Feminist Rhetorical Resilience Patricia Sotirin:

Feminist Rhetorical Resilience Elizabeth A Flynn, Patricia Sotirin, Ann Brady, 2012-06-16 Although it is well known in other fields the concept of resilience has not been addressed explicitly by feminist rhetoricians This collection develops it in readings of rhetorical situations across a range of social contexts and national cultures Contributors demonstrate that resilience offers an important new conceptual frame for feminist rhetoric with emphasis on agency change and hope in the daily lives of individuals or groups of individuals disempowered by social or material forces Collectively these chapters create a robust conception of resilience as a complex rhetorical process redeeming it from its popular association with individual heroism through an important focus on relationality community and an ethics of connection Resilience in this volume is a specifically rhetorical response to complicated forces in individual lives Through it Feminist Rhetorical Resilience widens the interpretive space within which rhetoricians can work

Catholic Women's Rhetoric in the United States Elizabeth A. Wright, Christina R. Pinkston, 2022-01-28 Building on various feminist theories of ethos the authors in this collection explore how North American Catholic women from various periods races ethnicities sexualities and classes have used elements of the group's positionality to make change The women considered in the book range from the earliest Catholic sisters who arrived in the United States to women who held the Church hierarchy accountable for the sexual abuse scandals The book analyzes women such as those in an African American order who developed an ethos that would resist racism Chapters also consider better known Catholic women such as Dolores Huertas Mary Daly and Joan Chittister

Rhetoric and Resilience Sara Hillin, 2024-10-15 Rhetoric and Resilience explores discourse produced about and by the women involved in the World War II era Women Airforce Service Pilots program Aviators such as Jacqueline Cochran and Nancy Harkness Love provided the initial rhetorical boost to successfully launch the program while countless other pilots such as Cornelia Fort and Barbara Poole wrote to define the significance of the work the WASP were doing Despite a formidable amount of concrete evidence in her favor Cochran was unsuccessful in having WASP militarized After the program's disbandment in 1944 the women of WASP settled back into civilian life but maintained strong rhetorical bonds which served them greatly in the 1970s campaign for veteran status Using the lenses of both feminist rhetorical theory and classical rhetoric this book seeks to recover these rhetorics The chapters illustrate how the women employed a spectrum of strategies carefully designed to provide a fitting response to those both supportive of and hostile to their labor in the arena of military aviation Making Matters Leigh

Gruwell,2022-04-15 Craft is a process oriented practice that takes seriously the relationships between bodies both human and nonhuman and makes apparent how these relationships are mired in and informed by power structures Making Matters introduces craft agency a feminist vision of new materialist rhetorics that enables scholars to identify how power circulates and sometimes stagnates within assemblages of actors and provides tools to rectify that uneven distribution To recast new materialist rhetorics as inherently crafty Leigh Gruwell historicizes and locates the concept of craft both within rhetorical history as well as in the disciplinary history of writing studies Her investigation centers on three specific case studies craftivism the fibercraft website Ravelry and the 2017 Women s March These instances all highlight how a material ecological understanding of rhetorical agency can enact political change Craft agency models how we humans might work with and alongside things nonhuman sometimes digital sometimes material to create more equitable relationships Making Matters argues that craft is a useful starting point for addressing criticisms of new materialist rhetorics not only because doing so places rhetorical action as a product of complex relationships between a network of human and nonhuman actors but also because it does so with an explicitly activist agenda that positions the body itself as a material interface

Women's Ways of Making Maureen Daly Goggin, Shirley K Rose, 2021-04-21 Women s Ways of Making draws attention to material practices those that the hands perform as three epistemologies an episteme a techne and a phronesis that together give pointed consideration to making as a rhetorical embodied endeavor Combined these epistemologies show that making is a form of knowing that episteme knowing how techne and wisdom making phronesis Since the Enlightenment embodied knowledge creation has been overlooked ignored or disparaged as inferior to other forms of expression or thinking that seem to leave the material world behind Privileging the hand over the eye as the work in this collection does thus problematizes the way in which the eye has been co opted by thinkers as the mind s tool of investigation Contributors to this volume argue that other senses touch taste smell hearing are keys to knowing one s materials Only when all these ways of knowing are engaged can making be understood as a rhetorical practice In Women s Ways of Making

The Things We Carry

Courtney Adams Wooten, Jacob Babb, Kristi Murray Costello, Kate Navickas, 2020-10-01 Emotional labor is not adequately talked about or addressed by writing program administrators The Things We Carry makes this often invisible labor visible demonstrates a variety of practical strategies to navigate it reflectively and opens a path for further research Particularly timely this collection considers how writing program administrators work when their schools or regions experience crisis situations The book is broken into three sections one emphasizing the WPA's own work identity one on fostering community in writing programs and one on balancing the professional and personal Chapters written by a diverse range of authors in different institutional and WPA contexts examine the roles of WPAs in traumatic events such as mass shootings and natural disasters as well as the emotional labor WPAs perform on a daily basis such as working with students who have been sexually assaulted or endured racist sexist homophobic and otherwise disenfranchising interactions on campus The central thread in this collection focuses on preserving by acknowledging that emotions are neither good nor bad and that they must be continually reflected upon as WPAs consider what to do with emotional labor and how to respond Ultimately this book argues for more visibility of the emotional labor WPAs perform and for WPAs to care for themselves even as they care for others The Things We Carry extends conversations about WPA emotional labor and offers concrete and useful strategies for administrators working in both a large range of traumatic events as well as daily situations that require tactical work to preserve their sense of self and balance It will be invaluable to writing program administrators specifically and of interest to other types of administrators as well as scholars in rhetoric and composition who are interested in emotion more broadly

Persuasive Acts Shari J. Stenberg, Charlotte Hogg, 2020-03-03 In June 2015 Bree Newsome scaled the flagpole in front of South Carolina's state capitol and removed the Confederate flag The following month the Confederate flag was permanently removed from the state capitol Newsome is a compelling example of a twenty first century woman rhetor along with bloggers writers politicians activists artists and everyday social media users who give new meaning to Aristotle's ubiquitous definition of rhetoric as the discovery of the available means of persuasion Women's persuasive acts from the first two decades of the twenty first century include new technologies and repurposed old ones engaged not only to persuade but also to tell their stories to sponsor change and to challenge cultural forces that repress and oppress Persuasive Acts Women's Rhetorics in the Twenty First Century gathers an expansive array of voices and texts from well known figures including Hillary Rodham Clinton Malala Yousafzai Michelle Obama Lindy West Sonia Sotomayor and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie so that readers may converse with them and build rhetorics of their own Editors Shari J Stenberg and Charlotte Hogg have compiled timely and provocative rhetorics that represent critical issues and rhetorical affordances of the twenty first century

Geoengineering, Persuasion, and the Climate Crisis Ehren Helmut Pflugfelder, 2022-12-13 A rhetorical exploration of an underexamined side of climate change the ongoing research into and development of geoengineering strategies Geoengineering Persuasion and the Climate Crisis A Geologic Rhetoric exposes the deeply worrying state of discourse over geoengineering the intentional manipulation of the earth s climate as means to halt or reverse global warming These climate altering projects which range from cloud whitening to carbon dioxide removal and from stratospheric aerosol injection to enhanced weathering are all technological solutions to more complex geosocial problems Geoengineering represents one of the most alarming forms of deliberative discourse in the twenty first century Yet geoengineering could easily generate as much harm as the environmental traumas it seeks to cure Complicating these deliberations is the scarcity of public discussion Most deliberations transpire within policy groups behind the closed doors of climate oriented startups between subject matter experts at scientific conferences or in the disciplinary jargon of research journals Further much of this conversation occurs primarily in the West Ehren Helmut Pflugfelder makes clear how the deliberative rhetorical strategies coming from geoengineering advocates have been largely deceptive hegemonic deterministic and exploitative In this volume he investigates how geoengineering proponents marshal geologic actors into their arguments and how current discourse could lead to a greater exploitation of the earth in the future Pflugfelder s goal is to understand the structure content purpose and effect of these discourses raise the alarm about their deliberative directions and help us rethink our approach to the climate In highlighting both the inherent problems of the discourses and the ways geologic rhetoric can be made productive he attempts to give the geologic a place at the table to better understand the roles that all earth systems continue to play in our lives now and for years to come

Pivotal Strategies Lynn C. Lewis, 2024-07-15 Pivotal Strategies examines the rhetorical contexts and motivations that determine how and why people choose writing studies as a discipline especially as the field begins to take more seriously an antiracist imperative that requires more conscious listening and promotion of work from scholars representing traditionally underrepresented voices Because undergraduate degrees in writing studies are relatively new claiming the discipline has required reinvention and revision at personal and professional levels far different than any other discipline Suspicions about the viability of the discipline linger in many departments and universities as well as outside the academy leading writing studies scholars to develop innovative strategies to deal with covertly hostile attitudes Within the collection contributors name explicit claiming strategies from the discipline s beginnings to the contemporary moment locating opportune spaces negotiating identities and fostering resilience and developing allegiances

by foregrounding their embodiment as underrepresented members of academia through a commitment to social justice and equity Responding to current conversations on the worth of education with honest stories about the burdens and joys of becoming and being an academic Pivotal Strategies features a spectrum of voices across racial gender class and age categories This collection not only makes the discipline more visible but also helps map the contemporary state of writing studies
