Japanese Architecture As A Collaborative Process:

Japanese Architecture as a Collaborative Process Dana Buntrock, 2001 Readers will find this book offers them both insights into the nature of architectural practice in their own communities and surprising alternatives BOOK JACKET

Japanese Architecture as a Collaborative Process Dana Buntrock, 2014-09-04 Architects throughout the world hold Japan's best architecture in high regard considering the country's buildings among the world's most carefully crafted and innovative. While many books, magazines, and exhibitions have focused on the results of architectural practice in Japan, this book is the first to explain the reasons for Japan's remarkable structures. Architecture does not occur in isolation; Japan's architects are able to collaborate with a wide variety of people from professional consultants to constructors. Dana Buntrock discusses architecture as a part of the construction community moving from historical precedents that predate the emergence of the architectural profession in Japan through to contemporary practices. Prefab Architecture Ryan E. Smith, 2011-06-03 Prefab Architecture is beyond theory and beyond most of what we think we know about pods, containers, mods, and joints. This book is more than Prefabrication 101. It is the Joy of Cooking writ large for the architecture and construction industries. From the Foreword by James Timberlake FAIA, THE DEFINITIVE REFERENCE ON PREFAB ARCHITECTURE FOR ARCHITECTS AND CONSTRUCTION PROFESSIONALS. Written for architects and related design and construction professionals, Prefab Architecture is a guide to off-site construction, presenting the opportunities and challenges associated with designing and building with components, panels, and modules. It presents the drawbacks of building in situ on-site and demonstrates why prefabrication is the smarter choice for better integration of products and processes, more efficient delivery, and realizing more value in project life cycles. In addition, Prefab Architecture provides a selected history of prefabrication from the Industrial Revolution to current computer numerical control and a theory of production from integrated processes to lean manufacturing. Coverage on the tradeoffs of off-site fabrication, including scope, schedule, and cost, with the associated principles of labor, risk, and quality. Up-to-date products featuring examples of prefabricated structure enclosure, service, and interior building systems. Documentation on the constraints and execution of manufacturing, factory production, transportation, and assembly. Dozens of recent examples of prefab projects by contemporary architects and fabricators, including Kieran Timberlake, SHoP Architects, Office dA, Michelle Kaufmann, and many others. In Prefab Architecture, the fresh approaches toward creating buildings that accurately convey nature and expanded green building methodologies make this book an important voice for adopting change in a construction industry entrenched in traditions of the past. Routledge Handbook of Japanese Culture and Society Victoria Bestor, Theodore C. Making Cities Global A. K. Sandoval-Strausz, Nancy H. Kwak, 2017-09-12 In recent decades hundreds of millions of people across the world have moved from rural areas to metropolitan regions some of them crossing national borders on the way While urbanization and globalization are proceeding with an intensity that seems unprecedented these are only the most recent iterations of long term transformations cities have for centuries served as vital points of contact between different peoples economies and cultures Making Cities Global explores the intertwined development of urbanization and globalization using a historical approach that demonstrates the many forms transnationalism has taken each shaped by the circumstances of a particular time and place It also emphasizes that globalization has not been persistent or automatic many people have been as likely to resist or reject outside connections as to establish or embrace them The essays in the collection revolve around three foundational themes The first is an emphasis on connections among the United States East and Southeast Asia Latin America and South Asia Second contributors ground their studies of globalization in the built environments and everyday interactions of the city because even world spanning practices must be understood as people experience them in their neighborhoods workplaces stores and streets Last is a fundamental concern with the role powerful empires and nation states play in the emergence of globalizing and urbanizing processes Making Cities Global argues that combining urban history with a transnational approach leads to a richer understanding of our increasingly interconnected world In order to achieve prosperity peace and sustainability in metropolitan areas in the present and into the future we must understand their historical origins and development Contributors Erica Allen Kim Leandro Benmergui Matt Garcia Richard Harris Carola Hein Nancy Kwak Carl Nightingale Amy C Offner Margaret O Mara Nikhil Rao A K Sandoval Strausz Arijit Sen Thomas J Sugrue

Space Unveiled Carla Jackson Bell, 2014-08-01 Since the early 1800s African Americans have designed signature buildings however in the mainstream marketplace African American architects especially women have remained invisible in architecture history theory and practice Traditional architecture design studio education has been based on the historical models of the Beaux Arts and the Bauhaus with a split between design and production teaching As the result of current teaching models African American architects tend to work on the production or technical side of building rather than in the design studio It is essential to understand the centrality of culture gender space and knowledge in design studios Space Unveiled is a significant contribution to the study of architecture education and the extent to which it has been sensitive to an inclusive cultural perspective The research shows that this has not been the case in American education because part of the culture remains hidden The Green Braid Kim Tanzer, Rafael Longoria, 2007-04-11 This volume presents the discipline's best thinking on sustainability in written drawn and built form drawing on over fifteen years of peer reviewed essays and national design awards published by the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture ACSA Providing a primer on sustainability useful to teachers and students alike the selected essays address a broad range of issues Combined with design projects that highlight issues holistically they promote an understanding of the principles of sustainability and further the integration of sustainable methods into architectural projects Using essays that alternately revise and clarify twentieth century architectural thinking The Green Braid places sustainability at the centre of excellent architectural design No other volume addresses sustainability within the context of architectural history theory pedagogy and design making this book an ideal source for architects in framing their practices and therefore their architectural production in a sustainable manner

Why Architects Matter Flora Samuel, 2018-03-09 Why Architects Matter examines the key role of research led ethical architects in promoting wellbeing sustainability and innovation It argues that the profession needs to be clear about what it knows and the value of what it knows if it is to work successfully with others Without this clarity the marginalization of architects from the production of the built environment will continue preventing clients businesses and society from getting the buildings that they need The book offers a strategy for the development of a twenty first century knowledge led built environment including tools to help evidence develop and communicate that value to those outside the field Knowing how to demonstrate the impact and value of their work will strengthen practitioners ability to pitch for work and access new funding streams This is particularly important at a time of global economic downturn with ever greater competition for contracts and funds driving down fees and making it imperative to prove value at every level Why Architects Matter straddles the spheres of Practice Management and Law History and Theory Design Housing Sustainability Health Marketing and Advice for Clients bringing them into an accessible whole The book will therefore be of interest to professional architects architecture students and anyone with an interest in our built environment and the role of professionals within it
