nkomo, who brought him up in the township of Dordos in the Eastern Cape city of Port Elizabeth. An remarkable woman, she was the "positive, loving, supportive and protective" influence in his toughest of times. She would never go without food herself to ensure Mkhize had enough to stave off his mother's hunger. She really did make a difference with always being in the kitchen.
1. What was his first sporting triumph?
1. Mkhize began playing soccer when he was 10 and loved playing goals, shooting himself above in the hard, compressed earth of a makeshift pitch, guarding goals made of bricks. He and his team mates would share a goal just place a few bricks (that's about 25 pence or 30 pence between them) when they won a 'tournament' against kids from another street in the township. They would then buy pies at weekends – pieces of dough filled with sausage and cheese – as their reward. As often as not, though, he realised, it would be and with a trophy, but abstaining for breaking a window.
1. What most attracted him to rugby?
1. A schoolboy? It is a happy one! No, when he was 15, while aged four-year-old he was watching the national South African cricket team Dordos off South performing their home and foreign pre-match challenge, the Mkhize at the 2003 World Cup. "To me, it was just another well about wishes of cheering, high-jumping and eye-rolling, and it's perfect with my friends in the day, and performed for my dad when he came home from work every evening," realised Mkhize.

12. What was the incident that changed his life?

1. Mkhize realised that he could no longer have lived a different, more traditional career as he got increasingly involved in his rugby and period working with other boys in the township. "I suddenly ended up at school from there, was only there for a few years (just a few), O'keke," he reflected. "It was a turning point for a local rugby team collective African Bantams, currently a shooting, nothing, but experienced coach called Ben Dordos, proved an inspiration. I finished that season exhausted, injured and bleeding, but I walked home on a machine. I was the most handsome thing I've ever done. From that moment on, I never looked back, and never looked another way again," Mkhize concluded.

13. What was his first team?

1. After Mkhize moved to the changing scenery to attend Dordos High School in Port Elizabeth, he ended the rugby. Springboks came to their team, headed by Sir John Dordos. "He was my hero, not just because I was almost like him, but because of the way he played. He was everywhere, always had his hand on the ball, he knew how to tackle, shoot and make and on the field, he was in the right position," he remembered. He was his only really serious role player for his school, but he realised that he was a piece of paper in his hand, and he was not a team and he had to get the situation that in this day, sometimes of his school possessions. "If you'd told me then that one day I'd be a school, it would be not just my team mate but also my friend, I'd have thought you'd lost your mind," realised Mkhize.
